1. Describe a skill that you learned from older people

You should say

- What the skill is
  - Who you learned it from
  - How you learned it
  - And how you feel about it
- It is true that the younger generation can learn valuable skills and life lessons from older people.
  - One skill I learnt is to recycle, reuse and repurpose everything.
  - I learned this skill from my incredibly talented grandmother.
  - I grew up in a nuclear family with both parents working busy jobs.
  - Every year during summer I used to spend two months with my grandparents.
  - My grandmother would find imaginative ways to reuse and recycle everything in her home.
  - She would never dispose old clothes and would instead sew little pieces together to make curtains, quilts, pillowcases, tablecloths, etc.
  - She would recycle glass jars and use them to hold spices, tea, grains, lentils, etc.
  - She used newspaper to clean windows and reused aluminum foil to clean pots and pans.
  - She made old broken furniture drawers into garden containers. She used fruit and vegetable scraps from her kitchen for compost.
  - She would keep me busy with craft activities like making old card boxes into fun toys, cars, and robots.
  - I mostly learned everything by observing her and helping her with some of the repurposing projects she did.

- I started to implement her ideas at my house too and as I grew older it became a habit.
- I feel indebted to my grandmother that she taught me these valuable skills.
- Reduce, reuse, and recycling waste is so important in present times.
- Our landfills are filling fast, and recycling is one way to reduce the amount of waste that goes to landfills.
- Global warming and plastic pollution have taken a toll on the planet and people need to take action to stop this damage
- I am so glad that I am doing my part in saving our planet.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1. What can children learn from their parents?

Children learn by observing their parents, they are their role models especially during early years.

Parents can teach children important life lessons just by modeling good behavior

Respecting others, working hard, positive attitude, eating healthy, saving money, helping the needy are some life lessons children can learn from their parents.

2. What knowledge can children learn from their grandparents?

Grandparents have years of wisdom that they love to share with their grandkids. Children can learn about the history and growing up in times totally different from now. It is much more interesting to learn about history from personal grandparent stories than books.

Children can also learn practical skills like sewing, knitting, gardening, baking which parents nowadays either don't know or are too busy to teach.

3. What kind of help do you think older people need?

- 1) Help with chores like laundry, grocery shopping, house cleaning, etc.
- 2) Having caring family around so they don't feel lonely is also helpful
- 3) Help with learning new technologies like smartphones
- 4) Older people need good nutrition and healthy meals to stay fit
- 5) Regular doctor visits and tests to make sure everything is ok with their health
- 6) Help with transportation if they can't drive themselves

4. What skills can young people learn from older people?

Older people have years of experience and have seen both success and failures. Young people can learn important life lessons from them. For instance, they can learn to appreciate the good times and have the courage to face the bad times. They can learn that family matters the most and making time for loved ones is very important. Elders can teach them the importance of saving money for emergencies and for their retirement.

2. Describe a person you follow on social media

You should say:

- Who he/she is
- How do you know him/her
- What he/she posts on social media
- And explain why you follow him/her on social media

- I follow many accounts on social media that post things about topics I am interested in like interior design, yoga, art, etc.
- One account I follow on social media is of Chef Sanjyot Keer.
- He is the founder of Your Food Lab and became very famous for posting cooking videos on Facebook and Youtube.
- I have never been interested in cooking before as I would eat outside or food that my mother would make.
- All I could make by myself was rice, maggi, tea, instant precooked meals, etc.
- During covid time I couldn't go out and started to crave dishes I ate out in restaurants.
- I started to look online for recipes to make those dishes at home.
- On YouTube, I came across a video for making Chili Cheese.
- It's one of my favorite dishes and I used to eat it at least once a week
- The video was short (about 5 minutes) but explained the process really.
- The background music and presentation were very nice.
- The video was for an account called Your Food Lab and the chef in the video was Sanjyot Keer.
- I didn't know anything about him before this, but the reviews were so good that I decided to make this recipe.
- I followed the recipe step by step. It tasted even better than my favorite restaurant.
- My parents tried it and were so surprised that it was homemade and that I had made it.
- I got hooked and started to follow his YouTube account. I even started following him on Facebook and Instagram.
- After some research, I also found out that he was the food producer for TV show Master Chef India season 4 and worked with great chefs like Sanjeev Kapoor and Vikas Khanna
- He posts a lot of recipes on his social media accounts, and I have tried many of them.
- He also goes live on his accounts sometimes, interacts with his fans, and makes recipes live.
- All his posts are mainly about food but sometimes he posts about his family, his parents, his wife, and his team.
- I follow him not only for his recipes but also because I find him to be a very humble, kind, soft-spoken human being. He has a great personality, and it is no wonder that he has so many followers.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1. What can people do on social media?

People can use social media to keep in touch with friends and family. People can also follow celebrities and see what's going on in their lives. People can even look for career opportunities on social media. Business owners can advertise their products and increase their sales through social media. People can post videos about their talents like dancing, singing, etc. on social media. People can find new friends and connect with like-minded people on social media. People can learn new skills like cooking, gardening, art on social media.

2. Do you think older people and younger people will use the same kind of social media software?

No, younger people prefer the newer Instagram, TikTok, Snapchat platforms. These are new apps, and their short viral videos are very popular among youth. Younger people rapidly adapt to these new apps, use them for a few years, and then may move to something new next whereas older people are still mainly using Facebook, youtube and WhatsApp, etc.

3. Do older people spend much time on social media?

Older people have started to use more social media but mainly for keeping in touch with family and friends. Their children are busy with their families and jobs and there is less face-to-face interaction these days. They can get lonely, so they mainly use it for passing the time when they are bored.

4. Are non-social media like television and newspapers still useful?

It is true that the popularity of non-social media like TV and newspaper has declined a bit but they are still very useful. Many people in the world don't have internet access and rely on TV and newspapers for news. The older generation also prefers this form of media. Also, TV and newspaper are much more reliable than social media where anyone can post anything. There is a lot of fake news on social media that vulnerable people tend to believe.

3. Describe a thing you did to learn another language

You should say

- What language you learned
- What you did
- How it helped you learn the language
- And how you felt about it

- I started learning Spanish recently. I have always wanted to learn a foreign language.
- I feel that knowing a foreign language allows us to understand different people, cultures, and environments
- I have an aunt in California who mentioned that she started learning Spanish.
- I thought she was so lucky to have an institution in her hometown that teaches Spanish.
- But then she told me that she was learning from a mobile app called Duolingo.
- She really loved the app and told me it had short lessons and all you need is 10-15 minutes a day.
- I downloaded the Duolingo app on my phone and a desktop version on my computer.
- I was so impressed with this app and couldn't believe that the basic version was free.
- It had more than 30 languages like German, French, Spanish, Chinese, etc.
- It had a very simple user interface, and it was very easy to create an account and get started.
- I was really confused between learning French and Spanish but decided to go for Spanish.
- Spanish is the fourth most spoken language and is spoken in many countries like Spain, Mexico, South America.
- I also wanted to practice Spanish with my aunt online.
- I started doing lessons in my free time. I would do them on the bus while commuting to my college.
- I would do them while waiting for friends. It was so convenient to have on the go learning.
- One of the beginner lessons was common phrases like Hello - Hola, Good Morning – Buenos Dias, Nice to meet you – mucho gusto. I really liked doing this lesson.
- I also started watching a Spanish show called Money Heist on Netflix to add to my learning.
- Duolingo presented the lessons in a very simple manner. It not only helped me with speaking Spanish but the lessons were designed to help me learn, writing it too.
- Also, it was fun to do as there were rewards for reaching different levels and practicing daily.
- There was also an option to add friends and track each other's progress. I added my aunt and it kept us both motivated to learn.
- I am still learning and still using the app every day. I am so happy and satisfied with my effort so far. I hope to become fluent one day.

- It gives me so much joy when I can completely understand a few lines on a Spanish show or when recognize words in Spanish subtitles.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1. What difficulties do people face when learning a language?

One of the challenges is the phonological difference. There are some sounds that exist in one language but not in the other language. Another difficulty is learning the grammar and the sentence structure of the new language.

2. Do you think language learning is important? Why?

Yes, I think language learning is important as it develops skills such as communication and cultural awareness. Learning a foreign language also opens all sorts of career opportunities. Learning new languages leads to cognitive development. Bilingual and multilingual children do better in other subjects too.

3. Which is better, to study alone or to study in a group? Why?

It is better to study in a group.

- 1) Students derive energy from being around other students and are motivated to study.
- 2) Concepts that are hard to grasp by yourself are easier to understand from another person's perspective.
- 3) People usually procrastinate when studying alone but, in a group, one is accountable and must be present.

4. What's the best way to learn a language?

There are many ways to learn a language. There is no one best way. One must do a combination of things to get fluent in a language like practicing daily on language learning apps like Duolingo, watching movies in the foreign language, reading books and newspapers, having a tutor or a native speaker online to practice with, and traveling to those countries.

4. Describe a course that impressed you a lot

You should say:

- What the course was about
  - Where you took the course
  - What you did during the course
  - And explain why it impressed you a lot
- I took a photography course last month which really impressed me a lot.
  - I have always been interested in photography and I like taking pictures with my smartphone and camera.
  - My brother got me a digital SLR camera on my birthday this year.
  - I have used a point-and-shoot camera before but never used a DSLR camera.
  - It had so many features and a big lens and at first, it looked very daunting.
  - I started to take pictures in auto mode but was not able to understand the manual settings.
  - My brother advised me to take a digital photography course to get started.
  - Ever since the pandemic, the number of online courses has increased globally.
  - I was able to find many online courses related to digital photography on websites like

- I bought the Photography Masterclass course on Udemy. It had a lot of good reviews and was recommended by many students.
- This course had over 25 hours of videos and everything was explained thoroughly with a lot of visual and written examples.
- All the instructors were very knowledgeable and started from the very basics.
- I learnt about aperture, shutter speed, depth of field, lens and camera workings, F-stop, ISO, etc.
- I also learnt to take photographs in different scenarios like landscapes, family portraits, wildlife.
- It helped me understand the importance of lighting in photography and when to use flash vs natural lighting.
- In all, it was very comprehensive, easy to follow along with, and made learning very fun.
- It had activities at the end of every lesson, and I had to put what I had learned into practice.
- It gave me the confidence to take my camera off auto mode and use manual settings.
- I was very impressed with the kind of pictures I was taking by the end of this course.
- I was also able to edit pictures using the techniques I learnt in this course.
- Even the photographs I took with my smartphone were better than before.
- It truly helped me be a better photographer and I will recommend it to anyone who wants to learn photography.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1. Why do some people have a better memory?

The human brain is very complex, and it is very difficult to understand why some people have a better memory than others. Part of the reason can be genetics and some people are just born with better memory. But at the same, I think memory is like a muscle and can be trained. People can use many techniques to train their memories to be better.

2. Which can help people remember things better, words or photos?

Yes, images are far more memorable than words. We are all familiar with saying “a picture speaks a thousand words”. Words are hard to remember because they're abstract and our brains can't easily latch onto them. On the other hand, our brains store and recall images much more easily.

3. Can technology help people remember things better? How?

I don't think that technology helps people remember things better. In fact, relying on technology means we don't need to remember very much. We can just set reminders on our smartphones for everything and get an alert when it's time to do it. Also, internet has made information about any topic readily available to us. So we don't feel the need to remember information that can be easily found through search engines like google.

5. Describe an interesting song

You should say:

- What the song is
- What story the song tells? / What it is about?
- Whether the song is popular
- And explain why you think it is interesting

- I love music and I love listening to Hindi and Punjabi songs.
- Most of these songs are very meaningful.
- Here I would like to talk about a Punjabi song by a famous Punjabi singer GurdasMaan, which I find very interesting.
- The name of the song is Boot Polishan.
- It is from his album Boot Polishan
- It was released in 2008.
- The song gives the message that work is worship.
- Instead of begging for money a person should work and earn.
- It does not matter if the work is big or small such as polishing shoes of people.
- If a person works and earns, he can always hold his head high.
- I heard this song about two years ago and since then it has become my favourite song.
- Actually Gurdas Mann is my favourite singer.
- He is a multifaceted personality.
- He is a singer, actor, director and a lyricist as well.
- He writes the lyrics of his songs himself.
- He has also acted in many Punjabi movies.
- All my family members also love his songs.
- When we go out anywhere together we play his songs in the car.
- All his songs have good messages.
- He even performs in stage shows.
- He always has his tambourine in his hands when he performs.
- There is a village near my hometown where he comes every year and performs for charity.
- I went there last year.
- It was an electrifying experience.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1 Why are many music competitions popular in India?

2 What kinds of music do young people like?

3 What kinds of people like traditional music?

4 What are the differences between live concert and online concert?

5. Do teenagers and adults enjoy the same kind of songs?

It depends on the personal taste. Generally speaking, teenagers like songs with fast beats and adults like songs with good lyrics and soft music.

6. What are the factors, which make people like a song?

A song should have good lyrics, a good composition, a pleasing voice and a good video to be liked by people.

7. On which occasions do people in your country sing together?

In my country, people sing together on birthday parties, marriages, anniversaries and national holidays like the Independence Day and so on.

8. Which kinds of songs are suitable for children? Why?

I think folk songs are very suitable for children because they keep children connected to their culture and tradition. As it is, today's children are following the global culture and so, they need to be kept in touch with our traditional culture. Folk songs are a good way to connect with our culture.

9. What do old people like to listen to?

Old people like to listen to religious songs, old film songs, and songs with slow beats.

10. How would your grandfather feel if you gave him some hip hop music to listen to

I don't think he will like it. He loves old Hindi film songs.

11. Why do you think old people like old songs?

I think it is so because they feel connected to that time. Such songs bring back nostalgic memories of the past.

12. Why do you think people of different age groups have different favourite songs?

This is because tastes change with age. At a younger age we like faster beat songs. When we grow older, we start liking slow songs, meaningful or devotional songs.

13. What kinds of music do (small) children in India like to listen to?

Small children like to listen to songs with fast beats on which they can dance, even if they don't understand the lyrics.

14. What are the differences between popular music and the music that (young) children like to listen to?

I don't think there is any difference. Children like the popular music.

15. Why do some people like to play music (= play a musical instrument) in the open?

They do also perhaps because they want to share their art with the people outside, or they want to play music in natural surroundings.

6. Describe a special cake you received from others

You should say:

- When it happened
  - Where it happened
  - Who you got the cake from
  - And explain why it's a special cake
- My birthday falls on June 27th.
  - During these days, there is summer vacation in Indian schools and most of friends go out to visit their relatives.
  - So, I mostly celebrated my birthday with my family, my parents and my sister.
  - However, last year because of the pandemic, most of my close friends were home and they gave me surprise party on my birthday.
  - And the best part of the party was the cake.
  - It was a very well thought of cake.
  - The cake was in the shape of the mouth and above it there was a can of Pepsi, with dark chocolate pouring down in the mouth of the cake.
  - My friends specially got it custom made.
  - Pepsi and Dark chocolate are my favourite things in the world.
  - The cake showed me that my friends really thought about me.
  - Secondly, it just looked amazing.

- I never thought anyone could make such a cake in my small town.
- So, I couldn't even believe the cake.
- And everything was edible, even the can was made out of cake.
- For ten minutes, everyone was busy taking pictures of the cake.
- Even my friends said that the cake turned out better than they expected.
- But that was just the looks.
- It tasted even better than it looked.
- I don't like sweet food, in fact, I hardly have desserts because of this reason.
- My friends had even made sure that the cake had minimal sugar.
- It was sweet but it was the right amount of sweet.
- And finally, there was a surprise element, the cake had a tinge of coffee.
- Coffee is also one of my favourites and the coffee just uplifted the taste of the dark chocolate even more.
- Overall, it was one of the best birthdays I ever had. It was one of the rare times I was able to celebrate it with my friends and their thoughtfulness with the cake made me realise how lucky I am to have such friends.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1. What are the differences between special food made in India and other countries?

I think food is a big part of Indian culture and we love to prepare big feasts on special occasions.

I think the difference between special food in India and other countries is that it's mostly vegetarian.

Secondly, there is high use of spices in Indian food, even some desserts have spices.

2. Is there any food in your country which is eaten on special occasions or special times?

Yes, in fact there are so many dishes like that. India is a big and diverse country and every region has its own delicacy which is normally tied with a festival or special occasion. For example, Biryani is eaten during Eid in many parts of India like Hyderabad and on Lohri, a special dish made out of mustard leaves called saag is made in Punjab.

3. Why are some people willing to spend a lot of money on meals on special days?

I think it's because a lot of family members and relatives are together during these days and having special meals makes such events more memorable. I think festivals in general make us happier and because of the good mood, we don't mind spending a bit extra on the holidays.

4. Do you think it's good to communicate when eating with your family?

I think it's one of the best times to communicate with family members. First, when having food, we are in a better mood, so we are less likely to get into arguments. In addition, people are free during this time, so the communication can be without any distraction.

7. Describe an interesting conversation you had with your friend

You should say:

- Who you spoke with
- Where you were
- What the conversation was about
- And explain why you think it was interesting

- Man is a social animal and conversations are a part of life.
- I've had many conversations in my life, but here I would like to talk about a conversation, which influenced me a lot.
- This conversation was with my friend, Suman, who had come from Canada.
- She went to Humber College, Canada two years ago for her higher education.
- She came to our house to pay a visit.
- We chatted with each other for a long time.
- She told me all about her life in Canada.
- I asked her many questions about the education there and about any problems she faced there.
- She told me that the education there is very good.
- They focus on the practical side and teach in a more interesting way.
- She also told me that she worked part time for 20 hours a week during her studies. She managed to earn for her overhead expenses by this.
- She told me that initially she faced many food problems.
- Actually, vegetarian food outlets are not easy to find over there.
- Now she cooks for herself, as everything is available in the Indian stores over there.
- She told me that her education is almost over, and now she is looking for a full time job.
- After that she will be able to apply for PR over there.
- She motivated me to pursue my higher education in Canada.
- She even talked to my parents about it.
- Today, I am in front of you, taking my IELTS, just because of the influence of that conversation.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

- 1 When do children normally form their own views?
- 2 Do children have strong opinions?
- 3 Should parents request their kids to obey them?
- 4 In what industries do you think communication is a necessary skill?

1. How do friends communicate with each other?

Friends communicate with each other in many ways. They communicate face to face, through phone and also through the Internet.

2. What's the difference between having a conversation with a man and having a conversation with a woman?

There are no gender differences nowadays. Both, men and women, can talk equally well on any topic they are interested in, be it sports, or politics, or fashion.

3. Do you think women like to chat more than men?

I don't think so. Gender has nothing to do with the preference of chatting. It is a matter of individual choice.

4. When men chat with other men do they usually talk about the same things that women do when they chat with other women?

The topic of conversation among men or women is a matter of individual taste. Mostly men talk about sports, business and politics. Whereas women talk about fashion and family matters. But then individual variations are always there.

5. What is the difference between chatting and gossiping?

Chatting is general talk on various topics, whereas gossiping is talking about other people behind their back. Chatting has a positive connotation, whereas gossiping has a negative connotation.

6. Who do you prefer chatting with - your parents or your friends?

I prefer both equally. I talk to my parents about my day to day's happenings, whereas I discuss studies, sports and movies etc. with friends.

7. Do most people have just a small number of friends, or many friends?

It is very difficult to generalize. Some people have few friends and some like to have a lot of friends. Mostly, face to face friendship is limited to a few close friends, but people have a huge network of online friends these days on Facebook or Whatsapp.

8. How do most people make new friends in your country?

Most people make new friends in schools and colleges, while attending family functions or other social functions or while travelling in public transport.

8. Describe a place in a village that you visited

You should say:

- Where it is
- When you visited this place
- What you did there
- And how you feel about this place

Or

Describe an enjoyable experience you had in the countryside
You should say:

- When and where you went
- Who you went with
- What you did there
- And explain why you think it was enjoyable.

- I belong to Phagwara.
- It is a small town, and there are many villages near my hometown.
- My maternal uncle and aunt have a farmhouse in a village near my hometown.
- Their farmhouse is in the centre of lush green farms.
- Last year, they invited us over to stay with them for a few days.
- Their farmhouse is very well maintained, as they have given a portion of it to a family who stays there and looks after it.
- They have maintained a very good kitchen garden, and I remember, the whole week we enjoyed fresh veggies from the garden.
- They had grown aubergines, okra, bottle gourd, broccoli, cauliflower, mint, coriander and green chilly.
- My uncle has retired from the agriculture department, and he knows a lot about organic farming.
- He never sprays any insecticides and pesticides and even prepares compost at home from the kitchen waste.

- Those vegetables tasted different.
- What we eat in the cities has so much spray of insecticides and pesticides that the taste of veggies is different.
- It was so much fun.
- They have 4 dogs, two Pugs and two German Shepherds.
- Every morning, we used to go for long walks in the fields, and the four dogs would walk by our sides without their leashes.
- In the cities, you always have to leash your dog while going for a walk.
- After the walk, we would all eat delicious parathas with butter made by my aunt.
- We played badminton in their courtyard, and sometimes we also played Frisbee.
- The air also seemed fresh and pollution free.
- The atmosphere was so calm and quiet. There was also no noise pollution.
- They have such a peaceful life, with absolutely no hurry and worry.
- I look forward to going and staying with them again this summer.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1. Do young people enjoy living in the countryside?

No, most young people don't enjoy living in the countryside. Actually there are fewer facilities in the countryside. The entertainment facilities are also few in the countryside.

2. Do old people prefer to live in the countryside or in the city?

Old people prefer to live in the countryside, because they like the fresh air and the slow life of the villages.

3. Why do many people move from small towns to big cities?

Many people move from small towns to big cities in such a better career options and better facilities for their children.

4. What's the difference between living in the countryside and living in the city?

There are many differences between the city and countryside people. In cities the people are more educated than the people of countryside because there are better educational facilities in the cities.

On the other hand people of countryside are more hospitable and friendly. City people have very fast lives because of which they have lost the community spirit and have become self-centered. In villages people have slower lives and know their neighbours and still meet and greet each other. In cities people have become workaholics and going to another person's house without an appointment nowadays is simply not acceptable.

5. How has life changed in the countryside in your country?

Life has changed a lot in the countryside. That is better connectivity with the cities. The villages, which are near the cities, have developed a lot, whereas those, which are in remote areas, are still neglected.

- 1 Is there anything special about the villages in India?
- 2 Why do people want to go to the countryside?

- 3 What do people usually do when going to a village?
- 4 Do you think people will live in the village in the future?
- 5 How often you visit countryside?
- 6 Do people prefer to live in countryside?
- 7 What are the advantages of living in country side?
- 8 What are the disadvantages of living in country side?
- 9 How people manage to live without basic infrastructure and internet?
- 10 Why you enjoy going to countryside?

9. Describe a long walk you ever had

- When this happened
- Where you walked
- Who you were with?
- And explain how you felt about this walk?

- I go for a walk every morning, but that is only for about 30-40 minutes.
- Here, I would like to talk about a long walk that I did in December.
- It was a trek of 14 kms, which started from Dharamkot (near Macleodganj) in Himachal and ended at Triund.
- Dharamkot to Triund is 7 kms, so the total trek is 14 kms.
- My cousin had told me about this trek and so I also wanted to do it.
- I went there with four of my friends.
- We drove in our car and stayed at a hotel in Mcleodganj.
- We woke up early the next morning and got ready.
- We wore comfortable clothes and walking shoes for the trek.
- After having breakfast, we drove in our car till Dharamkot.
- From there we started our trek at around 9:00am.
- It was a clear and sunny day.
- We were all very excited and the first 3 kms were covered quickly.
- However, when we reached the halfway point, most of us were very tired.
- We stopped for some refreshments and a break, at a tea stall.
- The view from that tea-stall was mesmerizing and breath-taking.
- Then we resumed our trek and finally, after 4 hours of walking, we reached Triund.
- The view there was spectacular.
- The beauty of the Himalayas awed us.
- There were also some snow-covered areas and we enjoyed playing with the snow.
- We took a lot of pictures there.
- We had delicious lunch there, which was freshly cooked and started the journey back to Dharamkot.
- The trek back didn't take us as long and we were back in Mcleodganj by 6.30pm.
- It was an exhilarating (amazing) experience and we all felt rejuvenated and recharged.
- Whenever we meet, we still reminisce (talk) about that trip and how amazing the experience was.

(Another idea)

- I go for a walk every morning, but that is only for about 30-40 minutes.
- Here, I would like to talk about a long walk that I had.

- It so happened that my friend came to see me last year in December.
- Two years ago she went for her higher studies to Toronto, Canada.
- She had come home for her winter vacation and so she paid me a visit.
- There were some guests in my house, so we went to a park in my neighbourhood, where we could chat without any disturbance.
- It has a track for walking, so we started walking and also chatted with each other
- We had so much to tell each other.
- I wanted to know all about her life in Canada.
- She told me all about her studies and about her stay there.
- She told me that initially she faced a lot of problems, but she sorted them out and now she was very happy there.
- She is a pure vegetarian, and in the beginning she could not find any affordable veg food outlets over there.
- Then she found an Indian store and started cooking for herself.
- She told me that she worked 20 hours a week along with her studies and could manage to earn her overhead expenses.
- She told me about the beautiful places to visit in Toronto.
- She painted a very rosy picture of Canada in my eyes.
- The conversation was so interesting that we both did not realise that we had been walking for two hours.
- She has an I-phone, which has a health app, which tells the miles walked. We had walked 5 miles, which is about 8 kms.
- Surprisingly, we did not feel any tiredness.
- We came home and she talked to my parents about sending me also for higher education to Canada.
- Because of her, my parents have agreed to send me to Canada for higher studies.
- I can never forget this long walk and this conversation, which proved a turning point in my life.
- Before that I had never thought about going abroad for studies.

1. What outdoor activities do people like?

I think mostly people like to go for a run or walk in the park because these activities can be done easily and do not require any monetary investment. But lately, many people have also started cycling especially in my city specially after the covid lock downs. I think people are becoming more conscious about their fitness.

2. What are the differences between the outdoor activities children did in the past and now?

Children used to play simple games like hide and seek, tag and running in the park but nowadays children are more inclined towards professional sports they love to play soccer, cricket or some children go for skating practice.

3. Is leisure important to everyone? why?

Well it is important for everyone to spend some time on entertainment and one should definitely take a break during the day because in today's hectic style the brain definitely deserves some rest. People should spend time rejuvenating so that they can concentrate or focus better on their tasks later on.

4. Do women have more leisure than men?

I don't think Leisure has got anything to do with the gender of a person. It purely depends upon an individual's personality, some people like to work hard whereas others like to spend more time in entertaining themselves. In fact, at my home my mother and father, who are both working, spend an equal amount of time on leisure activities.

10. Describe an item of clothing that someone gave you

You should say:

- What the clothing was
- Who gave it to you
- When you got it
- And explain why this person gave you the clothing

- In our life we all give and receive gifts from time to time.
- I have also received many gifts in my life, some of which were items of clothing.
- Here I would like to talk about a traditional suit, which my maternal gave me as a gift on my birthday.
- It is a bottle green suit with magenta and golden embroidery
- It also has a multi-coloured stole to go with it which had a golden lace on all sides
- It is studded with golden beads
- It has a very traditional ethnic touch to it
- It is a very beautiful suit
- The stole is in crinkled silk
- She gave me matching accessories also
- She gave me a golden beaded purse to go with it.
- Whenever I wear the suit, I wear my traditional Punjabi shoes, which match perfectly with the suit.
- When I wear that suit everyone compliments me
- I feel very good when I receive those compliments.
- Actually, my aunt runs her hobby classes of cooking in Chandigarh.
- I stayed with her during my vacations and helped her.
- She could accommodate more number of students because of my help.
- She offered me money, but I refused because I had not helped her for money.
- So she bought this expensive suit for me on my birthday.
- I really like the suit and have worn it on many occasions.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1. What kinds of clothes do people wear after work?

People wear comfortable and casual clothes after work, because usually at work, people have to wear uniforms or formal clothes. Once people come back home, they like to relax and want to be more comfortable.

2. What kind of clothes should people wear at work?

At work people should wear proper and formal clothes. At some workplaces, uniforms are needed, which gives them an identity and develops a sense of discipline. It also depends on the type of work people do. If someone is working as a gym instructor, he or she cannot wear formal clothes to work. They have to wear sports wear.

3. Do you think students need to wear school uniforms?

Yes, I think students need to wear school uniforms, as they act as a social leveler/equalizer. Uniforms give an identity to the students and also inculcate a sense of discipline among students. Uniforms are also good for the school's security, as if any miscreants enter the school, they can be easily spotted.

4. Where do Indian people buy clothes?

Indian people buy clothes from shops and stores in the local markets and in shopping malls. There are many small-scale stores and boutiques that are run from home, from where people shop for clothes. Also, online shopping is very popular in India. There are many popular shopping websites, like Amazon, Flipkart, Snapdeal and so on, from where people buy clothes.

1 Have you ever given clothes to others?

2 Why do people dress casually in everyday life but dress formally at work?

3 What are the advantages and disadvantages of wearing uniforms at work and school?

4 Why do people from different countries wear different clothing?

11. Describe a city that you think is very interesting

You should say:

Where it is

What it is famous for

How you knew this city

And explain why you think it is very interesting

- India is a diverse country.
- There are many beautiful cities in India.
- Some are beautiful because of their historical buildings, whereas others are beautiful because of their modern architecture. Some cities are beautiful because they are in the mountain valleys, where as some are beautiful, because of the beautiful and warm smiles of people.
- Here, I would like to talk about Chandigarh, which is also known as 'The City Beautiful'
- It was designed by the French architect Le Corbusier.
- It is the first planned city of India after independence.
- Chandigarh is the cleanest and the happiest city of India according to two different surveys held in 2010 and 2015.
- It is also the first smoke-free city in the country.
- It is a union territory and is also the capital of two states - Punjab and Haryana.
- The Rock Garden in Chandigarh is a masterpiece out of waste material.
- Sukhna lake, is the biggest man-made lake. It is a beautiful place for the people to enjoy with their families.
- The sector 17 market is a shopper's paradise.
- The Rose Garden is Asia's largest garden
- The city has 47 sectors.
- Each sector has residential and commercial zones
- The roads are designed and oriented in such a way that most of the time of the day, they are under shade.
- There are huge parking areas in the commercial zones so that the Parking problems don't create a havoc on the main roads.
- The Parking lanes are as broad as the main roads.

- So, you see, while the city was planned in 1952, it is still the most well planned and beautiful cities of India

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1. Why do some people like to visit historical places?

People go to historical cities to learn/gain knowledge about the past, the way of life of the people in the past, their culture, their roots, and the architecture.

2. Why do people go to modern city

People visit modern cities for various purposes. Some go for work/business reasons, and some for tourism. Those who travel for pleasure to modern cities is to experience a life, where modern technology is incorporated in every aspect of life and to learn and see how people there are using technology in their daily lives. Singapore is a very good example of such a city, where we can not only experience the modern way of life, but also see how they have used modernization to help preserve and enrich the environment.

3. What are the problems caused by maintaining historical city?

The problems that maintenance of a historical city perhaps can cause are related to the funds required for the restoration and upkeep of the city. Another issue could be the pressure on the resources of that city because of tourism.

4. Do you think having too many tourists is a positive thing for historical attractions?

No, I don't think so. I believe that too many tourists will lead to pollution and also will affect the upkeep of historical sites. Such sites need a lot of care and maintenance and limiting the number of visitors to such sites can help maintain them, prevent damage to such sites, and also sustain tourism.

5. What can we do to stop visitors from damaging historical places?

To prevent the damage to historical places by the visitors to such places many measures can be taken. There should be strict punishments, like high fines for the people who try to cause harm. There should be security personnel employed to ensure that no one tries to damage the historical places and along with that there should be security cameras installed to monitor the activities of the tourists. There can be tourist guides appointed, who also can ensure that no one causes any damage.

6. Do you think too many tourists is a positive thing for historical attractions?

In my opinion having too many tourists has both advantages and disadvantages

Advantages:

1. It ensures that our history and culture is passed to the future generation
2. It brings revenue and business for the people of the city where the historical attraction is.

Disadvantages:

1. Too many tourists can cause damage to the historical attractions

1 What advantages can tourism bring to a city?

2 Why do some young people like to live in cities?

3 Do most elderly people live in the city or in the countryside?

4 Do you think well-developed tourism will have negative effects on local people?

12. Describe a rule that you don't like

You should say:

- What it is
  - Why you don't like it
  - How others feel about the rule
  - And explain whether you've followed the rule
- Rules and laws are made to create a peaceful and harmonious society.
  - If we all obey the rules and laws then we would all be benefited.
  - There are rules everywhere.
  - Schools are the first place where children learn about the rules and codes of conduct.
  - Every school/college/office has rules, like wearing the prescribed uniform, coming in time, doing tasks on time and so on.
  - My school/college/office also has rules about the uniform that we have to wear.
  - It was navy blue trouser and white shirt on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.
  - However, on Wednesdays and Saturdays, we have a totally white uniform.
  - All students/colleague and I do not like this rule.
  - I think we should follow the developed countries and everyone should be allowed to wear the clothes of their choice and according to one's personality.
  - Everybody can express their creativity and style by wearing different clothes.
  - Uniforms should be for certain professionals only like doctors, lawyers or those in military/police.
  - At my place, if anyone breaks this rule, and doesn't come in uniform, they are fined.
  - The fine for the first offence is 100 Rs but if we break the rule more than twice then the fine goes up to 1000 Rs.
  - Luckily, I have never broken the rule and have always ensured that my uniform is neat and clean but I still hate this rule.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1. Why do schools make rules?

Schools make rules to maintain discipline. They are the centres of learning, where children are moulded into responsible adults. We all have to follow rules, imposed by the government, as adults. So, schools start that process of obeying rules in childhood only.

2. What's the importance of obeying law?

Without law, we would be living in utter chaos. There would be crime everywhere and life would be difficult for the common man. For example, if we don't obey traffic rules, we would have many accidents. If there were no property rules, people would make their houses anywhere and the whole city would be unplanned.

3. What can parents and teachers do to help children follow rules?

Parents and teachers can be good role models for children. Children are copycats. If they see their elders following rules, they will do it automatically. Just telling them to do something will not have that much effect.

4. Is it a good thing to break rules sometimes?

It is definitely not good to break rules, but sometimes in case of emergencies, for example, if we have to make way for an ambulance to pass, we may need to break rules. Sometimes, it is a matter of life and death.

5. Why do some people say that rules are made to be broken?

Some people say so because they have a very callous attitude to life. They do not understand the importance of rules. They are lazy and do not care about things.

6. Do you think children should follow all kinds of rules?

Yes, children should follow all kinds of rules. They should be made to understand that rules are for their own betterment. Willingness to follow rules should be instilled in them.

7. Do you think it is necessary for children to wear school uniforms?

Yes, it is important for school children to wear uniforms. Uniform instills a sense of discipline in children. It provides an identity to the school. Uniform is also a social leveler. All rich and poor students came at the same level. Uniform also provides security. If any miscreants come in the school, they can be recognized from afar.

1 What are the rules students should follow at school?

2 Are the rules at school good or bad? Why?

3 What rules should children follow at home?

4 How are people punished when parking at a wrong spot?

13. Describe someone you really like to spend time with

You should say:

- Who this person is
  - How you knew him/her
  - What you usually do together
  - And explain why you like to spend time with him/her
- If I had to talk about myself, I would say I am very reserved person and it takes a lot of time to become familiar with strangers.
  - However, I love spending time with my family.
  - I am very close to both my parents but as we are all working (as they are working and I am studying), it's hard for us to spend time together.
  - The person I do spend a lot of time together with is my nephew- my sister's child.
  - He is nearly five years old.
  - He is very special to me.
  - There are many reasons for that.
  - Firstly, everyone says that he looks like me and secondly, we both like spending time with each other.
  - I think the reason for that is we feel very comfortable with each other.
  - I get to act like a child around him and I miss being a child.
  - He is also like me – very shy with strangers and he is very naughty – just like I was in my childhood.
  - So, spending time with him reminds me of my childhood in some ways.
  - In my childhood, I was in a hurry to grow up but now I sometimes wish I could reverse time and bring back my childhood.

- There are so many things we do together.
- But something that we really enjoy doing is to play pranks on Deepa, my sister and his mother.
- I think we can do that all day long.
- We also both love eating chocolates, so whenever we can, we try to buy and eat chocolates secretly.
- However, I do get scolded sometimes as I am the adult.
- I also have a dog and so we both like playing with her.
- We love taking her out on walks and feeding her.
- In the evening, I take my nephew to the park and just spend time on the swings there.
- Sometimes, I wish he would always remain a child, but I know that's not going to happen even if I wish for it a million times.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1. How many generations usually live together in India?

I think the situation in India is undergoing a change. Earlier joint families were more common and three or four generations used to live together. On the other hand, nowadays nuclear families are more common with maximum of two generations living together.

2. Is it important to visit family members?

Yes, it is really important to meet family regularly. I think family defines us and family is what supports us and stands with us in bad times. However, I think this selfless bond only stays if we remain in contact with each other.

3. What are the values of family in your country?

I think the main values of family in India are respect for elders and prioritizing the needs of the family over our individual needs. That is why, in India we think in we rather in I, for example we own a house, we own this car.

4. Why is family bonding necessary for happiness in life?

Family bonding is necessary for happiness because it gives us secure. I mean it makes us feel that we are not alone, there is someone behind us.

5. Do you think the support from a friend is different from the support from a family member?

I think certainly. There is an element of selflessness in family relationships, which I feel is missing when it comes to support from friends. Also, it doesn't create a burden. What I mean is we do take help from friends but then it also makes us feel that we have to repay it. This feeling doesn't come in the case of family.

1 What kinds of people are easy to get along with?

2 How do leaders get along with their subordinates?

3 Do people have time for themselves nowadays?

4 Do you like talking with older people? Why?

14. Describe a time you visited a new place

You should say:

- Where the new place is
  - When you went there
  - Why you went there
  - And explain how you feel about the place
- There are many public buildings and historical places, which I have visited in my life.
  - Here, I would like to talk about the Statue of Unity in the Narmada district of Gujarat.
  - It is a colossal statue of Sardar Vallabhai Patel, who was the first Home Minister of Independent India.
  - His expression, posture and pose show the confidence and the iron-will of this great person.
  - Recently I had an opportunity to visit this architectural marvel.
  - This statue can withstand winds of 180 km/hour and can resist earthquake of 6.5 on the Richter scale.
  - I came to know about it from the news channels on TV.
  - It was on all news channels in January 2019.
  - This Statue of Unity was first open to public on 3rd Jan 2019
  - It is the world's tallest statue.
  - It was built in just 33 months.
  - It is made of bronze and is about 600 feet tall.
  - I visited this place with my family, and I really enjoyed a lot with them.
  - We visited this place in December last year.
  - I had read a lot about it on the internet.
  - Apart from the statue there are several other things here which are worth seeing.
  - The ticket is Rs. 350/- per head.
  - It includes the entry to the observation deck, valley of flowers, the Sardar Patel Memorial, museum and audio-visual Gallery, the statue of Unity site and the Narmada River.
  - More than 2 million people have visited the statue already.
  - It has become a major tourist attraction of India.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1. What measures should be taken to deal with damage on public facilities?

First of all, people should themselves be aware that if they use these facilities nicely only then they will be able to use them for a long time. Otherwise, the facilities may be destroyed. The government should appoint people for the maintenance of these facilities. Another thing that can be done is that a very small fee should be charged for these facilities. That money could be used for the maintenance of these places.

2. What are the differences between old facilities and new facilities?

Old facilities are like parks and libraries. New facilities are gyms and leisure places.

3. What facilities do young people and old people like in your country?

Young people like gyms and leisure centres. Old people like parks, health centres and libraries.

4. What is the difference between facilities in the countryside and the ones in the cities?

In the countryside the facilities are related to education and health. In the cities there are many entertainment facilities also.

- 1 Which do you prefer, living in a city or only visiting it as a tourist?
- 2 How do young children react when they go to school for the first time?
- 3 How do young and old people react differently to new things?
- 4 Why do some people want to go to college far away from home?

15. Describe a house or an apartment you would like to live in

You should say:

What it is like Where it would be

Why you would like to live in this house/apartment
And how you feel about this house/apartment

Sample answer (For those who live in villages)

- Presently, I live in a village.
- My house is very big and has many rooms and open space in the front and back.
- But, for every small requirement, we have to rush to the village.
- My dream home would be in the suburbs of my hometown.
- There I would get the best of both worlds.
- I would be near the facilities of the city as well as be able to enjoy the calm and peaceful atmosphere of the village
- I would not like to live in a big house.
- Big houses are difficult to maintain.
- My house would have three bedrooms, a lobby, a kitchen a small lawn in the front and a kitchen garden in the backyard.
- I am very fond of gardening.
- I would grow coriander, mint, aubergine, okra, tomatoes, green chilly and some other seasonal vegetables.
- I would use only organic fertilisers, such as homemades compost from the kitchen waste.
- I would not use any insecticides and pesticides.
- All the rooms of my house would be well lit and airy.
- The bathrooms and kitchen would have the latest fittings.
- I would have solar panels set up on the terrace to harness solar energy.
- I would like to welcome and entertain friends and relatives in my house.
- I would keep it spic and span.
- I hope to live in such a house one day.

Sample answer (For those who live in cities)

- Presently, I live in a city.
- My house is not very big but has three bedrooms and some open space in the front and back.
- But, it is a very noisy and congested area.
- My dream house would be in the suburbs of my hometown.
- There I would get the best of both worlds.
- I would be near the facilities of the city as well as be able to enjoy the calm and peaceful atmosphere of the village
- I would not like to live in a big house.
- Big houses are difficult to maintain.
- My house would have three bedrooms, a lobby, a kitchen a small lawn in the front and a kitchen garden in the backyard.

- I am very fond of gardening.
- I would grow coriander, mint, aubergine, okra, tomatoes, green chilly and some other seasonal vegetables.
- I would use only organic fertilisers, such as homemade compost from the kitchen waste.
- I would not use any insecticides and pesticides.
- All the rooms of my house would be well lit and airy.
- The bathrooms and kitchen would have the latest fittings.
- I would have solar panels set up on the terrace to harness solar energy.
- I would like to welcome and entertain friends and relatives in my house.
- I would keep it spic and span.
- I hope to live in such a house one day.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1. Do most Indian people live in an apartment or house?

I think it depends on the region they are living in. In most of the big cities, like the metropolitan cities, people live in apartments, as there is a scarcity of land in such places and to accommodate the ever-increasing population, there are more and more apartment buildings being built. However, in the small cities, towns and the countryside, we can find people mostly living in houses, rather than apartments.

2. Do young people in your country like to live with their parents or by themselves?

In my country, young people like to live with their parents, unless they have to move to another city or country, for higher education or for better career prospects. It's a part of the Indian culture for children to live with their parents.

3. Would you live in a foreign country in the future?

Yes, definitely. I would like to live in a foreign country in the future. I plan to pursue my education abroad. I think there are better education facilities and better job opportunities in developed countries.

4. How is modern home design in your country different to that of the past?

The modern home design is very different to that of the past, in my country. The material being used now in the construction of houses is much advanced, like weather proof paints, insulated walls, soundproof windows, etc. The design of the modern houses is according to the space available. There is better utilization of space in the modern home designs. The homes in the past used to be more spacious and not equipped to handle the latest electronic gadgets and equipment, like washing machine, microwave, dishwashers & so on.

5. In your country what type of home do most people live in?

India is a vast and diverse country. People live in different types of houses, depending on the region and the climate in that region. For example, in the eastern parts of India, houses made from bamboo are very common. In regions where there is snowfall, sloped houses are common. In plain areas, people design their houses, as per the area and space available.

1 What kinds of apartments are the most popular?

2 What are the differences between houses that young people and old people like?

3 What are the differences between apartments and houses?

4 Do people usually rent or buy a house? Why?

16. Describe a person who contributes to the society

You should say:

Who this person is

How you knew him/her

What type of work he/she does

And explain why you think he/she contributes to the society

- We live in a world which is full of people with different nature and attitudes.
- Some individuals find joy in achieving success whereas some find bliss in helping others.
- Today, I would like to talk about one such person whose life motto is to help others and fight for human rights.
- His name is Prabloch Singh.
- He is in his early thirties and is tall and handsome.
- He has done his graduation in Computers and works with an IT company.
- But after his work hours, he takes the role of a super hero where his mission is to help as many people as possible.
- He is also the founder of a human rights organisation called Middle Finger Protests.
- His journey for human rights and causes started when he was very young.
- He helped in bringing justice for the family of an air hostess who was murdered in a bar by an influential person.
- Even though he got many threats to his life, he continued his protests to fight for the justice.
- His role was also picturized in a movie called No one Killed Jessica.
- Similarly, he has led various other protests to bring justice to other victims.
- He also does a lot of charity and social work for people by organizing free food stalls and distributing clothes to the needy.
- He has been awarded at national and International level for his contribution to humanitarian causes.
- He has also represented India as an ambassador for Human Rights at the United Nations Headquarters in New York.
- The best thing about him is that he is not afraid of fighting for the right cause, even if he has to make a lot of sacrifices.
- He is an inspiration for today's generation.
- When I talk about him, I feel motivated that I should also give back to the society.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1. Do people nowadays help others more than in the past?

There have been helpful people in every era and they use the means they can to help others in need. I believe that people have more means to help other people anywhere in the world because of technology. That was not possible in the past.

2. Who should teach children to help others? Parents or teachers?

Both parents and teachers share the responsibility to ensure that the children learn to help others. Parents should be role models for their and teachers can have lessons and activities in schools to inculcate/imbibe this value/virtue in children.

3. In what kind of professions do people help others more?

I think in all professions people help other directly or indirectly through their products and services. However, those working in the social/community service fields, like NGOs working to promote child education, women empowerment, and other such social issues, help others more.

4. Why are some people willing to help others?

People who are empathetic, sensitive, and compassionate are more willing to help others. These values are what they have seen and learned from their parents, teachers and other people around them while they are growing up.

17. Describe a story someone told you and you remember

You should say:

What the story was about Who told you this story Why you remember it

And how you feel about it

- I have heard many stories in my life.
- I believe that storytelling is an art as old as civilization itself.
- My grandmother used to tell me stories every night at bedtime.
- All her stories were fun to hear
- Some stories were fairy tales, some of princes and princesses and some were tales from the Panchtantra, which had animal characters in them.
- Most of her stories had some moral behind them
- Here I would like to talk about a story, which she told me many times.
- This is the story of the greedy dog.
- Once upon a time there was a dog
- He was very hungry.
- He wandered here and there in search of food.
- He got a juicy bone from a butcher's shop.
- He felt very happy.
- He took the bone and ran away.
- He reached on a bridge of a river.
- He saw his own shadow in the water.
- He thought that there was another dog with a juicy bone in his mouth.
- His mouth watered and he wanted to snatch that bone from him.
- He started barking on him and as he opened his mouth, the bone fell down from his mouth in to the river.
- The dog lost his own juicy bone.
- He repented at his greed.
- But, alas nothing could be done.

- The moral of the story is that the greedy lose what they have.
- Greed is a curse.
- My grandma used to teach me values of life through these stories.
- Now, I tell these stories to my niece and nephew when they come to my place.
- They enjoy these stories a lot.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1. Has storytelling changed over a period of time?

Yes, definitely. Everything changes with time. My grandmother used to tell me stories from her memory, and had no book in her hand. Now, I see my sister reads out stories to her children from the various books she buys from the market. Telling stories to children has also largely been replaced by watching TV. Grandparents, parents and children are glued to the TV screen for long hours and there is no time left for story telling.

2. Which way is better, traditional storytelling or the use of technology in storytelling?

I believe the traditional method is much better. It has a personal touch and increases the bonding between parents or grandparents and children. Unfortunately, it is dying out and programmes like Curious George and ChhotaBhim are taking its place.

3. Do you think that generally most of the people are good at storytelling?

It is very difficult to generalize and answer this question. One thing is sure, and that is that we all tell stories from time to time in our life. Some people are born storytellers and can bind their audiences for long periods of time. They can concoct stories on the spur of the moment. It is difficult to tell whether their stories are fake or real.

4. What makes storytelling effective?

The way the stories are told can make any story effective. The use of gestures also helps. Using the right pauses at the right places and good pronunciation makes the stories effective. But, perhaps the most important thing to see is to read the interest of the audience. Fairy tales may amuse children, but may not create impact on adult listeners. Young people may be interested to hear stories related to their favourite celebs.

5. Is it important to tell stories?

Yes, it is very important to tell stories. They are a good means of communication. Sometimes a message may be conveyed through a story in a much better way than by a simple conversation.

6. Is reading books beneficial or watching documentaries better?

Both have their sets of pros and cons. But, I think reading has an edge over watching a documentary. Reading is an active phenomenon, whereas watching a documentary is a passive activity. Reading is not only good for children, but also delays cognitive decline in the elderly. Dementias can be delayed if people read a lot. However, watching a documentary can make things easier to understand, and if made well, can have a long-lasting effect.

1 Do young children like the same stories as older children?

2 How has technology changed storytelling?

3 How do people tell stories to children?

4 Why do children like stories?

18. Describe a gift you would like to buy for your friend

You should say:

What gift you would like to buy Who you would like to give it to

Why you would like to buy a gift for him/her And explain why you choose that gift

- I have given and received many gifts in my life
- Here I am going to talk about a gift, which I would like to purchase for my best friend on his eighteenth birthday.
- It is a mobile phone.
- He has always wanted a mobile phone.
- But his parents would not buy him one
- I have saved all my pocket money for five to six months to buy this mobile
- It will cost me 8000 Rupees
- It is an entry level smartphone— a Samsung Galaxy M01 model
- It has a brick form factor and I will buy the blue color model for him
- It has many features like clock, calculator, FM radio, alarm, timer and a memory card to store phone numbers
- Apart from that he can use many apps on this smartphone to do different tasks
- He is fond of online gaming and he can also play many games on this phone
- This phone has one of the best entry level cameras and one can take stunning pictures from it.
- I saw an ad of this phone six months before and immediately thought that I'd gift it to my friend.
- I am so fond of chocolates and candies that I used to spend all my pocket money on these things
- But I haven't eaten a single chocolate in the last six months.
- I am really excited to know that how my friend will react when I gift him this phone.
- I honestly feel that there is more pleasure in giving than receiving.

Part 3 - Follow-up Questions

1. What is the importance of gifts?

Gifts are gestures of love. They strengthen bonds of friendship. Gifts make the recipient feel special.

2. Is there any pressure on us to buy presents?

As such, there is no pressure on us to buy presents. But sometimes when we receive costly presents then there is a pressure to reciprocate in the same way. Then it may cause pressure. I believe that gifts should be just gestures of love. Very costly gifts should not be there.

Nowadays, we belong to a consumerist society. There are so many choices of gifts. This may seem good to some, but I often get confused when it comes to selecting a gift.

3. Do Indian people often give gifts?

Yes, Indian people like to give gifts. They give gifts on special occasions such as marriages, birthdays and anniversaries etc.

4. What's the value of giving presents?

Gifts are gestures of love. They give happiness to the giver as well as the receiver.

5. Describe some of the gifts that Indian people give each other on different occasions.
People give all sorts of gifts to each other. They give sweets, chocolates, clothes, electronic items or gift cards to their friends and relatives.

6. What kinds of gifts are suitable for friends to give each other?
Friends know each other well, so they can give any gift, which can be useful to the other person. The gift need not be expensive. It should be taken as a gesture of love and not foreconomic value.

7. What factors do people consider when buying a gift for friends?
People consider a lot of things when buying a gift for friends. They consider the friendsrequirement and they consider their own pocket.

8. Why do people give presents?
People give presents as gestures of love. Presents give happiness to the recipient as well asthe person who is giving the present.

9. Do children prefer receiving gifts or spending happy time with their parents?
Children are very innocent. They love receiving gifts. They take the happy time with theirparents for granted. So, they don't give it much value.

- 1 When do people normally send gifts to others?
- 2 Do people give gifts or red packets on traditional festivals?
- 3 Is it hard to choose a gift?
- 4 Will people feel happy when receiving an expensive gift?

19. Describe a thing you cannot live without (not a mobile or computer)

You should sayWhat it is?

How long have you had it for?

Why you cannot live without it?

Explain how you felt when you were without it?

- I think there are very few things in life which I cannot live without.
- But the one thing, which I would really miss is my two-wheeler, Activa.
- It's my main mode of conveyance.
- I live in the suburbs of Phagwara and for most necessities, I have to travel to the city.
- For example, there is a small grocery shop near my home, but it has limited variety.
- Even my college is the city and its the only mode of travel for me now.
- Before the pandemic, there was a regular bus service to the city.
- But, due to the lockdowns and the hesitation to travel by public transportation, the bus service is far less regular.
- In fact, earlier there used to be bus to the city every half an hour, but now there is one everytwo hours.
- Moreover, buses make more stops nowadays, so travelling takes considerably longer as well.

- On my two-wheeler it takes me 15 minutes, while it takes 40 minutes by bus.
- And going to the city by bus is still fine but coming back is very challenging.
- When going I can wait in the comfort of my home, but while coming back, I have to wait at the bus stop.
- I would really feel handicapped without my two-wheeler.
- I have faced this situation where I had to live without it and it was one of the worst days of this year.
- A month back two-wheeler broke down and the service centre was out of faulty part.
- Due to this, it took a whole week for it get repaired.
- I couldn't do anything that week.
- The first day, my friend gave me a lift on his car and another friend dropped me back home.
- But I felt awkward asking them again.
- I tried the bus for the first and last time after the lockdown on the second day.
- It was such a horrible experience, I thought it was better to stay home all day long than to travel by bus.
- It also brought about a new-found appreciation in me for those who travel by bus daily.
- I hope the government really does something about the buses soon, but till that time, no-one can part me from my Activa.

20. Describe a person who impressed you the most when you were in primary school

You should say

- Who he/she is?
  - How you knew him/her
  - Why he/she impressed you the most
  - And how you feel about him/her
- I was considered a very naughty kid in my childhood.
  - I was intelligent, but I used to never study at home.
  - In fact, I would spend all my day playing sports or video games.
  - So, my mother made me join extra classes after school with a home tutor nearby.
  - Her name was Mrs. Bambah.
  - She is the person who impressed me the most during my childhood.
  - In fact, I believe it is because of her that I might be able to fulfil my dream of going abroad.
  - First, she developed my interest in studies.
  - Before her, I used to consider studies a chore.
  - I only studied before exams.
  - Rather than asking me to memorise things, she made me understand the concept behind things.
  - The teachers at my school were also good, but due to the burden of covering the vast syllabus and shortage of time, they found it hard to cover everything in detail.
  - She covered everything in detail.
  - But studies were not the only reason, why she left such a big imprint on me.
  - I learnt many of life's valuable lessons from her in my childhood.
  - She taught me the importance of humility, punctuality, and industriousness.

- Even if I was late by 5 minutes, I was not allowed to attend the class.
- In India, where being a few minutes late is on time, I am actually early for every appointment.
- Another thing that I liked about her was that though she was strict, she was also very friendly to talk to.
- She was more than a teacher to me in this regard.
- I shared all my problems with her, and she would always patiently listen.
- And instead of providing solutions, she would ask me to think what the best action in that scenario would be.
- Because of this, I am independent today and I am confident of taking decisions without second-guessing myself.
- I have the utmost respect for her and along with that, there is a feeling of guilt because I feel I would never be able to pay her back for all that she did for me.

Follow-ups

1. Why do people always miss their childhood?

I think it's because that is the only time when we are free of worries, tensions, and stress. We know that our parents would take care of any problem we face. It is also because after childhood we are never able to spend that much time with our family again.

2. Are kids happier than adults? Why?

Yes, I believe most people are happier during their childhood and it's because of the same reason, they don't have to face the responsibilities and stress of adult life.

3. Why do people still remember many of their friends from primary school?

I think it's because of the amount of time we spent with them. We never spend as much time with friends during adulthood because of work and familial responsibilities. Also, because we all like to reminisce about our childhood, and childhood friends are a big part of our childhood.

4. What kinds of primary school teachers impress students?

I think primary school teachers need to be patient and understanding. All children are different in different ways. For example, some have a difficult time reading but are good at math. Teachers need to be able to understand these differences and have the patience to be able to guide students at their own speed. This is especially important at early ages because children are not mature enough to explain their problems to teachers.

21. Describe an item on which you spent more than expected

You should say:

- What it is
- How much did you spend on it
- Why you bought it
- And explain why you think you spent more than expected.

- Recently, my old phone broke down and I had to buy a new phone.
- I considered various models but ultimately, I decided to buy the Apple iPhone.
- I think I made the purchase because of the brand name and because of friend's reviews.

- The phone was much more costlier than I expected.
- It was priced at Rs 70,000.
- I still went for it because I wanted to own an iPhone.
- Previously, I had a Samsung phone, but all my friends told me that Apple is way above Samsung in quality.
- After buying it, I also felt that Apple is better.
- The camera quality was better, the response rate was faster, the look was more elegant.
- However, deep down, I knew I didn't care about these things.
- I rarely click pictures with the phone and even if I do, I am fine with a lower resolution.
- The response rate was faster, but then I was comparing the response rate of a new Apple iPhone with a 3-year-old Samsung phone, so the comparison was not apt.
- And, above all, the price was way higher than the other models in the market.
- I bought the mobile phone not because of need but because of impulse.
- I know I am not a heavy mobile phone user.
- I mainly use the mobile phone to call and to check WhatsApp messages.
- Besides that, I use barely 2-3 apps like Zomato for ordering food and Uber for travelling.
- I knew I could have that done all that I wanted with a much cheaper version, but I still went for the Apple iPhone.
- Finally, because of this decision, I had to postpone the decision of buying a new laptop, which I urgently need.
- My old one is about 6 years old and sometimes it takes nearly half an hour to start up.
- A new laptop would have made my life much more comfortable than the iPhone did.
- For all these reasons, I regret buying the iPhone and spending so much on it.

Follow-ups

1. Do you often buy more than you expected?

Yes, I often buy more than I expected, but it is normally in case of small household items or grocery items. For example, I would buy 2 pairs of jeans if they are on an offer, even if I need just one. The iPhone was the first time, I spent so much more than I should have spent.

2. What do you think young people spend most of their money on?

I think young people spend their money on clothes and other fashion accessories like belts, shoes, etc. Also, I think a lot of youth spend their money on gadgets like mobile phones, laptops, and headphones.

3. Do you think it is important to save money? Why?

Yes, I think it is crucial as we can never be certain about the future. The recent Corona epidemic has made it even more clear that how uncertain life is. Many people died because they couldn't afford the costly healthcare. Also, if people didn't have savings, it would have been impossible to tide over these difficult times.

4. Do people buy things that they don't need?

Yes, all the time. I think we buy things because buying things makes us happy. Even though we know we won't be using the thing, we buy it for momentary happiness. A common example is an electric drill, which people barely use for 10 mins after buying and then collects dust sitting unused for years.

22. Describe an activity that you usually do that wastes your ## time

- What it is
  - When you usually do it
  - Why do you do it
  - And explain why you think it wastes your time.
- In all honesty, thinking about an activity that wastes my time was rather picking one activity from a long list of activities that I waste my time on.
  - So, out of all those activities, I think playing video games is the one that I regret the most.
  - I play video games in the evening or on the weekends.
  - I feel they are wasteful because they don't achieve my intended purpose.
  - I think I play them to relieve my stress, but actually I end up feeling more stressed after playing them,
  - The thrill of the win makes me play more and thus I end wasting hours on it, which in the end stresses me.
  - Losing, on the other hand, makes me feel incompetent, which again ultimately makes me feel stressed.
  - However, more than anything, I think it is wasteful because it doesn't benefit me in any way.
  - Rather I lose out on a lot of important things in life because of playing these games.
  - I feel like I would spend more time with my family if I didn't play them.
  - I could also be playing outdoor activities or going to the gym instead, which would be beneficial for me from a health perspective.
  - Another hobby I had in my childhood was reading books, but because of this, I am not able to read books as well.
  - And reading novels always improved my mood because I felt I gained something after reading them.
  - It didn't matter whether it was fiction or non-fiction.
  - A lot of my friends also complain that in recent years I have stopped spending time with them.
  - I always give the excuse that I am busy, but I know that I would be able to spend plenty of time with them if I didn't play video games.
  - However, I also believe that there are people who are really able to enjoy games and feel better after playing them.
  - Then, there are others who are actually able to make money by playing video games.
  - For them, it might not be wasteful, but for me it certainly is.

Follow-ups

1. How do you balance work and life?

I think balancing work and life is always a work in progress. We are always doing it and it is not something specific. For example, if we go on vacation with the family, we come back and spend extra time at work to make up for the pending work. Another rather unhealthy way, we achieve it is by cutting down on our sleep hours, but it takes a big toll on our mental and physical health.

2. Will you continue doing something when you are aware that it wastes your time?

I think the adage 'bad habits die hard' would be the best answer to this question. I think we do such things because we are addicted to them. I think it's very hard to give up on such activities and it requires a lot of willpower. However, the realisation that the activity is wasteful is the first step, and once people have that it becomes easier to stop.

3. What kind of things make people pressured?

I think there are millions of things in today's life that stress us- for example financial obligations, unreasonable work deadlines, competition with others, and maintaining relationships. The pressure each puts varies according to the stage of life- for example, competition stress is in the early stages when we are trying to get into universities or trying to secure a good job and financial stress comes a little later when we have to manage the expenses for the whole family.

4. Why do some people refuse to abide by the rules?

I think there is a certain thrill in breaking rules and doing whatever we want. In some ways, it is exhilarating and freeing to not care about the rules and regulations. Actually, I think it is good as long as we don't harm others because it prevents life from becoming monotonous and boring.

23. Describe a skill that was difficult for you to learn

You should say:

- When you learned it
- Why you learned it
- How you learned it
- How you felt when you learned it

- When I was young, my parents planned a vacation for Goa, a state famous for its picturesque beaches.
- I was very excited to visit Goa and spend some time at the beach, as I had never visited one before.
- My parents also told me that they would allow me to Goa, only if I learnt swimming first.
- However, I had a terrible time learning swimming.
- Firstly, since my childhood, I have had big fear of water.
- I wanted to visit the beaches, but I was not planning on entering the water.
- In fact, that's the reason my dad planned the whole trip- he wanted me to get over my fear
- Secondly, there was only one swimming pool in my city at that time.
- And the swimming instructor there was strict and rude.
- I knew I would get shouted at because I would be slow at learning.
- So, I used to skip the swimming lessons without telling my parents.
- I used to go play table tennis with my friends instead of going to the pool.
- Then, one day my dad accompanied me to the pool to check on my progress.
- My father saw that I hadn't made any progress.
- He got really angry and told me that either I learn swimming, or he would cancel the whole trip.
- After that day, I became serious about it.
- It wasn't easy and on the first two-three days, I barely entered the water once.
- But when the instructor came to know about my water phobia, he was really patient with me.
- He let me learn it at my own pace.
- He also allowed me to use the tube to float, even though he forbids everyone else from using it.

- Slowly, as I got comfortable, he told me how to use my legs to stay afloat, instead of the tube.
- I don't remember much, as it was quite some time ago, but I do remember it took me more than 3 months to learn swimming, while on average people pick it up within 2-3 weeks.
- After learning, I felt amazing.
- I hadn't just learnt swimming; I had also conquered my fear of water.
- My parents were also very proud of me.
- And because I learnt swimming, I had an amazing time in Goa.

Follow-ups

1. What skills do students need to master?

Academically speaking, I think students need to master skills like reading, math, and speaking. Non academically, I think skills like cooking, money management, driving, and so on are skills that every student should possess. Also, in today's world, everyone should try to have computer skills.

2. Is it hard for students to learn new skills?

On the contrary, I feel it is easier for them to pick up new skills as they are young, and their minds can pick up and retain things better. That is why, children are encouraged to learn many things like driving, swimming, foreign languages at a young age.

3. It is hard for old people to learn new skills.

I wouldn't say it is hard for them either. But it is not as easy as it is for children or kids to pick up new things. Old people might not be able to remember things, so they might need to do things repeatedly for them to pick up on skills.

4. Is a good teacher very important for students learning experience? Why?

Yes, absolutely. Teachers are not only responsible for teaching but also ensuring that children are motivated to learn things. Moreover, nowadays, children are very impatient and lose focus easily. If the teacher is not able to grab and hold on to their attention, he would not be able to teach anything.

24. Describe a time you d to a new home/school

You should say:

- When you moved
  - Where you moved
  - Why you moved
  - And how you felt about it
- 5 years ago, my grandparents moved in with us from the village.
  - Their health was deteriorating because of old age, and they were feeling very lonely in the village. My father found it very difficult to take care of them and focus on his work at the same time.
  - So, he requested grandpa and grandma to come live with us.
  - At first, they were reluctant.
  - However, after some cajoling by my sister and I, they finally agreed.
  - We had been so focused on convincing them to shift in with us that we had forgotten one thing.
  - We had a small two-bedroom house at that time, and it was insufficient for the six of us to live in the house.

- We adjusted for a while, but ultimately my dad decided to rent a four-bedroom house about 5 kilometres meters from our old house.
- Our last house was rental as well and despite the difference in size, there wasn't much difference in the rent between the two houses.
- Maybe it was because the house we shifted to was quite old.
- I had mixed feelings about the whole experience.
- On the one hand, I was very happy that I would be getting my own room.
- On the other hand, the house we shifted to wasn't as comfortable as the old one.
- There was no air-conditioning in my room. So, it got very hot during the day, and I was barely able to stay in the room during the day.
- But, at night, as the temperature came down, I was able to sleep in the room.
- Moreover, I missed my old neighbours and friends.
- There were many children of my age in my previous neighbourhood.
- In the new community, there was hardly anyone my age.
- It got very boring.
- My parents were afraid of sending me too far to my old neighbourhood to play.
- But, on a positive note, this meant that I spent more time with my grandparents, which improved my bond with them.
- I still reminisce about that old house sometimes, but I don't regret moving to the new house.
- Actually, I am very happy that my parents made that sacrifice for taking better care of my grandparents.

Follow-ups

1. Why do people move to a new home?

There are many reasons why people move to a new home. But, most commonly people move for job, education. In other words, people move when they get a job or join an educational institute, which is too far for them to commute daily. Another big reason is marriage or because of children. This is because either they want independence and privacy or because their earlier house might be too small to accommodate the growing family.

2. What problems do people face after moving to a new place? How do people solve these problems?

I think it depends upon the place they are moving to. For example, if they are moving to a new place with a different culture, they might face a culture shock. Another problem is getting to know neighbours and making new friends. People solve these problems by having a housewarming party to invite new neighbours and get to know them.

3. What are the advantages and disadvantages of living in the same place?

It is comfortable to live in the same place for a long time. As people are familiar with everything, they don't need to spend time setting up things again and again. On the other hand, it gets boring and monotonous to live in the same place.

4. Is it good to move to a new place frequently? Why?

I don't think it is good to move to a new place too frequently. Firstly, it might be challenging to do so financially. Moving involves a lot of expenses. Secondly, it might be difficult to make new friends and people might miss their old place. Finally, from a children's point of view, it can be disastrous as it would affect their educational continuity.

25. Describe a time when you felt proud of a family member

You should say:

- When it happened
  - Who is this person?
  - What the person did
  - And explain why you felt proud of him/her.
- I have a big family and there are many moments when my family be it my grandparents, parents, siblings, nieces, nephews, cousins have made me proud.
  - Here I would like to talk about a moment that happened recently.
  - In July this year, my niece participated in a kid's triathlon competition.
  - She is just 10 years old, and this was her first time doing a triathlon.
  - She has participated in running competitions before but this time she was doing 3 activities, swimming, biking, and running one after the other.
  - She was very nervous about the transition phases between the 3 activities as the time taken during the transitions can get very crucial in a triathlon.
  - She got only a week to practice as my sister enrolled her at the last minute.
  - I was so proud that she was even participating in a competition like this at such a young age.
  - I couldn't believe that she was skilled at all three activities.
  - I talked to my niece on the phone the night before to motivate her. I told her to have fun and wished her the best of luck.
  - My sister called the next day to tell us that not only did my niece finish the race successfully but also stood 3rd place in her age group.
  - She took a total of 17 minutes to finish the race.
  - I was so happy to hear that and felt so proud of my niece.
  - She has always been good at academics and gets good grades but now she was a triathlete.
  - My sister sent pictures of the trophy ceremony and I showed them to everyone in our family.
  - I talked to my niece later that day to congratulate her.
  - I could hear the joy in my niece's voice. She told me that next time she will aim for a faster time.
  - She had lost some time getting on the bike, putting on the helmet, and then getting off the bike.
  - I told her she did great for her first time and went beyond my expectations.
  - No one in our family has participated in an event like this and this was a proud moment for us all.
  - In fact, my niece has motivated me to get into shape and start running.
  - I even started taking swim lessons as I never learnt swimming before because of my water phobia.

Follow-ups

1. When would parents feel proud of their children?

Parents feel proud of their children when they meet and achieve their goals. It can be getting good grades in school, getting into the sports team, graduating from college, and getting their first job, etc. For younger children parents are proud when they achieve tiny milestones like saying their first word, taking their first step, tying their shoelaces by themselves, etc.

2. Should parents reward children? Why and how?

Yes, parents should reward children for their achievements and hard work. It encourages them to continue doing it and makes them feel good about them themselves. Instead of giving material goods as rewards, parents should reward children by praising them, letting them do a favorite activity, or spending more time with them.

3. Is it good to reward children too often? Why?

I don't think parents should reward children too often as it can make them feel entitled. Buying them toys, gadgets as rewards can make them materialistic. Younger kids may become too focused on the reward and forget about the reason they are being rewarded for. They can even start negotiating with parents for every small task they do.

4. On what occasions would adults be proud of themselves?

Adults have many occasions when they are proud of themselves like a promotion at their job, buying their first home, getting their children into good schools, doing social work like helping others or a friend in need, etc.

26. Describe a difficult thing you did

You should say

- What it was?
  - How did you complete it?
  - Why it was difficult?
  - And how you felt about doing it?
- Well, I have done many things in my life which I found difficult in the beginning but then with practice they became easy.
  - For example, I found cooking to be very difficult at first but now I can cook anything easily by just following the recipe.
  - But one challenging thing I would like to talk about today is when I assembled my own Personal Computer two years back.
  - It was after my exams were over and I had requested my parents for a new desktop.
  - All my friends had bought branded Personal Computers from Dell and HP which came pre-installed with all the software.
  - However, being a gamer, I was more interested in getting a gaming computer with a more powerful configuration but buying a branded gaming PC was out of my budget.
  - So, I discussed it with one of my techie friends and he advised me to buy the computer parts separately and assemble it on my own, as it would cost much less than a branded PC.
  - Since I did not have much knowledge about computer hardware at that time, it seemed very difficult to me to do this task on my own.
  - But I still decided to go ahead and started reading a book on computer hardware and also started to watch computer assembly videos on youtube, which gave me a lot of confidence.
  - Through the videos I learnt a lot about the different computer parts and their functioning.
  - Finally, after I gained enough confidence, I ordered all the components online as it was much cheaper than the retail shops.
  - It took me a complete day to put all the parts together and basically the most difficult part was building the CPU.
  - One has to be very careful while installing the processor on the motherboard and then installing cooling fans over it.

- If this process is not done carefully it could lead to a short circuit and the processor could get damaged.
- Luckily, I was able to put it all together perfectly in my first attempt and when I pressed the power button, I heaved a sigh of relief.
- I was very nervous during the entire assembly process, but I also felt that if I hadn't read the hardware book and watched the videos on youtube, I would not have been able to do this thing on my own.

Follow-ups

1. What kinds of jobs require people to be confident?

I think all jobs require a certain degree of confidence but the ones which involve dealing with customers require a lot more confidence. For example, if a salesperson is not confident enough then he will not be able to convince the customers about the product he/she is trying to sell.

2. On what occasions should children be encouraged? How?

I think children should be encouraged in those situations where they feel hesitant in doing something that is good for them. But also, the encouragement should be done to a certain limit, they should not feel like something is being forced upon them. For example, we can encourage children to learn something creative such as painting if they show interest in it. And to encourage them more, parents can take them to a museum so they can develop their interest further

3. How do you help children stay focused?

There are many ways in which children can be helped. First of all, one can provide them an environment which is free of distractions, like when they are studying, they should not be allowed to use cellphones. Another way to help them focus would be to teach them about meditation in which they have to focus on their breath or a single sound.

4. What challenges do young people face today?

Well, I think there are two main challenges that young people face these days. The first one is related to the mind and mental health, nowadays everyone is aware of the rise in depression and suicide cases among the youth. Another challenge faced by them is the ever-increasing competition in education or their professional lives.

27. Describe a time you got up early.

You should say

- When was it
- Why did you get up early
- What did you do after getting up
- How did you feel about it

- I normally sleep late, sometimes even as late as 1 AM or 2AM.
- As a result, I mostly wake up late as well.
- But recently I had to take an exam in Amritsar, which is about 100 kms from my hometown.
- The exam time was also quite early from 9 AM to 12:30 AM.
- I had two options, either I could have gone there one day in advance or I could have taken an early morning bus on the exam day.
- I decided on the latter because I didn't want to waste money on a hotel night stay.

- So a few days before the exam, I started sleeping a bit early and getting up a bit earlier.
- I wanted to get into rhythm before the actual day.
- I was worried that if I directly tried it on the exam day, I would fall asleep during the exam.
- On the day of the exam, I woke up at 4 AM.
- After finishing my morning chores, I did some last minute preparation.
- Then at 6 AM I went to the bus stop and caught the bus.
- I could have taken the 7'o clock bus as well, but I thought it would be better to reach in advance than risk getting late due to some delay on the way.
- During the journey, I went through my notes, one last time.
- After reaching, I called up my parents and took their blessings.
- My exam went really well and rather than feeling tired and sleepy ,I felt very fresh and relaxed.
- Getting up early was a very nice experience.
- It made me feel that I could do a lot more during the day than I did earlier.
- But it was not easy, it required a lot of willpower.
- I continued to get up early for a few more days, but gradually I fell back into my old habit of sleeping late and getting up late.

Follow-ups

1. Do you know anyone who likes to get up early?

Yes, actually both the parents like to get up early. My mother wakes up as early as 5'o clock. My father also wakes up quite early but not as early as my mother. As for my sister and I, we can sleep for as long as we are not woken up.

2. Why do people get up early?

I think the main reason for people to get up early is that they can finish their household chores before going to work. After coming back from school or work, it hard to finish them due to work tiredness and stress.

3. What kind of situations need people to arrive early?

I think people should always arrive early for formal commitments like interviews, office meetings and medical appointments. For other occasions like family meets, I don't think it is necessary to reach before time, but one should try to be on time.

4. Why do some people like to stay up late?

I think people who stay up late are generally those who like quiet and spending time with themselves. They feel that during the day, they get might disturbed, so they prefer staying up late and doing their work at night.

28. Describe an art or craft activity (example painting, woodwork, etcetera) that you had at school.

You should say

- What you made
- How you made it
- What it looked like

- and how you felt about this activity

- I studied in Saint Joseph's convent school Phagwara
- There were not many art or craft activities that I did at school
- However, every year an NGO in my hometown organised a painting competition in which our school used to participate.
- When I was in 10th, I was selected by my school to participate in that painting competition.
- I remember I was very excited.
- There were two more participants from my school.
- They were from the other sections.
- We were given an art sheet over there, but we had to bring our own poster colors and brushes.
- The theme we got to draw and paint on was global warming.
- Although the theme was announced on the spot, I was well aware of global warming as it had been taught to us in science classes.
- On the right-hand corner of my sheet, I drew a person cutting trees.
- Next to it, I drew a factory that was emitting smoke from its chimneys
- And next to it I drew a house with AC's fitted on all windows and two cars parked in front.
- These things represented the causes of global warming.
- On the upper left side, I drew mountains with melting glaciers, and water flowing down to the seas, to represent the rise in sea levels.
- In the lower left corner, I made a few flies and mosquitos with happy faces, depicting their happiness.
- They seemed unreal, but I wanted to convey that these insects are happy in the hot weather and these lead to diseases.
- Then I painted it all and named my painting – Global Warming – Causes and effects.
- I was very happy with my work. (m a k k a r %(#IELTS)
- My joy knew no bounds when my name was announced as the winner of the competition.
- My school principal told the whole school about my achievement in the morning assembly the next day.
- That painting is in the school corridor even today.

Follow-ups

1. What traditional handicrafts are popular in India?

India is a diverse country, and many handicrafts are popular in India. The Phulkari embroidery of Punjab, the ceramic pottery of Jaipur, the terracotta pottery of the South, the woven saris of Mysore, the woven carpets of Kashmir, the cloth puppets of Rajasthan are just a few examples of the handicrafts that are popular in India.

2. What do young people think of traditional handicrafts?

The young people of today are not much aware of the traditional handicrafts. They are children of the global village and they like modern things. However, many NGOs are promoting the handicrafts work in the remote villages and are selling them in modern outlets because of which the young people are becoming aware of these things and are in fact liking them.

3. Do people in your country send handicrafts as gifts?

Yes, people in my country gift handicrafts. They gift traditional paintings made on leaves and wood, embroidered bags and purses, and even articles made of wood.

4. What are the benefits of making handicrafts?

Handicrafts preserve the culture and tradition of the country. In addition, they bring out the creativity of people. Handicrafts also generate revenue for the country if they are promoted well and sold to tourists as souvenirs.

29. Describe a person who solved a problem in a smart way

You should say –

- Who this person is
  - What the problem was
  - How he/she solved it
  - And explain why you think he/ she did it in a smart way
- Everyone faces problems in life
  - Some people have a great presence of mind and can solve problems without panicking
  - Here I would like to talk about my aunt Paramjeet, who solved a problem in a really clever way
  - I remember it was about six months ago
  - My aunt and uncle had come to our place and my mother was preparing dinner for them
  - As my mother was putting salt in the cheese curry, the box of salt slipped from her hand and a lot of salt fell into the dish.
  - As my mother had not prepared anything else she started panicking because it was already dinnertime
  - My aunt came into the kitchen when she saw that my mother was looking troubled
  - She told my mother not to panic at all
  - She kneaded some dough and put 3 to 4 balls of dough into the curry
  - After about 15 minutes she removed the dough balls and asked my mother to taste the curry
  - There was no excess salt in the dish anymore
  - My mother would not have been able to solve this problem on her own
  - She had started thinking that the whole curry dish would have to be thrown and she would have to cook the dish all over again
  - But my aunt saved the situation, and nobody even came to know that the problem had happened
  - My aunt Paramjeet is a great cook, and she can fix her dinner for 20 people in just one hour
  - She also conducts cookery classes during the summer vacations
  - She is in her mid-forties but looks much younger.
  - Whenever anyone in our family faces any problem, they seek her help for a solution.

Follow-ups

1. Do you think children are born smart or do they learn to become smart?

This is a tough question to answer. Some children are innately more intelligent than others. However, I believe that with proper guidance children can be taught to be smart.

2. How do children become smart at school?

Children become smart at school by listening to the teachers, interacting with their peers, and doing their studies diligently

3. Why are some people well-rounded and others only good at one thing?

Some people are naturally curious to learn a lot of things and so they become well-rounded. However, others try to master one skill and become proficient in that.

4. Why does modern society need talent of all kinds?

Modern society needs talent of all kinds because everyone cannot be proficient in all the things. So, to have a harmonious society there has to be a mix of people with different talents so that they can work together for the benefit of the whole society.

30. Describe an exciting book that you enjoy reading.

You should say:

- When you read it
  - What kind of book it is
  - What is about
  - And explain why you think it is exciting
- I read a lot of books.
  - However, the very first book that I read is also one that I still enjoy reading a lot.
  - It is none other than the first book of the Harry Potter series, 'Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone'.
  - It was gifted to me by my mother on my 10th birthday.
  - Initially, I was really mad at her, because I wanted a recently released video game
  - She told me that she would get me the video game as well but if I gave the book a chance first.
  - So, I reluctantly picked up the book and started reading.
  - I read just 10 pages and I was hooked.
  - I remember I used the word unputdownable to describe the book to one of my friends, a few days later.
  - I started at 9 PM at night and I finally slept at 7 AM the next morning after finishing the last page.
  - Fortunately, it was the summer vacation or my parents would have taken the book away from me at night and made me go to bed.
  - Harry Potter needs no introduction - it is a story about magic, a story of good vs evil.
  - However, for me, it is also a coming-of-age story.
  - It is a story about a boy becoming a man.
  - Everything about the book is perfect, the world setting, the characterisation, the magic system.
  - More than that, the book isn't afraid of pulling punches.
  - When the protagonist falls into a pit, he doesn't come out unscathed, he gets hurt just like a normal human being.
  - Good characters die, they lose, the road to victory isn't a straight one.
  - Every fantasy book is about good vs evil, but the exciting books are those, where you cannot predict what would happen next and Harry Potter is one of the best examples of that.
  - And in the end, it would always be the book that got me into the habit of reading.
  - So, it will always hold a special place in my heart.
  - Even now I randomly pick up the book once a month and read two three chapters.
  - And I don't know why but there is always something I feel that I hadn't read before.

Follow-ups

1. Do you prefer books or movies?

I think movies can never capture the detail and the emotions that books can. So, I always prefer reading books to watching movies. But, then again, it's not easy to find time to read books. So, sometimes I still watch movies.

2. Do you think it is important to read the book before watching the movie version of it?

No, not really. Some movie adaptations are really good. A lot of my friends haven't read the Game of Throne series, but they still enjoyed the TV adaptation. Ultimately, it's the person's preference and availability of time.

3. Do boys and girls like the same kinds of books?

I have seen some differences in the magazines boys and girls read. For example, I have seen a lot of girls reading fashion magazines and very rarely in the case of boys. However, in the case of books, I don't think there is any particular difference.

4. What kind of books do Indian people like to read?

I think reading preference doesn't depend upon nationality. It depends upon personal preference and the book itself. For example, Harry Potter is famous all over the world, because it is a fabulous book. I think it was meant for children, but I have seen a lot of adults calling themselves Potterheads.

31. Describe a cafe you like to visit.

You should say -

- Where it is
  - What kinds of food and drinks it serves
  - What do you do there
  - And explain why you like to go there
- One of my maternal aunts lives in Delhi.
  - During summer vacations, me and my sister visit her and spend some days there.
  - Her house is just next to the famous authentic Indian traditional cafe, Indian Coffee House.
  - It was one of the first few cafes set up in Delhi, during the British times.
  - It is quite different from the cafe chains of today like Barista, Cafe Coffee Day, and Starbucks.
  - Unlike them, it doesn't offer a wide variety of coffee like lattes, cappuccino, mochas.
  - In fact, they have a very short menu.
  - There are just two coffees- hot and cold.
  - Besides that, they offer tea and some fresh juices.
  - In snacks again- they have limited options four or five options.
  - But I remember just one- which is the onion fritters.
  - Sometimes I drink tea and sometimes coffee, but I always order the onion fritters.
  - They are so yummy.
  - That is the main reason I go there.
  - Well, there is another reason- the cheap prices.
  - And although the prices have increased over the past few years, they are still very affordable.
  - Because of that, it can be quite hard to find an empty table.
  - In fact, sometimes I have seen people waiting in queue for an hour before they get accommodated.
  - There is also this charm about the place.

- The old design, the rickety tables, and chairs, the waiters dressed in traditional Indian attires, it is like a portal into the past.

Follow-ups

1. What kind of people would like to go to a cafe?

I think people who enjoy drinking tea and coffee are those that don't have time to make them or can't make them at home due to some reason. Certain people also visit to study there or work there when they are unable to do so at home.

2. Why do young people like studying in a cafe instead of at home?

I think it's because of the atmosphere. Moreover, there are so many distractions at home. Adults prefer cafes because they might be tied down by household chores at home.

3. Do old people like to drink coffee?

I think age has nothing to do with liking coffee or not. But I think drinking coffee does affect sleep as it contains caffeine, so people who have sleep issues do avoid coffee.

4. Do Indian people like to drink coffee?

We are a nation of tea drinkers mainly. But many youngsters and teenagers like to drink coffee too nowadays. In my house as well, nearly all of us have tea, but only my sister and I drink coffee.

32. Describe a plan in your life that is not related to work or study

You should say

- What it is about
  - Why you have made it
  - What do you need to do first
  - And explain how you would feel if it is successful
- I have made many plans in my life
  - Most of them are related to my study or work, but here I would like to talk about the plan which is not related to my study or work
  - My plan is to learn French
  - I know Hindi Punjabi and English but I would like to add another language and the language that I have in my mind is French
  - It is a beautiful language
  - It is spoken in 33 countries
  - I plan to go to Canada for my higher education
  - I have heard that French is spoken in many parts of Canada
  - In fact, Québec in Canada is a Francophone area
  - If I go to study there then my knowledge of French will help me make new friends over there and communicate easily with them
  - I try to find some centres in my hometown which teach this language but I could not find any
  - So after I get the required bands score in my IELTS test I'll go and stay with my aunt and uncle in Chandigarh because there are many centres there where I can learn French
  - My father tells me that his maternal uncle knew eight languages
  - Because of his knowledge of different languages he could communicate with many foreign tourists

- He worked as a guide for them when they visited the golden temple in Amritsar
- Knowledge of different languages also made him more open-minded in his outlook to life
- My father tells me that he had many stories to tell when he used to come home in the evenings
- I would feel very good if I could learn French
- It might open up many job opportunities for me in the tourism sector
- But presently I do not want to learn this language keeping the job sector in mind
- I am just fascinated by this language and the culture of the people of France. I have watched a couple of movies in French with English subtitles and I like those movies a lot.
- I think knowing a foreign language is a must to do well in the global village of today
- So, this is the plan I have that is not related to my work or study.

Follow-ups

1. Should parents make plans for children?

I think parents should make plans for the children till the children are not mature enough to plan something on their own. Parents should encourage children to take small decisions on their own like what clothes to wear or what games to play but should always guide them so that they don't suffer.

2. When should children start to make plans for themselves?

Children should start to make plans for themselves once their schooling is over and they have to choose subjects for their career. Here I feel that children should decide based on their aptitude so that their interest in their studies is maintained and they do well at college or university.

3. What things should be planned on a daily basis?

Many things have to be planned on a daily basis, such as what clothes to wear what hobbies to pursue what program to watch on TV what outdoor game to play what to cook for lunch or dinner and what exercise to do to keep physically fit

4. Our plans always necessary? Can people succeed without plans?

Yes, I think plans are always necessary. These may be short-term plans or long-term plans. It is the plans made in our minds that keep us going and give us the motive to work hard. If a person doesn't have any plans in life, then he will not know how much hard work to put in anything. I believe that generally people who have a plan, succeed in life. Some people get success by sheer luck but that is not very common. Mostly people who have a vision in their mind and who have set a goal, succeed in life.

5. In general, how do people make plans?

People make plans according to their situation, by consulting their elders and also by realizing their own interests and hobbies.

6. For a person with children, what influence does this have on their personal plans for the future?

When a person has children, all his personal plans take a backseat, and the upbringing of the child comes first. All the personal plans become flexible and revolve around the needs of the family and children. I think this flexibility has a charm of its own.

7. Should parents set goals for children?

Parents are the best people to set goals for the children. They can help their children in setting goals.

They know the temperament of their child and so it is all right if they set goals for them, but at the same time, they should keep in mind the aptitude of the child and set realistic goals for him/her.

8. When do young children start to set goals for themselves?

Children start to set goals for themselves after completing senior secondary when they have to decide which college to join. But these goals are mainly in consultation with their parents. Once they start earning they start setting goals independently.

33. Talk about an article which you have read about health

You should say

- What it was
  - When you read it
  - Where did you read it
  - Why did you read it
  - Why do you think it was an interesting read?
- I read an article about intermittent fasting that I found very interesting.
  - I read it online on New York Times in December last year.
  - I have struggled with eating a healthy diet and keeping my weight in control.
  - I wanted to make a New Year's resolution for the coming year to follow a healthy lifestyle and adopt good eating habits.
  - I had winter break in December and had some time to do some research on healthy living before the Year 2021 started.
  - I went online and started searching for ways to lose weight and that's when I saw some articles on intermittent fasting.
  - One of them was from New York Times and that's the article I wanted to read.
  - I have always found news and articles from NY Times to be reliable and well researched.
  - The article explained that intermittent fasting meant fasting for 16 hours every day.
  - This can be done by eating dinner by 8 PM, skipping breakfast, and having the first meal at noon.
  - Also, people can start fasting for 12 hours and gradually increase to 16 hours.
  - This helps in losing weight as during fasting glucose gets depleted and our body starts burning fat for energy.
  - Before reading this article, I thought people only fasted for religious reasons and there were no health benefits to it.
  - I also thought that it was important to eat 3 meals a day and never miss breakfast as eating breakfast early boosted our metabolism.
  - The article also mentioned that other than weight loss, fasting every day also reduces the risk of many diseases like diabetes,
  - Alzheimer's and some cancers.
  - I found all this information very interesting and was intrigued. I began following this diet.
  - It was hard at first and I almost gave up, but I was beginning to see amazing results and that kept me going.
  - I am at my desired weight now and I am very happy that I came upon this article.
  - I have shared this article with so many friends who are trying to lose weight.

Follow-ups

1. Do you think people are healthier now than in the past?

I think people were healthier in the past. They had good pure food with no harmful additives, fresh clean air to breathe, better work-life balance, and more time for physical activities. Also, today there are so many fast-food options that people are eating junk food more than healthy home-cooked meals.

2. How can you tell whether a website is reliable or not?

One way is to check the URL and see if it's a trusted company, government agency, or a university. Another way is to double-check the information provided. If a credible site contradicts the information provided by a website, then that site can't be trusted.

3. What activities can school organize for children to keep fit?

Schools can organize fun sports events like sack race, relay runs, etc. to keep students active. Schools also need to add more physical education classes to their daily curriculum. They can increase recess time so that students get more time to play outside.

4. What can governments do to improve people's health?

- Provide people affordable good quality health care.
- Build more green spaces like parks, sports stadiums so that people have someplace to walk, exercise, and play.
- Tax junk foods, sugary drinks, alcohol, and tobacco.

34. Describe a time you were friendly to someone you didn't like

You should say:

- When and Where it happened
  - Who he/she was
  - Why you didn't like this person
  - And explain why you were friendly to him/her on that occasion.
- During childhood, I had a classmate, Rajesh, who was very full of himself.
  - He always used to make others feel like they were inferior to him.
  - That's why, during schooldays, I tried to avoid him as much as I could.
  - However, around one month before the final exams for 9th standard, he met with an accident.
  - He missed a lot of classes as a result.
  - So, after recovering, he asked a few of us if we could teach him what he missed.
  - No one in the class helped him because of his attitude.
  - The next day, my mother overheard me telling one of my friends how Rajesh deserved it.
  - After hearing this, she told me that regardless of his past attitude I should help him.
  - I was reluctant at first, but I listened to my mother.
  - I called him and told him that I will sit with him an hour after class every day till the exams.
  - During these study sessions, I got to know him better.
  - I got to know that rather than being arrogant, he was actually very humble.
  - He was just not a good communicator.
  - His choice of words was a major reason for him coming off as rude and arrogant.
  - He knew people didn't like him, but he was oblivious about the reason for it.
  - After the exams, I started inviting him to my home along with my other friends.
  - As they got to know him better, they also became good friends with him.
  - Till now, we are all good friends and meet each other often.

- Recently, I asked mom why she made me help him.
- She told me that it was the right thing to do.
- Helping our friends doesn't make us kind, helping people we don't like is the actual kindness.
- Because it is done without any real expectation.

Follow-ups

1. Why are people friendly with the person they don't like?

I think the main reason is that they do not want the person to know that they don't like him/her. People feel they might need a favour from the person in the future and if the person knows that they don't like him/her, he or she won't help them.

2. What kinds of people are usually friendly?

You may consider me naive, but I honestly believe that majority of the people in the world are really friendly. I also believe that people in rural areas tend to be friendlier than urban areas, but that is just because of the fast-paced and stressful life in cities.

3. What are the differences between being friendly and polite?

I think politeness is about words while being friendly is about our actions. I can decline something politely, but I wouldn't consider myself friendly if I did so.

4. What do you think about people who are always straightforward?

I think these people are actually the best people in the world for one can always expect an honest answer from them. However, I also believe that it is nearly impossible to be straightforward all the time.

35. Describe a time you bought something from a street or outdoor market

You should say

- When it was
- Where the market was
- What you bought
- And how you felt about it
- I am a shopaholic and I love to do shopping especially from street markets
- This is because I love to bargain and bargaining is not possible in big malls and stores.
- Here I would like to talk about an item I purchased from a street market in my hometown.
- Every Saturday there is a street market in the Model Town area of my hometown
- There are about a hundred stalls of all sorts of items
- I usually go there with my mother and look for all the new things that I can come across
- About two months ago I saw a stall with handbags of various brands
- I was surprised to see all branded handbags over there
- But when I went closer I noticed that they were not original; they were copies of famous brands like Michael Kors, Calvin Klein, and Coach.
- Every handbag was below thousand rupees
- The originals of the same brands start from about Rs.15,000
- One bag specially caught my fancy
- It was a copy of Michael Kors bag
- The seller told me that it is for 1000 but I bargained, and I got it for Rs.700

- It is a black bag and big enough to hold my 13-inch laptop
- Inside the bag there are three more bags - one for coins one for keys and one for sunglasses
- I found it a really good deal
- Ever since I bought it, I use it almost every day
- Only a true connoisseur can tell the difference between real and fake
- My aunt has a similar original Michael Kors purse, and she takes it out only on special occasions
- I feel happy that I can use my bag daily without having to worry about spoiling it
- Sometimes my mother also uses it when she goes shopping
- Although it is faux leather, it is very sturdy and looks like real leather
- So, this is the item I bought recently from a street market.

Follow-ups

1. What kind of markets are there in India?

India is a diverse country. All types of markets are out there in India. There are malls, supermarkets, outlet malls, street markets, and small street shops

2. Do you think small markets will disappear in the future?

No, I do not think small markets will disappear in the future because they have their own importance. One has to specially make a plan to go to these big malls which are outside the main cities. Small shops cater to the immediate needs of the people. So small shops small markets will never disappear although they might suffer a decrease in sales.

3. Have people's shopping habits changed in recent years?

Yes, people have started shopping online, and going to small markets and shopping malls has gone down. The recent COVID-19 pandemic has also given a big boost to online shopping trend and this change has come around only in the last year or two

4. What are the differences between shopping in street markets and big shopping malls?

In big shopping malls, the prices are fixed and there the people pick up things on their own and there is nobody to tell them about the products. However, in street markets, there is a lot of bargaining and the products are described in detail by the salespersons

36. Describe a time when you're waiting for something special that would happen

You should say

- What you waited for
  - Where you waited
  - Why it was special
  - And explain how you felt when you were waiting
- During the pandemic we all had to stay indoors
  - There were no social get-togethers
  - My sister had got engaged in 2019 and we were eagerly waiting for her wedding
  - My cousins and I had made plans for Sangeet, a ceremony with dance and songs
  - Suddenly, the government banned all gatherings.
  - My father suggested that we could have a quiet wedding in the court.

- The suggestion was neither acceptable to me nor the bridegroom's family
- My mother came up with an idea that we go ahead with the court marriage and later we could celebrate with all pomp and show.
- After the court marriage we waited for 10 months.
- Once the rules were relaxed, we all started preparing for the great day
- My father booked a marriage palace for the great event
- It was difficult booking the marriage palace because many people had been waiting for things to relax to celebrate their family functions.
- But somehow, we got the date after 15 days
- My cousins and I started preparing for the dances which we had to do at the wedding
- Those 15 days were full of fun and joy and we were rehearsing most of the time
- I even taught a few steps to my mum and dad so that they could also perform on the stage for a minute or two
- My sister also prepared a solo dance performance
- One of my aunts is a very good dancer and she choreographed all the dances for us
- Finally, the great day came, and I remember it was so full of merriment that everyone enjoyed
- Although the conditions had relaxed, we were still allowed only a fixed number of guests
- We shared the videos of the dances and the great party on social media.
- I remember many of our contacts were very angry with us later for not having invited them
- Ultimately, they all understood and realised that we were also bound by the rules and could not break them
- I only wish this pandemic situation goes away once and for all
- So, this was the special thing that I waited for eagerly

Another idea

- Well, I am a highly impatient person, and I really hate it when I have to wait for something for a long time.
- But today I would like to talk about one special occasion when I could have waited forever.
- It was during the last summer when my sister was blessed with a baby girl, and it was one of the best moments of my life.
- My sister was expecting her baby at the end of June, but I guess the baby had different plans and she was born in the first week of July.
- I was really excited about it because I was going to become an uncle for the first time in my life.
- As per the doctor's advice, we got my sister admitted to the local hospital on the 6th of July, and my niece was born on the morning of 7th July.
- I waited the entire night outside the hospital, and I was very excited and anxious at the same time.
- In fact, everybody in the family was curious whether it would be a boy or a girl, but I just wanted the baby and mother to be healthy as it was during the COVID period.
- My sister was in the labor room for almost 5-6 hours, which to me felt like an eternity.
- Finally, when we received the good news from the doctor, I thanked God and congratulated and hugged everyone around me.
- My dad and brother-in-law brought sweets for everyone, and we could see smiling faces everywhere.
- It was a special day because holding my niece for the first time and looking at how small she was brought tears of joy into my eyes.

- Also, my sister decided to name her Prisha, which means God's gift, and it was a name suggested by me.
- Prisha is one year old now and she has just started to walk.
- I love her a lot and the day she was born was one of the happiest days of my life.

Follow-ups

1. On what occasions do people usually need to wait?

I think that waiting is a big part of our everyday life, and we have to wait for many of the situations in our life. It could be when we are meeting someone, when we order food at a restaurant or when we need to travel by public transport. In general, if the situation or the task requires two or more people to complete it, then the waiting factor kicks in automatically.

2. Who behaves better when waiting children or adults?

I think adults have more patience when it comes to waiting because they are more mature and from their past experience they know that some things are worth the wait. On the other hand, children want everything with the click of a button and lack patience.

3. Compared to the past are people less patient now, why?

Yes, people are less patient nowadays because technology has made things a lot faster and convenient for people. People can now order food online and it is delivered to their homes in less than 30 minutes, so people expect that everything can be done faster. However, this is also making them impatient because if they have to wait for something which they feel can be done in less amount of time, then they start feeling uncomfortable.

4. What are the positive and negative effects of waiting on society?

From a positive point of view, I think that it helps to develop patience in people and society becomes more tolerant. When people are willing to wait for others, it shows that they care for them. From a negative perspective, I think waiting can have disastrous effects sometimes. For example, if we have to wait long for an ambulance, the consequences can be fatal. Secondly, waiting for longer periods in offices or other places can hamper productivity.

37. Describe a famous athlete you know

You should say:

- Who he/she is
  - How do you know him/her
  - What has he/she achieved
  - And explain why he/she is famous.
- I know many famous sportspersons and athletes but today I am going to talk about an Indian athlete who became famous just recently.
  - His name is Neeraj Chopra.
  - He won the sole gold medal for India in the Tokyo Olympics 2020 in the Javelin throw competition.
  - Nearly all the Indian news channels focused on him, after his feat.
  - That's how I came to know about him.
  - I came to know how his interest developed in the javelin throw.

- I learnt about the struggles he faced till now.
- How he narrowly missed qualifying for the Olympics in 2016.
- He could have scored a medal then as well.
- However, the narrow miss strengthened his determination to perform well this time.
- He said that he could have won a silver or a bronze medal the last time, but he might not have won the gold medal this time if he had won in 2016.
- Both the national government and government of Haryana, his home state, awarded him financial awards for his amazing feat.
- After listening to his interviews, I think that he has a great personality too.
- I have started following him on Twitter and Instagram.
- He actively posts about social issues.
- I think famous people have a responsibility to talk about social issues because it creates awareness and brings a change in the general public.
- I was very glad to know that he does that actively.
- He's a big philanthropist.
- He has donated half of his financial awards to charities, although he himself belongs to a poor family.
- Learning about him has made me think that there might be thousands of people, whose struggles and hard work die with them because they are unable to win a medal.
- I think the government must do more to make general people aware of them.

Follow-ups

1. What kinds of exercises do Indian people like?

Most Indian people are not very physically active. That is why there has been a drastic rise in diseases like obesity and diabetes in India. However, at the same time, many people in India go for a morning walk and do yoga.

2. What characteristics do you think an athlete should have?

I think the two most important qualities for an athlete are discipline and self-confidence. One cannot achieve success overnight; it requires regular hard work and that means discipline and discipline is not just restricted to exercise but also to diet. Moreover, in all sports and gymnastics, mental toughness is as important as physical fitness, if not more.

3. Why are there so few top athletes?

Because the journey to become a top athlete is full of struggles and obstacles. Although many people have the physical strength and fitness to reach the level, they don't have the mental toughness required to keep going. In fact, many talented people let go in the middle because they are unable to keep up with the daily struggles and challenges.

4. What's the best way to become a top athlete?

I think the first requirement to become a top athlete is to start early. Nearly all the athletes today are those who started when they were children. For example, Roger Federer started playing tennis at the age of 3. Then, it's all about willpower and dedication.

38. Describe a creative person whose work you admire

You should say

- Who he/she is
- How do you know him/her

- What creative things he/she has done
  - And explain why you think he or she is creative
- I think every person has some creative ability in him or her
  - Some people show creativity in the kitchen, some in their kitchen gardens, some people show their creativity in decorating their house, some people are creative in the drawings or paintings they do, and some show creativity in the way they dress up.
  - Here I would like to talk about a creative person who is my best friend Saloni's mother
  - Her name is Ramanpreet and she is in her early fifties.
  - She's always making something out of waste, things that we throw away.
  - Whenever I go to her house she's always making something or the other.
  - Saloni tells me that she never sits idle
  - She always has a project in her hands
  - She has made many things out of waste papers.
  - I've seen beautiful decoration pieces made of 3-D origami which her mother has made, and they look spectacular
  - I go to my friend's house very often and every time I see something new.
  - Last time I went she was making tote bags out of old clothes.
  - The tote bag she was making looked superb and was very sturdy
  - Her mother told me once that the making tote bags out of old clothes is in fact upcycling old clothes and not recycling old clothes because the tote bags are used almost every day.
  - She has gifted many tote bags to her relatives and friends, and everyone uses them every single day
  - Now that single use plastics have been banned everyone should get a tote bag while going to the market
  - I have also learnt many things from Saloni's mother
  - I used to admire Saloni for her creativity but I realise that all the creativity has come from her mother.
  - I think Saloni's mother is very creative because she can put just anything at home to use.
  - She has made flowerpots from old used bottles and oil cans
  - Her whole house is decorated with beautiful things and none of these have been bought from the market
  - All these things are the result of her mother's creativity.

Follow-ups

1. Do you think you are a creative person?

Yes, I am a creative person, but all my creativity is for myself only. Every day I creatively mix and match my old dresses and make them look new.

I also like to make pencil sketches out of my imagination and create different characters.

2. Is it good for children to learn arts?

Yes, it is very good for children to learn arts. Arts bring out their creativity and breaks the monotony of tough academic studies. Arts also keep children in touch with their culture and tradition.

3. What kind of jobs require people to be creative? I think all jobs require people to be creative.

If people are not creative then their job may become dull and boring after just a few days. If any job has to be done over and over again then some element of creativity has to be added to it. For example, an engineer needs to think of new ways to do things, the plumber needs to learn new things every day to make his work better and simpler, a carpenter needs to learn new ways of doing things that can add grace to his work, a teacher has to bring up innovative methods to teach so that children don't get bored

4. Do you think leaders need to have creative ability?

Yes, I think leaders need to have creative ability. If they are not creative, people then stop following them as they would appear boring to them, but if they add creativity to their work, to their talk, to the way they do things, then they will keep having followers.

39. Describe a difficult decision that you once made.

You should say

- What the decision was
  - When you made the decision
  - How long did it take you to make the decision
  - And explain why it was a difficult decision to make.
- I think each decision is difficult in its own way because we gain something and lose something when we make any decision.
  - And in today's world, I think making decisions is all the more difficult because of the increasing number of choices.
  - One of the most crucial and difficult decisions of my life was when I had to decide which stream to opt for during my senior secondary education.
  - I made the decision around three years ago after graduating from high school.
  - It took me nearly one month to make the decision.
  - I was confused because I didn't know what each stream entailed.
  - During childhood, I never had a fixed dream job like others.
  - Somedays, I wanted to become a doctor, then there was a phase I wanted to become an astronaut.
  - There was also a time, I wanted to become an actor.
  - Some of my close friends were taking non-medical.
  - So, I was also afraid that if I opted for some other stream, I would lose my friends.
  - Every person I asked for advice gave me a different perspective.
  - That was also a mistake I made, I asked too many people.
  - Now, when I ask for advice, I only ask a few of my friends and my parents.
  - Ultimately, my parents helped me make the decision.
  - They asked me to take a 2 day exam, which tested my aptitude for different fields.
  - After the test, they told me that I should consider only two things, my gut feeling and the results of the test.
  - I should ignore everyone else's advice and after making the decision, I should not regret the decision.
  - Ultimately, I opted for commerce, and I am really glad that I made that choice.

Follow-ups

1. What decisions do people generally make in their daily life?

We are always making decisions in our life. People make decisions about small things like what to eat, what to wear, when to do something, and what to watch. Our whole life is nothing but the millions of decisions we take every day.

2. Which is easier, making a decision by oneself or making a decision after a group discussion?

It is definitely easier to make a decision after a group discussion because we have the advantage of knowing different perspectives on the issue. However, I also believe that we should not get influenced by others and listen to our gut feeling when finally making the decision.

3. Why are many young people unwilling to listen to their parent's advice?

I think many young people think that their parent's thinking might be outdated for today's time. Also, in general, young people by nature have a problem listening to figures of authority.

4. Why do middle-aged people tend to second guess their decision?

I think second guessing has nothing to do with age. We all tend to second guess our decisions when it's a difficult decision and when we are not confident about the decision. I think the best way to avoid second guessing or rethinking the decision is to limit the choices and discuss it with close friends and family members.

40. Describe a habit your friend has and you want to develop

You should say

- Who your friend is
  - What habit he/she has
  - When you noticed this habit
  - And explain why you want to develop this habit
- My best friend is Saloni
  - She has many good habits and because of that my parents also like her a lot
  - One good habit that she has and I want to develop is that she does yoga every morning without fail
  - She gives half an hour to 1 hour every day to yoga
  - She tells me that if she misses yoga for even one day the whole day passes very bad for her, and she feels something is missing from her life
  - She does breathing exercises or Pranayam for 10 minutes and after that, she does some stretching exercises coupled with the yoga breathing
  - That is why she is very fit and well immune system is also very good
  - She does not normally catch the routine infections like common cold which I get very often
  - So many times I've tried to do yoga in the morning but I never seem to get up in time and my routine never builds up
  - For Saloni yoga is a way of life
  - She started yoga when she was in the ninth class
  - Actually, there was a sports meet in our school and the chief guest was a young lady doctor of our hometown
  - In her speech she said that she was in her sixties, but she looked far too young for her age
  - She told that she had been doing yoga for the last 30 years and she has never missed even a single day
  - She motivated every student to make yoga a habit.
  - Since then, Saloni started doing yoga and I just kept thinking that I would start the next day
  - For me that tomorrow has not yet come
  - I know yoga has many benefits.

- It is for the mind, body, and soul.
- It keeps the mind alert, improves blood circulation, lubricates our joints, and above all increases our immunity.
- However, now I am determined that I will start yoga and be regular with it.

Follow-ups

1. What habits should children have?

I think children should wake up early and sleep on time. They should brush their teeth twice a day, once in the morning and once at night. They should respect their elders, their parents, and their teachers. These are basic habits, I think all children must possess, but there are also plenty of other good habits, which parents should help children develop.

2. What should parents do to teach their children good habits?

I think the parents should incentivise children to develop good habits. For example, they can buy them a toy if they wake up early every day of the month. Also, children pick up a lot of habits just by watching their parents. So, if parents do something regularly, children would automatically pick up the habits on their own.

3. What influences do children with bad habits on other children?

I don't think bad behaviour is contagious. But I think parents should constantly monitor children to make sure they don't pick up any such negative habits. In fact, parents should not insulate children from such bad habits, because they are a reality in life.

4. Why do some habits change when people get older?

Habits change when people get older because of busy schedules and changes in priorities. For example, as people get older, they might not be able to find time to exercise regularly. Similarly, people might have to stay awake at night to finish work and thus they might not be able to get up early. In childhood, it is easier to maintain habits, because there is a lot of spare time. In my childhood, I used to read at least one novel a week, but nowadays sometimes I can't even find time to read one during the whole month.

41. Describe a bicycle/motorcycle/car trip you would like to go on.

You should say

- Who you would like to go with
  - Where you would like to go
  - When you would like to go
  - And explain why would you like to go by bicycle/motorcycle/car
- Recently, two of my friends went on a motorcycle trip to Leh.
  - Leh is a high-altitude city located in the northern Indian state of J&K.
  - A few years back, a movie 3 Idiots was shot there and since then, it has become a tourism hotspot.
  - My friends and I had also planned to go there by motorbike in 2020, but because of the lockdown, we weren't able to go.
  - It is about 500kms from our hometown and there is no train connectivity to the city.
  - So, our main option was to either go by motorcycle or to go by car.
  - The main reason for motorbikes was that it is the best way to enjoy the picturesque mountains along the way.

- Also, sometimes I feel nauseated when I travel by car in high altitudes.
- Finally, some of the mountainous roads are very narrow and it is very easy to get stuck in traffic jams if going by car.
- So this year, they finally went there.
- I was not able to join them this year as well because I was preparing for the IELTS exam.
- After coming back, they couldn't stop talking about the trip.
- They also shared the photographs and videos they took along the way.
- When they saw that I was feeling jealous, they told me that would love to go there again with me after the exam.
- There are still many things that they wanted to do but couldn't do because of lack of time.
- So, we have decided to go there, after my results are declared in another two weeks.

Follow-ups

1. Which form of vehicle is most common in your country, bikes, car or motorcycle?

I think both motorcycles and cars are very common. Most people prefer motorcycles for travelling within the city and when travelling alone, while they prefer cars when travelling to another city and when travelling with family.

2. Do you think air pollution comes mostly from mobile vehicles?

Actually, I used to think that. But, a few years ago I read an article, which said that vehicles are responsible for merely 10% of the pollution, and major air pollution is due to industries. Another major source of pollution in my area is the burning of crop residue by farmers after harvests.

3. Do you think people need to change the way of transportation drastically to protect the environment?

Like I said before vehicles are responsible for a very small part of the air pollution. So, I do not think radical changes are necessary in our way of travelling. But, I do think that the government needs to bring about a change by promoting electric vehicles and public transportation.

4. How are transportation systems in rural and urban systems different?

I think the density of population in cities makes public transportation like buses, trains, and metros viable in cities, while in rural areas it is too costly to operate them. In most villages, people mainly depend on their personal transportation.

42. Describe a place you visited on vacation

You should say:

- Where it is
- When you went there
- What you did there
- And explain why you went there

- About two months ago, my family and I went on a 4-day vacation to Jaipur.
- Jaipur is the capital of the Indian State of Rajasthan.
- It is about 700 kms from my hometown.
- Normally for such a long distance, we prefer going by air.
- However, this time we decided to go by car because of the covid situation.
- We mainly went there to attend the wedding of my cousin.
- But we decided to stay two extra days and visit the tourist attractions.

- The wedding ceremony was for 2 days and for the first 2 days, we never left the marriage resort.
- We all had a great time.
- Because of corona, my cousin's parents couldn't invite a lot of people.
- But because it was an intimate affair, we were all involved in the festivities.
- The next two days, we spent sightseeing and shopping.
- Jaipur has a huge cultural significance.
- It was the capital of one of the Rajput dynasties.
- So, it has many tourist attractions like Amber Fort, Hawa Palace, City Palace, Jantar Mantar, and so on.
- We went to all the above places except Amber Fort because that would have taken one whole day and we didn't have that much time.
- On the 4th day, we did shopping from the traditional shops of Jaipur.
- Actually, my cousin's friend had offered to take us shopping during the wedding.
- Being a local, he knew the best stores with reasonable rates.
- Because of him, we were able to buy unique Rajasthani jewellery and clothes.
- We also got some home decoration pieces.
- It was a really wonderful experience.
- I wish we had more days to spend there, but my parents had work commitments.
- If I get the chance, I would love to visit Jaipur again.

Follow-ups

1. What are some popular attractions that people like to visit in your country?

India is a huge country and it has a long cultural history. As such, there are a lot of tourist attractions that people like to visit. These include shrines, forts, parks, restaurants, and museums. Every place has its own popular attractions. In Punjab, the popular ones are Golden Temple, Science City Kapurthala, Rose Garden, Sukhna Lake, and so on.

2. Do old people and young people like to go to different places for vacation?

Both yes and no. There are places that both young and old people like to go to, but then there are also places which are preferred by the young or the old. For example, old people prefer going to religious places. Young people love to go to beaches and places with adventure sports, but old people are less keen on going to such places because it requires a lot of physical exertion, which their bodies might not be able to handle.

3. What do old people and young people think about when making travel plans?

I think old people care more about comfort. Their main purpose is to relax, while young people think about recreational activities like adventure sports. That is why there is a significantly higher proportion of old people on cruises.

4. How do people get to know about new places?

I think the internet is a vast hub of knowledge about places. There is information about each and every place on the internet. Then, people can also come to know about new places from their friends and family. I have also learnt about new places from movies and TV series.

43. Describe a good service you received

You should say:

- What the service was?
- When you received it?

- Who you were with?
- An how you felt about it?

- I am a shopaholic and I love to purchase things.
- Here I would like to talk about a situation when I received a very good service from a shop in a shopping mall in Jalandhar.
- Last month I went there with my cousins to buy some clothes for myself.
- I wanted to buy a pair of jeans and I had heard about this shop in Viva Collage, which sells jeans of all top brands.
- We went straight to that shop and the salesmen welcomed us with smiling faces.
- They started showing us various varieties and allowed us to try them on.
- We were very happy to know that Levis Company was offering a deal.
- We picked out the colors of our choice and happily made the purchase.
- Two pairs of jeans needed slight alterations in length, which they got done within an hour at no extra cost.
- We were very happy with their prompt service.
- Later on, we enjoyed ourselves at the mall and had lunch there at a food outlet.
- In the evening we watched a movie in the same complex.
- When I came home and showed my jeans to my family, they also liked them a lot.
- I refer that shop to all my friends and relatives because of their services.

(Another idea)

- I am a shopaholic and I love to purchase things.
- Here I would like to talk about a situation when I received a very good service from Dell company, which deals with computers.
- Last year I made an online purchase of a Dell laptop.
- I bought the latest version with an i5 processor and 500 GB hard drive.
- It was the first time I had bought anything online.
- When I received my laptop, I was very happy.
- It was very nicely packed and delivered to me.
- It came with a one-year warranty.
- It worked very well for the first ten months, but after that, it started giving problems.
- It would hang very often, and the battery backup became very less.
- Fortunately, it was within the warranty period.
- I called Dell Support and told them about my problem.
- They assured me that within 24 hours, their representative would come and do the needful.
- The very next day, their person came and checked my laptop.
- He replaced my laptop's battery and sorted out the other problems.
- He advised me to use the laptop with a cooling pad if I have to use it for long hours.
- I did not have to pay a single penny.
- I told my friends about this and they were also surprised at such good after-sale services.
- Now my laptop is as good as new, and I am not facing any problem.
- I would definitely recommend everyone to buy Dell laptops.

Follow-ups

1. What do you think of the relationship between companies and consumers?

I think both companies and customers depend upon each other. Without sales a company cannot succeed and grow and without good companies, people cannot get good quality products and services. Thus, it is not surprising that the leading companies in the world like Apple, Amazon also have the best customer service.

2. As a customer, what kinds of services would you expect to receive from a company?

I think companies should fulfil their promises most of all. For example, if companies make promises like one-day installation, then the promised work should be done within one day. In addition, if the product provided doesn't keep up to the standards promised, the company should apologise and reimburse the customers.

3. What kind of jobs involve coping with the public?

I think most service and sales jobs involve coping with the public. Services can be anything like car repair, product installations, healthcare services, teaching, etc. Similarly, although online shopping has reduced interaction, sales to a large extent still entail dealing with the public.

4. Why should companies react quickly when customers have difficulties?

I think it is important to proactively deal with customer's complaints and difficulties because it can harm the brand reputation of the company and in today's competitive era, brand image is paramount to success. In fact, it is also one of the major reasons why companies today are taking on social responsibilities.

44. Describe a businessman you admire

You should say

- Who this person is
  - How do you know this person
  - What kind of business this person does
  - Why do you admire this person
- There are many successful businessmen in my country, such as Anil Ambani, Mukesh Ambani, Ratan Tata, Vijay Mallya, and so on
  - But here I would like to talk about Mukesh Ambani.
  - He is in his late fifties and looks very handsome.
  - He has a degree in Chemical Engineering
  - He joined his father in Reliance Industries in 1981, at the age of 24.
  - He has a great vision and ever since he joined his company, he took it to new heights.
  - He set up India's first private oil refinery at Jamnagar Gujarat.
  - This refinery can produce 33 million tonnes of oil per year.
  - He made it possible for India to compete at the global level.
  - He also owns the domestic cricket club of IPL known as the Mumbai Indians
  - In 2012, he was ranked the richest man in India and the second richest in Asia.
  - He is the 19th richest man in the world
  - He has a net worth of 21 billion dollars.
  - He lives in Mumbai.
  - His house has 27 stories and is worth 1 billion dollars.
  - He lives there with his wife, Nita Ambani, three children, and a staff of 600 people.

- He believes that businesses should constantly innovate otherwise they will stagnate and wither away.
- He believes that the main purpose of businesses is to create jobs and wealth.
- And, he has successfully done so by his various industries.
- His achievements have made him known not only in India but across the globe.
- In 2013, he was conferred 'Entrepreneur of the Decade' by the All India Management Association.
- So, I think Mukesh Ambani is a very successful businessman of India mainly because of the way he managed his assets in the petroleum industry.

Follow-ups

1. What do you think should be the retirement age for men and women?

I think rather than based on genders, retirement age should be based on professions. In professions, where physical fitness is crucial, the retirement age should be on the lower side, while in office jobs, the retirement age could be more. In general, I think 60-65 years is the ideal retirement age.

2. What qualities do people need to run their own business?

I think the prime quality is financial management because ultimately the success of any business depends upon whether it is profitable or not. Besides that, people need to have good leadership qualities and they must be able to effectively delegate responsibilities. A lot of people who get anxious about delegating responsibilities are not able to grow.

3. What do you think are key factors that contribute to the success of a business?

I think many factors determine whether a business would be successful or not and the importance of factors varies according to the type of business. For example, a successful restaurant needs a good location, a good quality service, and tasty food more than anything else. In general, I would say if the business is providing a product that has a demand and only the particular company can provide it, it is going to be successful.

4. If you had the opportunity to open your own business, what would it be and why?

I am not very good with money management, so I think I would fail at running a business. However, if I had to start one, it would be a bakery. I love to bake, so for me, it would be following a passion rather than running a business. And I have heard, if we are truly passionate about something, it is hard to fail.

45. Describe a town or city where you would like to live in the future

You should say

- Where it is
- How you know about it
- What is it famous for
- And why would you like to live there

- Currently, I live in Phagwara. It is an industrial town in Punjab.
- I love living here.
- It is neither too big nor too small.
- Thus, it enjoys some facilities available in cities, but at the same time, it doesn't have problems like traffic congestion and pollution, which many big cities suffer from.

- Still, if I had the opportunity, I would prefer to shift to Chandigarh.
- Chandigarh is the capital of Punjab.
- If I had to characterise it, I would call it an administrative city.
- Chandigarh, unlike most Indian cities, was built after independence.
- It was designed by a French architect
- Thus, it is not haphazard like most Indian cities.
- That's the first thing I like about it, it's planning that is.
- The city is divided into sectors.
- The residential areas, the commercial areas, the industrial areas are all separate.
- In Phagwara, the commercial and residential areas are all together, and thus even at night it's very noisy.
- Another thing I like about Chandigarh is the greenery.
- It has many parks and the local authorities have planted trees along both sides of the road.
- It has one of the best malls and shopping centres in the country.
- In fact, one of Asia's biggest malls, Elante is in Chandigarh.
- It also has a good nightlife.
- Finally, Chandigarh is one of the best-connected cities in Punjab.
- It has a railway station, a bus station, and an airport as well.
- You can go on vacation for the weekend and be back for work on Monday.
- Shimla, which is a popular hill station in India, is just 3 hour's drive from Shimla.
- So, in the summers one can spend the weekend in the hills.

Follow-ups

1. Why do more and more people live in the city?

I think the main reason is employment. It is very difficult to find high-paid jobs in rural areas or towns. Another important reason is facilities. People have access to better education, healthcare, and entertainment facilities in cities.

2. How does this affect the environment and nature?

I think the growing urbanisation is leading to stress on the environment. The amount of waste and pollution being generated in cities is unsustainable in the long run. It has adverse consequences for human health as well. In fact, studies have shown that the life expectancy of people in urban areas is considerably less than in rural areas because of air pollution.

3. What are some factors that attract people to settle down in some places?

I think employment is the main factor. If there are employment opportunities in places, they would always attract people. Besides that, location and climate are also important. For example, the popularity of California is because of its pleasant climate. For some people, an important consideration is the quality of education their children can receive in the area. Many people even migrate to districts with better schools

4. What are the differences between the young and old when choosing a place to live?

I think young people today care the most about employment opportunities and entertainment facilities when choosing the location. They prefer places with a good nightlife, availability of malls and shopping centres. On the other hand, the old prefer living in places with good health care facilities. They also prefer safe neighbourhoods and cities.

46. Describe a foreign person who you have heard or known that ## you think is interesting

You should say:

- Who the person is
  - How do you know him/her
  - What kind of person he/she is
  - And explain why you think he/she is interesting
- I try to keep myself updated with the global news and events, and also about foreign personalities.
  - Today, I would like to talk about the Prime Minister of Canada, Justin Trudeau.
  - I've read about him online and also get to know about his work through the news.
  - I think he is charismatic, a very good leader, and an excellent speaker.
  - He was born in Ottawa, Canada on December 25, 1971. (Christmas night)
  - He was the eldest of the three children of Margaret Sinclair and Pierre Trudeau.
  - His father was the 15th Prime Minister of Canada from 1968 - 1979.
  - Justin Trudeau earned a bachelors degree in literature and then earned a Bachelor of Education degree.
  - He gained varied experience before he joined the Liberal Party in 2008.
  - He taught French, humanities, and math at a secondary school.
  - He also worked at a radio station and then was a part of the television mini-series, The Great War.
  - Meanwhile he also served as the chairman of a national youth volunteer organization (Katimavik) from (2002-06).
  - He won the 2015 and 2019 federal elections and is right now serving his second term as the PM.
  - I became interested in learning more about him when he visited India in 2018.
  - During the trip, he and his family wore Indian attire while visiting different parts of India.
  - When they visited the Golden Temple, they also served in the community kitchen.
  - I was really impressed by their efforts to learn more about our country and our culture.
  - Some of his notable achievements include assault weapons ban, advocacy of gender equality, and creation of a national childcare plan.
  - He has always been in favor of environment-related policies and has committed to reduce Canada's gas emissions by 30% by 2030.
  - He has also banned the use of single-use plastics and has also passed legislation for marine conservation.
  - During the COVID-19 pandemic, his government's response has been proactive and has been appreciated by other countries.
  - I feel he is a good leader and the world needs more such young leaders.
  - He is an inspiration and an example for young leaders worldwide.

Follow-ups

1. Do you have any foreign friends and do you think having foreign friends is a good way to know other countries?

No, I do not have any foreign friends yet. And yes, I believe that it is a good way to know and learn more about other countries' cultures and ways of life.

2. Do you think it's important to know the culture and language before going to another country? Yes, definitely. It is very important to learn about the culture and language of another country before visiting it. It doesn't have to be in-depth knowledge, but one should read about the culture and try to learn some basic vocabulary and sentences. Rest can be managed well with the various translation apps and other information available online.

3. What do you think of people who work in international companies?

I think it gives people good exposure when they work in international companies. They get to learn about the culture by interacting with people from other countries. The work environment and work culture is also usually different, and as a result, it can open doors for better work opportunities, anywhere in the world, in the future.

4. What abilities do people need to have when working in an international company?

Good communication skills, interpersonal skills, knowledge of the culture and language, being open to learning, and a cooperative attitude are some of the abilities that people need to have when working in an international company.

47. Describe an activity that you do after school/work.

You should say

- What it is
- When and Where you do it
- Who you do it with
- And how you feel about it

- Due to study pressure and long sitting, my life is very sedentary.
- Therefore, to keep me physically fit, I do yoga after school.
- I just started it two months ago, so right now I can only do the beginner level poses (asanas).
- But I am getting better day by day and I believe that I will be able to move on to the advanced ones soon.
- Actually, my mother used to do yoga when she was a child.
- So, when I was thinking about improving my physical fitness, she suggested that I try yoga.
- She also wanted to do it again and we thought because of each other's company, we would be more regular.
- Another reason for picking yoga was that it doesn't require any special equipment.
- We just had to order two yoga mats.
- We have a huge veranda in our house.
- We normally spread the mats there.
- However, when it is raining, we do it inside the house, in our living room.
- Typically, we do it for about 40 minutes, in the evening.
- And we try to do it at least 5 days a week.
- Yoga has changed my life considerably.
- I not only feel physically fitter but also mentally more composed.
- And it wasn't easy, in the beginning, I wanted to give up.
- The first week was especially tough and I had severe body ache and soreness.
- But by the second week, I felt a lot better.
- I think if it wasn't for my mother pushing me, I would have given up.
- Now, I am the one, pushing her.
- I really look forward to doing it.

- It has become a part of my routine and if I do miss it, I feel guilty somehow.
- I think everyone should definitely try yoga once in their life.

Follow-ups

1. Why do some people enjoy extreme sports?

I think the thrill of extreme sports comes from the risk involved. People know that they may lose their lives. Moreover, I think it's also about doing something that not many other people will try and do.

2. Are men more likely to do adventure sports than women?

I don't think it depends upon gender. Some people are just more adventurous. I think it does depend upon a person's economic status though. Adventure sports are quite costly and thus I feel rich people are more likely to do them.

3. What are some popular outdoor activities in India?

I think the most popular outdoor activities are sports and especially cricket. I think nearly all the youngsters in India play cricket. Besides sports, a lot of people also like to go for walk or jog. In fact, even in my neighborhood, most of the people go for a walk in the morning.

4. What do young people do in groups?

Young people do many things in groups, first, they go to shopping malls and cinema theatres. Also, many of the youth like to play outdoor activities and sports like cricket, hockey and so on. Another trend that is coming in big cities is going out and partying at clubs.

48. Describe a time when you tried to do something but weren't very successful.

You should say

- When it was
- What you tried
- Why it was not very successful
- And how you felt about it.

- It was my sister's birthday on 26th May.
- I am not very good at choosing presents, so I play it safe.
- She loves chocolate cake and so I order it for her every year.
- It is kind of a tradition in our house, that I will get a cake.
- No one even thinks about it or even asks me.
- However, this year due to the lockdown, all the bakery shops were closed.
- There is a famous home baker in my city, who bakes on order.
- So, next, I tried that, but unfortunately, she was swamped with orders.
- She told me she could not deliver the cake by the birthday.
- Now, I was in a real pickle.
- The only option was to bake a cake myself.
- And honestly, I am a horrible cook and I had never even done any sort of baking.
- But desperate times call for desperate measures.
- So, I opened YouTube and opened the beginner basics video for making a chocolate cake.
- I checked the ingredients and we had all of them at home except cream.

- I thought I could use milk instead.
- And needless to say, that was my first mistake.
- Nothing went right from that point on.
- My cake dough was runny instead of semi-solid like the video suggested.
- My icing tasted awful, probably because of the milk.
- I didn't even dare put it on.
- I spent nearly five hours in the kitchen, made a huge mess with flour, cocoa powder on all the shelves and the floor.
- The end result was a hard dense awfully tasting something.
- My mom told me that I should have asked her for help.
- I felt bad that I couldn't deliver but my family members just couldn't stop laughing.
- I think my embarrassment and the kitchen's condition made it even more amusing to them.
- It is now a running joke in our house.
- In the middle of any conversation, my parents or my sister randomly bring up the incident and start laughing.
- I think they are going to tease me for the rest of my life.

Follow-ups

1. What's your definition of success?

My definition of success is that, the outcome should make me and my family happy. I don't care what others feel or how others rate my performance, if I am happy with the results, I feel I have succeeded.

2. What things do children try to succeed in?

The main thing that children try to succeed in are sports competition and studies. Besides that, childhood is the time of learning skills, so children try to be successful in learning skills like riding a bicycle, learning to dance, and so on.

3. Which do you think is more important for people to become successful, handwork or opportunities?

I think both are equally important in some regards. There is no doubt in my head that rich people get better education and work opportunities, but the difficult and challenging circumstances during childhood make people from poor families more mentally strong. Ultimately, in the long run, it is about hard work, opportunities can open doors for people, but hard work converts these open doors into success stories.

4. Do you think people would be happier if they didn't have any goals to achieve?

I don't think a life without goals could ever bring happiness. In fact, it would lead to depression. People need goals in life not just for happiness but also to survive. Goals bring purpose to our lives and bring us something to look forward to.

49. Describe a piece of equipment that is important in your home

- How you got it (or, who, bought it)?
  - What you use it for?
  - How often you use it?
  - And explain why you think this thing is useful?
- There are many tools or equipment's in my house and I use them for different purposes.

- The tool I would like to talk about today is the vacuum cleaner that I use to clean the furniture, carpet and other places in my house.
- I clean my house 1-2 times a week and mostly on days off.
- Cleaning the whole house and the furniture is very time consuming and difficult.
- The vacuum cleaner that I use makes it easy specially cleaning the dust on carpet.
- The machine or equipment is very handy and I find it important to keep our house neat & clean.
- Our house is just beside the main road and that makes it more prone to dust.
- Before purchasing the vacuum cleaner, it was very tiresome and tough to task for us to clean the house.
- But this has become easier after we started using this tool.
- The vacuum cleaner is electronic equipment that requires the AC current.
- It is of Euroclean company and is blue in colour.
- It was for approximately 5,000 rupees
- It does dry as well as wet cleaning.
- It has different attachments for different purposes.
- It has a very nice attachment, which goes under the bed also.
- It is very useful for removing spider webs from the walls and ceiling.
- After plugging it in, I turn on the power switch and use the long handle that sucks all the dust.
- I place the front of the machine towards the dust and it gulps the dust and the dust-filled bags are later emptied in a dustbin.
- The vacuum cleaner is an important tool for me as it does an important task of our home.
- I remember, before we had the vacuum cleaner, keeping the house spic and span was a herculean task.
- My mother had the major brunt of cleaning work and she often suffered backache because of bending to mop the floor.
- Because of the vacuum cleaner, everyone takes turns to clean the house and that too happily.

Follow-ups

1. How do you think modern technology has changed the way we work (compared to the past)?
Modern technology has revolutionised the world of work. Today, we can do in minutes, what earlier used to take days. Maintaining ledger books has become a piece of cake. Automated machines are doing repetitive monotonous work and humans are enjoying a much more convenient life.
2. Do you think that operating equipment at work can ever have some bad effect on the body?
Yes. Operating equipment can have bad effect, if the persons are not trained to handle that equipment. Accidents can happen and people can lose their lives also if machines malfunction.
3. Do you think it's important for employees (in-industry) to be trained to use the equipment at work?
Yes, definitely. Training employees is very essential. Otherwise it can be very hazardous.
4. Do you agree that older people have difficulties in using (advanced) modern equipment? How can we help elderly people to use these modern devices?
Older people are not so techno savvy. They find it difficult to learn the functioning of modern

5. Are there any disadvantages of using modern equipment too much in the home?
Yes, there are. Young people are so engrossed in these that they forget that they should interact with other family members. People become so dependent on machines like dishwashers, washing machines and microwaves that all work comes to a standstill if these things do not work.

50. Describe someone older than you, whom you admire.

- Who this person is?
  - How you know this person?
  - What kind of things you like to do together
  - Explain how you feel about this person/ why you admire him/her
- Everyone admires creativity and creative people.
  - I know many people who are very creative.
  - Some can do wonders with paint and brush, and some can do wonders with needle and thread.
  - Here, I would like to talk about my elder cousin, Vineeta, who is very creative by nature.
  - She is 25 years old and is not very tall, but looks very beautiful.
  - She is fair complexioned, and generally likes to wear traditional Punjabi suits.
  - She has done her Masters in Home Science, and is good at many forms of art.
  - When she is in the kitchen, she can create new dishes.
  - Her way of presentation is also very good.
  - She is fond of embroidery and has embroidered many wall hangings and suits.
  - Once she gifted me a suit embroidered by her.
  - Whenever I wear it, I get many compliments.
  - She can also stitch all types of fancy suits herself.
  - Everyone in our family says that she has got magic in her hands.
  - I admire her a lot and try to learn many things from her.
  - Last Diwali, we made a Rangoli decoration, which was superb.
  - She didn't even need to draw the designs.
  - During college days, she participated in many youth fests and won many trophies for her college.
  - One niche in her house is full of awards and medals won by her.
  - She makes hand knitted sweaters, which look better than readymade ones.
  - She has made many crochet doilies to decorate the home.

Follow-ups

1. What can young and old people learn from each other?

I think young and old people can teach a lot to each other. Old people can use their life experience to teach young one's the important life values and lessons, whereas the youngsters can help the elderly by teaching them about the latest technological trends such as how to use computers and mobile phones.

2. Has old people's life quality improved when compared to the past?

Definitely yes, I believe there has been a significant improvement in the quality of life of the old people. With the advancements in the field of medicine, there are treatments available for old-age related ailments such as osteoarthritis, thus making their life more comfortable. Also, social media has helped old people to stay in touch with their friends and family who live far away, instead of living an isolated life as compared to the past.

3. Why is there a generation gap between the young and the old?

I believe there are two main reasons behind the generation gap. First is due to the change in priorities, while the elderly believed in working hard and saving money, the younger generation wants to work smartly and party hard. So, the elderly often think that the younger generation is not serious about life. From the perspective of young people, they often see the elderly as boring and have a perception that the old people are not ready to adapt to the changing trends in society.

4. What do old people usually do in their life?

I think old people do many things in their life but mostly it depends on their economic and social status. Those who can afford, love to travel, play golf, spend time in clubs and enjoy their retired life. Others usually like to stay home, read books, spend time with their grandchildren, and sometimes do a pilgrimage to famous temples.

51. Describe an argument two of your friends had?

- When it happened
- What it was about
- How it was solved
- How you felt about it?

- Arguments are a very common part of life.
- But I think most arguments can still be avoided.
- Recently, India faced the second coronavirus wave.
- As the numbers were rising, my friends and I were discussing whether a lockdown should be imposed.
- One of my friends, Ravi believed that a stringent lockdown was the only solution to bring down the cases.
- He was very adamant that lockdown should be imposed without any delay.
- However, one of my other friends, Vishal believed that lockdowns don't help.
- He said that lockdowns lead to huge loss to the economy and under no circumstances governments should go for a lockdown or a curfew.
- At first, it started out in a very calm manner.
- We were all discussing the issue, but eventually only they were the ones talking and we just sat there listening.
- They both started with facts and counters.
- As the argument continued, both of their voices went up.
- We told them to calm down, but at this point, they were so engrossed that they didn't listen.
- Eventually, they came down to personal attacks rather than talking about the need for a lockdown.
- Actually later we came to know that Ravi had lost his uncle due to coronavirus and he sincerely believed that he could have been saved if the government had announced a lockdown.
- Vishal was adamant because his family had suffered huge losses in the last lockdown.
- They had been both affected by the issue personally and that's why they were so emotional about it.

- In the end, we told them that their discussion would not have any impact on the matter so it was a moot point arguing about it.
- But, on that day, I also thought that it would be a very difficult decision for the government to take.
- The real end to the argument when the cases rose sharply and eventually the government was forced to impose a lockdown.

Follow-ups

1. Do you think arguments are important?
Yes, arguments are definitely important because they make us know about the other side of the issues. Arguments happen when we are adamant about something but at the same time, we fail to understand the other side. When we argue we learn about what others think.
2. What do family members generally argue about?
I think arguments happened over small issues like what should be made for dinner or what movie should be watched to big issues like how children should be raised, how should money be spent, marriage decisions, and so on. In case, there is a family business there may also be arguments on how the business should be run. In the end, family members can argue over anything and everything.
3. Is it easier for you to have arguments with your friends or your family members?
I think it's easier for me to have arguments with friends because after having the argument I get the time and space to think about the issue. So, after thinking about it I generally apologise if I think I am wrong or I just apologise for arguing even if I feel I am right. This ends the issue. On the other hand, with family, I don't get the space. So, sometimes the arguments continue for days.
4. Do you think people should change the way they think when they have arguments?
I think arguments happen because of two main reasons. Firstly, people are unable to control their emotions and they say things they wouldn't normally. Secondly, they happen because people have very strong opinions about something. So, I think instead of proving oneself right, people should definitely try to listen to other's point of view in arguments.
5. If two people argue, do you think a third person should be involved in the settlement?
Yes, I think a third person can bring in the much needed objectivity because the people involved in the argument become emotional about the issue. Sometimes a third person's involvement can bring a quick resolution, otherwise arguments can go on for days.
6. Why do you think people are stubborn and unwilling to change?
I think people are egoistic and they feel that they will lose if they listen to the other person. Moreover, they come to believe or practice something because of their past experiences and that's why they are emotionally involved with the issue.
7. Do you think you are stubborn?
Yes, I think it's one of my big drawbacks. I have very strong opinions about certain things and that's why I am stubborn. However, I am trying to change this part about me and listen more to others.

8. Will you be willing to change?

Yes, as I said before I am trying to change but it is harder done than said. It would take time but it is definitely possible.

52. Describe a natural talent you want to improve like sports music

- What it is?
  - When you discovered it
  - How you want to improve it
  - And how you feel about it?
- I think every person in this world has got a talent or two and few are born with many talents.
  - If I talk about myself, I am not a person of many talents but one talent that I may have a little is dancing.
  - There are many different dancing styles like breakdance, folk, hip-hop, contemporary but I like to do freestyle dancing.
  - Since my childhood, I have loved to dance at home, parties, or marriage functions but I have never learnt or performed professionally.
  - Until recently, it was my cousin's wedding and we thought of doing a surprise dance performance for him and his fiancé.
  - All my other cousins gave me the responsibility to choreograph the performance and also selected me as the lead dancer.
  - We selected popular songs with catchy beats for our performance and it turned out to be really amazing.
  - Everyone really liked us and appreciated our sweet gesture for the event.
  - One of cousin's friend who runs a dancing academy was really happy to see my moves and asked me from where I learnt them. When I told her that I have never learnt dancing, she suggested to me that I am really good at it and can even make a career out of it.
  - This is actually when I gave serious thought to her advice and had the realization that maybe it is a talent that I have.
  - I am now thinking of joining her dance academy to learn different forms of dancing and who knows maybe I would like to participate in a dancing competition one day.
  - I think dancing makes me feel really happy and relaxed.
  - It is also a stress buster for me and a great form of exercise.
  - I forget about all the worries while dancing.
  - It is an amazing experience.

Follow-ups

1. Do you think artists with talents should focus on their talents?
I honestly think that artists with talents should focus on it only if they are passionate about it because if we are not passionate about something then we are not able to sustain our interest in the particular activity for long. For example, the son or daughter of a famous musician might have innate talent towards music but if they do not have any interest in music they will never become successful musicians.
2. Is it possible for us to know the children who are 3 or 4 years old will become musicians or painters when they grow up?
I do not think it is possible to predict what a child will grow up to be in the future at such a young age.

Children at the age of 3 or 4 are very curious and show their interest in almost everything as they are discovering the world around them. It would be very difficult to identify that they will become an artist in the future or not, even if the child has some innate talent, as most of the parents do not pay much serious attention to what their child is doing.

3. Do you think parents feel guilty for putting too much pressure on their children?

Well, I believe parents do not feel much guilty for putting their children under pressure because they think that they are preparing their children for the challenges that the real world would bring in the future. Parents have the idea that putting their children under pressure will motivate them to push themselves harder and achieve the impossible in life.

4. Why people like to watch talent shows?

Honestly, I am not a big fan of talent shows but I think the primary reason why people love watching them is entertainment. The talent shows are full of entertainment which is based on reality as compared to the fictional dramas. People are able to relate a lot with these reality based shows and also they drive a lot of inspiration from such shows. The talent shows sometimes also show the struggling stories of the artists which a lot of people love to watch.

5. Do you think it is more interesting to watch famous peoples or ordinary people's show?

Well, I have a mixed opinion for this question as both the categories teach us different things. From famous people, we get to know the story behind their struggles, hard work, and how they became successful, which is very motivating but then sometimes I feel that famous people are pretentious and one never gets to know how they are in real life. On the other hand, ordinary people offer us the real side of humanity to which everyone is able to relate in many different ways, be it emotionally or how people actually live. Since many people are able to relate with this so they find ordinary people more interesting.

53. Describe a law on environmental protection

- What it is
- How you first learned about it
- Who benefits from it
- And explain how you feel about this law

- Laws are made by the government for the smooth running of society .
- Without these laws, we would be living in utter chaos and anarchy.
- There are many laws worth mentioning, such as - ban on smoking in public places, wearing a helmet while riding a two wheeler, law against female foeticide, and against cutting trees
- But here I am going to talk about a law on banning the use of plastic carry bags
- I came to know about this law from TV news.
- This law affects each and every person on Earth.
- In 2016, India banned the use of carry bags below 50 microns thickness, but it was not enforced well, because of a lack of alternatives.
- However, in June 2018, on World Environment Day, the theme was “Beat Plastic Pollution”, and so the government planned to be strict in the implementation of this law.
- Actually, this year, India was the global host of the World Environment Day.
- So, our PM Mr. Narendra Modi asked every state and Union Territory to launch a massive campaign against the use of plastics.
- Plastic in all forms, such as carry bags, drinking straws, and plastic bottles has been banned and strict fines are imposed on the violators of this law.
- Plastic is non-biodegradable and fills up our landfill sites.

- If burnt, it emits harmful fumes into the air.
- So, I think this is a good law and we all need to cooperate with the government by abiding by this law.
- We should make it a habit to carry our tote bags with us when we go shopping and refuse to accept plastic bags.

Follow-ups

1. Do you think this law is acceptable to the people?

Yes, I think this law has been accepted well by the people of India. There is growing awareness about the environmental issues and Indians too are making their efforts to save and preserve the environment.

2. Is there any situation wherein people may disobey the law?

Yes, there are situations when people disobey the law. The main reasons for such laws not being followed by the people are personal profits/benefits and the convenience that they may have to give up.

3. Do people like being a police officer in your country?

Yes, many people in my country like being a police officer. Every year there are several people who take the tests to become a police officer. The competition that exists for such exams is a clear indicator that many people strive to become police officers and serve their country.

4. What qualities should a police officer possess?

A police officer should possess many qualities. He/she should be physically fit and active and should have a passion to serve the people and the Nation. Some other qualities are honesty, eagerness to search for the truth and bring justice to people, some skills like martial arts or other such combat skills to fight the criminals, courage, fearlessness, determination, and many more such qualities.

5. Why some people prefer to be a lawyer?

Some people prefer to be a lawyer because they want to ensure that everyone receives justice and is treated fairly by the law. They may have a desire to fight for others' rights and ensure that everyone gets a fair chance to justify their actions. Some people choose this profession because of the prospects of earning money and fame.

6. Should people be penalized when they use mobile phones while driving?

These days vehicles are well equipped with a system wherein you can connect via bluetooth to your mobile and you can be handsfree and still use your mobile but if a driver is talking or texting on the phone while driving he should be heavily penalized.

7. Is kindness the most important quality of a police officer?

No, kindness is certainly not the best quality of a Police Officer. A Police officer has to be honest, straightforward, and very curious while performing his duty. Unfortunately, we cannot afford to be very kind as the criminals may take advantage of the situation.

8. Do you think both men and women can be police officers?

These days we are living in an egalitarian society so gender bias doesn't hold ground in any profession. Every man and every woman is worthy of any profession. So both men and women are equally capable of serving in the police department.

9. Do you think the police officers are paid too much?

I think in the Western world police officers are paid well in accordance to their duties but in the developing countries their salaries do not match the work they do, they deserve better salaries. But I do not agree that they are paid too much because they face too many dangers of life and limb while performing their services.

10. Do all Indian people obey the law?

Human psychology is the same everywhere in the world when the citizens know that they are going to be caught, penalized, put behind the bars, they will obey the law. A law well implemented is well obeyed. I think Indian people know they can find loopholes to save themselves, so they do not obey the law. I have come across very honest Indians and very dishonest people from other nations so the system that has to get strict.

54. Describe a puzzle (jigsaw, crossword, etc) you have played

- What it is like
- How easy or difficult it is
- How long it takes you to solve it
- And how you feel about it

- I think puzzles are a good way to challenge our brains.
- Ever since I was a kid, I have enjoyed solving puzzles.
- I was always very curious and even used to disassemble and reassemble my toys just to see how they worked.
- My whole family used to do the Sunday newspaper crossword puzzle together.
- I have also done many jigsaw puzzles and here I would like to talk about one that I did a few years ago.
- On my 18th birthday, my friends gifted me a 500-piece jigsaw puzzle.
- Before that, I had never solved a puzzle with so many pieces.
- 100 pieces was the maximum I had done before.
- The jigsaw design on the box had a beautiful landscape with mountains in the background and a lake in front of it.
- It looked easy but when I started doing it, I realized it had a lot of tricky repeating patterns and similar shapes and colors.
- It was very challenging and after spending 2 hours on it I was not even halfway done.
- I was glad I was doing it on a weekend and didn't have to go to school that day.
- I started getting frustrated and at one point I wanted to give it up.
- I took a 30-minute break and decided to get back on it.
- The break helped, and I could concentrate better and do it faster.
- I finally managed to finish it and in total, it took me about 5 hours to solve it.
- I felt a great sense of achievement.
- I was so happy and showed the finished puzzle to my family.
- I didn't want to break it apart and kept it on my desk for a few days.
- I redid this puzzle after a few months and finished it a little faster.
- I have bought many 500 and more piece's puzzles after that but instead of completing them in one day, I like to keep them on my desk and work 20-30 minutes on them every day.

Follow-ups

1. Why do parents let their children play puzzles?

Parents let their children play puzzles because they are very good learning tools and beneficial for their brain development. Puzzles keep their minds active and working. They help improve their concentration, their problem-solving skills, and finishing a puzzle brings them a sense of accomplishment.

2. What kind of puzzles improve people's intelligence?

Solving puzzles is good a way to exercise our brain and keep it active and sharp. Puzzles like Sudoku, Crossword, Jigsaw, Rubik's cube, etc. can improve our cognitive abilities and boosts our intelligence.

3. Why are detective stories attractive to people?

I think detective stories are so popular because it enables people to use their imagination and solve the mystery. Humans have the natural drive to solve problems and detective novels/movies let them do that.

4. Which do you think is better? A detective movie or its original novel?

I think original novels are much better. Novels don't have any time limitations and have more depth. Movies need to capture the entire novel in a few hours and some important parts/details get left out. Also, novels are mentally stimulating and engage the imagination more than movies as your mind must picture what's going on.

55. Describe a live sports match that you have watched

- What it was
- When you watched it
- What it was like
- And how you felt about it

- A Sports Centre has been recently inaugurated in MY city, and I had a chance to visit it last month.
- I came to know about it through the local newspaper.
- The Sports Center was inaugurated by the famous hockey player Pargat Singh and is named after the hockey legend Dhyan Chand.
- Many different sports such as soccer and hockey are played at this stadium and it also has professional coaching staff.
- One can go and learn different kinds of sports activities or just simply go and hang out with your friends.
- Since it opened, the Sports Center was on my must-visit radar.
- So, when I found out that The Chandigarh Tigers were playing Football in a friendly match on 20th August, I made it a point to buy tickets so that I could have fun at the new Stadium.
- I must say that when I arrived at the 10-hectare Stadium, I was swept away by the thrill and flurry that filled the air.
- There were football fans getting ready to come into the Stadium to support the Home team.
- There were diners, shoppers, families, and the curious ones – like me all enthusiastic and impatient to visit our fresh sports icon.
- The stadium comprises an extensive variety of venues, specifically, a 35,000-capacity stadium, 4,000-capacity Aquatics Centre, 1,500-capacity Sports Arenas, a Water Sports Centre, a Library, and about 25,000 square meters of trading and dining hall.
- What I found the most incredible was the sight of the city skyline.
- It looked glorious and everyone felt stunned at that moment.
- The greatest part about the new Sports Centre is how close the Stadium is to the shopping area.

- It took me just five minutes to get from the shopping centre to my seat.
- I felt pleased that I had the chance to visit this remarkable stadium and be part of history, watching the first ever football game played in the new Stadium of the city.

Follow-ups

1. Do you prefer to watch live sports or watch it on TV? m@kka|ELtS
I prefer watching sports on the TV. I think the Televisions have improved so much over the recent times that the experience is the same as watching it live. Moreover, the luxury of sitting in the comfort of one's house cannot be matched.
2. Why do some people like to watch live sports?
I think watching sports live is much more about spending quality time with friends and family. People go there to break the monotony of everyday life and do something different. For some, it is also about the possibility of meeting or getting an autograph from their favourite sportsperson.
3. What kind of sports do Indian people like to watch?
Indians are crazy about many sports like hockey, football, but I think nothing can come close to the popularity of cricket. I think nearly everyone watches cricket and many play it also. In fact, many Indians in foreign countries also play cricket even though the game isn't popular there.
4. Do you think competition is good for students?
Certainly, I think competition makes us students work harder. Life without competition would be very boring. Moreover, the growing population means that competition is only going to increase in the future, so it better for students to learn to handle competition from early childhood.

56. Describe an occasion when you were not allowed to use your mobile phone

- When it was
  - Where it was
  - Why you were not allowed to use your mobile phone
  - How you felt about it
- Cell phones have become an indispensable part of our lives
  - Today, we cannot think of a life without the cell phone.
  - There are many places, where the use of a cell phone is very disturbing.
  - For example, in religious places like temples, restaurants, and hospitals.
  - Here, I would like to talk about a situation when I was not allowed to use the cell phone
  - Last month, my aunt had come from the UK to spend a few days with us and do some shopping for her daughter's wedding.
  - We decided to go to the Golden Temple in Amritsar on the weekend.
  - I remember vividly, there was a long queue to enter the main building.
  - Our turn came after one hour's wait.
  - Just as we entered the main prayer hall, my phone started ringing.
  - Everybody turned to look at me as if I had committed a crime.
  - I had forgotten to turn my cell phone off.
  - There were notices all around that cell phones had to be turned to the silent mode before entering the hall.
  - I cut the call and immediately turned off my cell phone.

- I felt very embarrassed.
- There were so many people there but nobody's cell phone was ringing.
- After doing the circumambulation of the holy book, we came out.
- Then we went to the community kitchen, where food is served round the clock.
- After another one hour, we came out of the main building of the temple, and then I switched my cell phone back on.
- There were four missed calls from my cousin.
- I called her and told her why we didn't answer her calls
- She understood.
- So this was the situation when I was not allowed to use my cell phone.

Follow-ups

1. What is the impact of the cell phone?

I believe cell phones have both positive and negative impact on our lives. Due to cell phones we have instant access to information and also because of them we can connect with our loved ones anywhere, anytime. But at the same time if you think about the negative impacts cell phones have also become a great cause of stress in our lives. The need to always stay connected is taking a toll on our personal lives.

2. What is the smartphone used the most for?

I think, nowadays the smartphones are primarily used for accessing social networking applications such as Whatsapp, Facebook, and Twitter, etc. People also use them for official and entertainment purposes like checking office email or watching movies and playing games.

3. What is your opinion about selfies?

I believe selfies are one of the biggest trends of our era. People are not camera shy anymore and with the advent of front facing cameras on smartphones they are taking selfies for every occasion and at every place they visit.

57. Describe a piece of local news that people are interested in

You should say

- What it was about
- Where you saw/heard it
- Who was involved
- And explain why people were interested in it

- I am a person who loves to read the news all the time, be it on my phone or an actual newspaper in the morning
- I believe it is very important to be aware about things that are happening in the society.
- Most of the news that we read is related to politics, sports, healthcare, celebrities, or crime and mostly people are interested in news related to crime.
- So, today I would like to talk about a kidnapping and murder that happened in my city.
- It was around 20th December when a 5 year old boy was kidnapped from outside his house.
- The parents got a ransom call after kidnapping after which they informed the police.
- The kidnappers told the parents about the location where they had to drop the money on a particular date.
- The police had laid a trap to catch the kidnappers but they managed to run away with the money.
- When the news about kidnapping became public there were a lot of protests in my city as people become worried about the safety of their children.

- The front page of our local newspaper carried only the news about kidnapping as everyone wanted to know whether the young boy has been rescued or not.
- Sadly, 10 days after the kidnapping the police discovered the body of the young boy at the border of our city.
- I think almost everyone in our city cried for the young boy that day.
- The case was solved after 3 months when police were able to trace the mobile phone records of the kidnapper, who was a next-door neighbour.
- Later, he confessed to the crime and told the media that he did the murder because the boy had identified him as the neighbour uncle who had a big dog. He was scared to get caught.
- This was very sad news for our city.

Or

- I watch news channels such as AajTak and Zee News for the latest news, but here I would like to talk about a piece of local news that was very interesting for me.
- The news was that Gurdas Maan, a famous Punjabi singer is coming to my home town to perform for charity.
- He is coming on the 16th of next month.
- He will be performing in the Grand Cabana, a five star hotel in my hometown.
- I heard this news last Sunday, on PTC Punjabi news channel.
- I found this news very interesting because Gurdas Maan is my favourite singer.
- He is a multifaceted personality.
- He is a singer, actor, director, and a lyricist as well.
- He writes the lyrics of his songs himself.
- He has also acted in many Punjabi movies.
- All my family members also love his songs.
- When we go out anywhere together we play his songs in the car.
- All his songs have messages.
- He even performs in stage shows.
- He always has his tambourine in his hands when he performs.
- There is a village near my hometown where he comes every year and performs for charity.
- I went there last year.
- It was an electrifying experience.
- This time he will be coming to my home town.
- He is coming next month to raise some money for the rehabilitation of the youth of Punjab villages who have become drug addicts.
- I would like to meet him and get his autograph and thank him for the commendable work he is doing for the people.
- So, this is the piece of local news that I found interesting

Follow-ups

1. Do people read newspaper where you live?

Yes, people in my city love to read the newspaper. In fact, there are so many people in my society who read almost 2-3 newspapers every day. I guess the reason behind it is that the literacy rate in my city is one of the highest in my country. So, the educated people love to read newspaper so that they have some content to discuss with their colleagues or neighbours. Also, there is a newspaper publishing company in my city which is also the largest selling English daily in North India.

2. Do people prefer local or international news?

I think there are a lot of factors which decide whether a person would read local or international news. For example, because of Covid everyone is equally interested in both international as well as local news. People know about the development of vaccine and they also want to know about the number of Covid cases in their city. At the same time, if we leave Covid aside, then we can say that small businessmen or people from weak economic backgrounds are mostly interested in local news whereas those who are working for multi-national companies are more interested in international news.

3. Do you think it's important to have a national identity?

Yes, I think it's very important to have a national identity because it encourages people to understand the country they live in and work for the betterment of their country. Also, for countries which have gained independence, it helps the people to realize the sacrifices made by their ancestors and it teaches them to uphold those values.

4. How can people develop their national identity?

I think there are many ways in which people could develop their national identity. The first and easiest way would be to wear the traditional attires of their country. Secondly, they can wear pins of their flags or hoist the national flags outside their country. In my country the government has installed huge National flags in majority of the city centres and also they have established a law according to which our national anthem is played in the movie theatre before the screening of any movie.

58. Describe a tall building in your city you like or dislike

You should say

- Where it is
- What it is used for
- What it looks like
- And explain why you like or dislike it

- I live in the countryside and there are mostly single story-buildings here.
- So I can't really think about a tall building in my village.
- However, my family and I visit Ludhiana very often and it has a huge iconic landmark, the clock tower.
- We locals call it 'Ghanta Ghar'.
- The clock tower is at the entrance of the commercial centre of Ludhiana and a just a few kilometres to its east is Ludhiana's railway station.
- Today, it is a famous tourist hotspot.
- It is also a reminder of a colonial history as it was built nearly during the pre-independence times.
- The design reflects the traditional European Gothic Style.
- The building is made with red bricks but it is still striking among the colourful and vibrant marketplace.
- By today's standards, it would not be considered very tall.
- I think if I had to describe it, its height would be the same as a four or five-story apartment building.
- In the residential areas of the city, there are many 30-40 story buildings as well.
- But considering the marketplace nearby, which are just single or double-story, it stands tall.
- Today, the Ghanta Ghar is a hub of political activity.
- It is main location where political parties gather for protests.
- Unfortunately, as the streets nearby are narrow, this leads to traffic congestion.
- So, protestors are generally asked to move to nearby open grounds after some time.

- I like it because it is a reminder of our past.
- Moreover, the building has a certain charm to it. It looks beautiful and tall among the haphazard development around it.
- Many times when I go to Ludhiana to watch movies and for shopping, I meet friends there.
- So, it would always be important to locals and people nearby as a landmark.

Follow-ups

1. What are the advantages and disadvantages of living in tall buildings

I think the main advantage of living in tall buildings is better daylighting and air ventilation. It also offers a great view of city life. Finally, the upper floors are free from the noise of the streets below. On the other hand, the main drawback is the risk of disasters like fires and falling down due to earthquakes. Another thing I dislike is that it is a lot more time taking to enter or leave the apartments.

2. Do you think there will be more tall buildings in the future?

Yes definitely, as the land is becoming scarce especially in big cities. I think in the future it would be a luxury to live in single-storey or double storey houses and tall buildings would be commonplace.

3. Why aren't there many tall buildings in the countryside?

The simple reason is the availability of land. As there is a lot of vacant land available in countryside regions, tall buildings don't make sense. Moreover, people in the countryside are accustomed to spending times in open spaces and even if tall apartments are built in such areas, I don't think people would prefer living in them.

4. Why do some people like to live in tall buildings nowadays?

I think the main reason is that they are cheaper. Especially in bigger cities, the land is so costly that it is impossible for even the affluent to afford single storey or double storey houses. Moreover, tall buildings offer certain respite from the noise from the streets below.

59. Describe an occasion when many people were smiling

- When it happened
- Who you were with
- What happened
- And explain why many people were smiling

- A smile can brighten our day and lighten any situation
- In today's fast-paced life we are forgetting the importance of smiling
- Today I will talk about a situation when I saw many people smiling
- It was when I was travelling with my cousin to Chandigarh on a bus
- It was around a month ago
- There were around 50 passengers on the bus and of all age groups.
- People were doing different activities- some were talking to each other, a few were reading, children were busy playing games on the mobile phones and some were sleeping.
- After about half an hour into the journey, a passenger sitting in the middle of the bus started talking on the phone.
- He had a very loud voice and I could hear him even though I was sitting in one of the front seats.
- I couldn't help hearing his conversation because of his loud voice.
- Apparently, he was talking to his wife
- From his conversation, it seemed that he had forgotten about their wedding anniversary

- He was apologizing profusely to his wife and was saying that he was ready to buy her anything she wished for.
- That conversation lasted for more than 10 minutes before his wife finally accepted his apology.
- After the call ended, the person heaved a sigh of relief.
- My cousin and I exchanged a few smiles during that conversation
- And I happened to turn around and saw that everyone on the bus was smiling.
- Everyone on the bus had overheard his conversation and had enjoyed it.
- Even the person talking on the phone looked relieved and was smiling.
- Thinking about that journey still brings a smile to my face.
- I think that we should smile more often, like when we greet someone or thank someone.
- It can make someone's day.

Follow-ups

1. Why do people smile?

People smile because of many reasons. Some people smile to express feelings of happiness, gratitude, affection, etc. Starting our day with a smile helps brighten our day and other people's day too. Sometimes people smile to lighten a tense situation and sometimes it's because they remember a happy event or something funny.

2. When do people smile?

People usually smile when greeting others, when thanking others, while remembering happy moments, when enjoying with family or friends, when they receive good service, and many other such situations.

3. What's the difference between a fake smile and a true smile?

I think we can make out the difference between a fake and a genuine smile by the facial expressions, especially the eyes. When a person is genuinely smiling, even his/her eyes seem to be smiling.

4. Why do people smile when they take photos?

People smile when they take photos because smiles bring a charm to our face and make the photos more memorable and beautiful. Photos are reminders of memorable events and smiling faces bring back happy memories.

5. Who smiles more, men or women?

I think smiles have nothing to do with gender. People smile due to different reasons.

6. Do you think people should control their moods?

Yes, I think people should control their bad moods, as it can have a negative effect on the other people around them. It can spoil someone else's day.

7. Do you think people who like to smile are more friendly?

If I talk from personal experience, I couldn't agree more. My mother gets a lot of compliments about her infectious smile and she is one of the friendliest people I know. I think people find it easier to approach or talk to people who smile and thus they seem more friendly for sure.

8. Do people smile more when they are younger or older?

I think smile has nothing to do with age. Both young and old people like to smile. I think young people may be more honest about their happiness when they smile and it might not be the case with older people as they are certainly better at masking their true feelings.

60. Describe a time you saw something interesting on social media

- When it was
- Where you saw it
- What you saw
- And explain why you think it was interesting

- I think social media has become a very important part of our life nowadays.
- Among the different social media platforms, I use Instagram the most.
- One of my favorite Instagram channels is 10-minute crafts.
- I find this channel very interesting, and I am always waiting for their new posts.
- The channel posts about different arts and crafts which people can learn in under 10 minutes.
- I first saw this channel a year ago, during the corona lockdown.
- I had a lot of free time and I wanted to utilize my time doing something productive.
- As I was scrolling through Instagram posts, I came across one of their posts.
- In the post, they had taught about block painting.
- I am not good at painting but when I came across the painting technique, I felt even I could do it.
- It was very simple.
- I tried it and it came about really good.
- When my mother saw it, she decided to get it laminated and hanged it in the livingroom.
- I have been following the channel since then.
- Their channel has so many interesting posts about such projects.
- They show these really good-looking arts and crafts projects, which look like only professionals could have made.
- However, then they describe the simplest methods of making them below the project pictures.
- This is what makes their channel interesting to me.
- I think anyone can decorate their whole house, just by following their channel.
- And there is a different charm about decorating our house by objects we have made ourselves.
- I have recommended their channel to many of my friends and cousins.
- All of them feel that it is a gold mine.

Follow-ups

1. Why do people like to use social media?

I think the main reason why people use social media is to stay in touch with friends and family members. Another major reason is to keep abreast with the latest news and information. Last but not least, it is just a way to fill up spare time.

2. What kind of things are popular on social media?

Many things are popular on social media, but the most popular is to share pictures and videos about oneself. People also share the latest news and information they find interesting. Nowadays, even businesses have started using social media to advertise their products and create a name for their brand.

3. What are the advantages and disadvantages of using social media?

I think the main advantage of using social media is that it is very easy to access information, provide information and communicate via social media. It lets us make friends and keep in touch with old friends very easily. On the other hand, the main drawback is the lack of privacy and lack of reliable information. There are many instances where people have used social media to share false information for example, recently people spread misinformation about the harmful effects of covid vaccination, which caused a lot of hesitancy among people about vaccination.

4. What do you think about making friends on social networking sites?

I think it's not safe to make friends on social media because it's very easy for people to pretend to be someone else. I think we should rather use it to keep in touch with real life friends.

61. Describe an art or craft activity (e.g painting, woodwork, etc) that you had (at school)

- What you made
- How you made it?
- What it looked like?
- And how you felt about the activity?

- Art and crafts play an essential role in our life because they relate us to our traditions and cultures.
- They provide a way to stay connected with the roots of our traditions.
- Here, I would like to talk about an art activity, which I did at school.
- I remember I was in 10th standard when I did this activity.
- I participated in an International Art Competition.
- It was at district level and was held in my school.
- I participated with my friend Jatin in this competition and we were representing our school.
- We decided to make a painting which would give a message on a social issue.
- The main message of our painting was "SAY NO TO DRUGS".
- In this painting, I painted a cigarette crushing a person, which showed that humanity is in danger due to drugs.
- The size of the cigarette in this painting was very large as compared to the person to highlight the dramatic impacts of drugs on people.
- On the right side of the painting, my friend drew a large injection, which was killing a person, which showed that excessive use of drugs can lead to death.
- After that we drew a heading in bold letters on the top of the painting.
- The heading was "SAY NO TO DRUGS" which highlighted our main idea.
- After completing the painting we both were pleased to see it because it was looking very attractive.
- The painting was eye catching and our message was clear and loud.
- When the result was declared we were happy as we got second prize in the competition.
- It was a joyful moment for us, we celebrated our happiness by dancing on stage and everyone was clapping for us.
- I was feeling very happy as I gave a clear message to everyone to avoid drugs.
- It was a very good experience for me.

Follow-ups

1. What kinds of traditional handicrafts are there in your country?

Many kinds of traditional handicrafts are there in my country. The Phulkari of Punjab, the hand knotted carpets of Kashmir, ceramic pottery of Jaipur, terracotta pottery of South India, puppets of Rajasthan are all very popular handicrafts.

2. Should children learn more about art? / What are the benefits of making handicrafts?

Yes, definitely. Art brings about children's creativity. It develops their imagination. It also brings a respite from the tough academic curriculum. It adds some spice to their life.

3. Why do some people think it is difficult to understand art?

Some people say so because art is interpreted differently by different people. Secondly, everyone has his or her own interests. Some may like classical music, whereas others may enjoy folk music. Two painters may paint the sunset in different colours. Whatever the differences are, one thing is sure that art is important in our lives. Appreciation of art is the only thing, which makes us the superior most of all animal species.

4. What can we do to make young people pay more attention to traditional art?

We can organise youth festivals on traditional art. When young people will compete in these, their interest will be aroused. Teachers can also stimulate their interest by showing them such art through audio-visual aids. Media can show programs enriched with traditional art. Parents should see to it that all family functions and all festivals are celebrated interestingly in the traditional way.

5. Do you think it's important to cultivate an appreciation of art in children?

Yes, it is very important to do so. Children learn in a fun way from art. They develop their imagination and become more creative.

6. Do you think art should be included in school curriculums? Why?

Yes, definitely. Art should be there in the school curricula. Art brings about children's creativity. It develops their imagination. It also brings a respite from the tough academic curriculum. It adds some spice to children's life.

7. Have you attended any lessons about art?

Yes, there was a drawing period in my school. We learnt drawing and painting in that period. We also had Bhangra and Giddha classes before our annual functions.

8. What have you learned from these lessons?

I learnt a lot. I learnt about different shapes and how we could make many things from them creatively. I also learnt how new colours could be made by mixing colours. Yellow and blue makes green, red and blue makes purple, red and white makes pink and so on.

9. What do young people think of traditional handicrafts?

I think most young people including me really appreciate traditional handicrafts. However, I also believe that young people don't have the patience to do these traditional handicrafts as people did in the earlier times.

10. Do people in your country send handicrafts as gifts?

I think sadly most people don't have the time to make handicrafts. So it has become less common. However, there are many old people who gift handicrafts. For example, my mother hand knits a sweater for my granddad at the beginning of every winter season.

62. Describe a company where you live that employs a lot of people -

- What it does
- How many people it employs
- What kind of people work there
- How you feel about it

- I know of many workplaces in and around my home town such as industries, banks, and educational institutes
- Here I am going to talk about a workplace, which is in my hometown and employs a lot of people.
- It is the JCT mill, which stands for Jagatjit Cotton and Textile Mills
- It is on the G.T. Road
- This mill was established in 1946.

- The chairman of the company is Mr. M.M. Thapar
- My uncle works in the HR department of this Mill.
- He tells me a lot about the Mill.
- Many people, nearly around 30,000, work in this Mill and they are proud to be part of this Mill.
- The employer employee relation is very good.
- They provide many facilities to their employees.
- They provide housing at a very low cost to their employees.
- Their housing colony is called Thapar Colony.
- They also provide healthcare facilities for their employees.
- They have a school where the children of their workers can study free of cost.
- This school is affiliated to the Punjab School Education Board.
- The employees live in a world of their own inside the Thapar Colony
- There is 24 hours power supply.
- They give bonuses and perks to their employees from time to time.
- The Mill manufactures cotton fabric.
- Even big names like Raymonds and Siyaram buy fabric from here and sell it under their own tag.
- They have even started manufacturing organic cotton
- They also export their products
- Recently they started their readymade garment section in which they have mass production of Men's shirts under the brand name of Tyrock
- So, this is the workplace where many people work.

Follow-ups

1. Is it easy to find a job in India?

No, definitely not easy. India is a diverse country and has a population of more than 120 crores. Obviously, there is a lot of competition in getting jobs.

2. What should the government do if there is unemployment?

The government should encourage self-employment and also set up cottage industries, so that more and more people can be employed. MNCs should also be encouraged, so that the problem of unemployment can be mitigated.

3. Is a high salary important?

Yes, a high salary is very important. Money is of course the most important motivation to work. But sometimes, it is OK to get a job one loves, even if the salary is a bit less.

4. Is it ok to do a job you like with a low salary?

If I have to choose a job with a slightly high salary, but I don't like it, then I wouldn't do it and choose the job of my liking. However, if the difference in pay is very high, then I would go for that job even if I don't like it much.

5. Are there many big companies in your country?

Yes, there are. India is a fast developing country. There are many Indian companies, which are very big such as Tata, Mahindra, Godrej, Reliance, Onida, and so on. There are also many multinational giants which have opened branches in India, such as Samsung, LG, Maruti Suzuki, Hyundai, and so on.

6. How can a small company grow big?

Small companies can do so in many ways. They can work hard, employ skilled workers, focus on quality, and employ good marketing strategies.

7. Should big companies donate more to charities?

Yes, they should. I believe that anyone who has enough should help the needy on humanitarian grounds. Many big companies help NGOs and NPOs. This is a win-win situation for both. When they get publicity for their charity work, they are getting advertisement for free.

8. Should big companies be punished more seriously if they break the law?

No, they should not. Law should be the same for all – big as well as small companies. Usually, big companies have big connections. So, they try to get away with their wrongdoings. This also should not happen. Punishment should be equally serious for all law offenders.

9. What are the good things about working for a big company?
10. What are the differences between big companies and small companies?

63. Describe a quiet place you like to spend your time in

- Where it is
  - How you knew it
  - How often you go there
  - What you do there
  - And explain why you like the place
- It is very difficult to find quiet places in the fast-paced life of today.
  - However, I would like to talk about a place where I go quite often and I find great peace there.
  - The place I am referring to is a Sikh temple in my hometown, Gurdwara Sukhchainana Sahib.
  - I go there once a week, sometimes with family and sometimes with friends.
  - Sometimes we walk to the gurdwara, and sometimes we go by car. It is about 3 km from my home.
  - It is away from the main road, so it is very quiet there.
  - Whenever I go there, I do circumambulation of the holy book inside the main hall, and pay obeisance to the almighty.
  - There is a well-maintained fishpond in the gurdwara, which has many species of fish.
  - I just sit on the steps of the pond and listen to the holy chants going on all the time there.
  - It gives me great peace of mind.
  - Sometimes I take some bread from home and feed the fish.
  - There are two catfish among the other many, who seem to be talking to me.
  - I know it is all my imagination, but I love it over there.
  - I feel that the tempo of life has slowed down a bit.
  - It is so relaxing to watch the movements of the fish in the water.
  - This activity takes away all the physical and mental tiredness away from my body.
  - I feel very light-hearted after that.
  - Even though there is always a great rush in this temple, yet one can find peace and quiet over there.
  - Sometimes, I offer voluntary services in the community kitchen over there.
  - Free food is offered to one and all in the community kitchen and this service is round the clock.
  - I generally go there on weekends and spend a good two hours over there.

Follow-ups

1. Is it hard to find quiet places in cities?

Yes, it's very hard to find quiet places in cities nowadays because of increasing urbanization and cars on the street. I think that's one of the major reasons people go on vacations. Unfortunately, tourist spots are even more crowded.

2. Why is it quieter in the countryside?

The main reason is the lack of traffic and industries in cities. Moreover, there is a lot of greenery which absorbs noise rather than reflecting it.

3. Why do people go to quiet places?

I think the main reason is so that can think peacefully and concentrate on their work. Noise is distracting and it also reduces our efficiency.

5. Compared with young people, do old people prefer to live in quiet places?

I think both the old and young prefer quiet places but young people cannot enjoy the luxury of living in quiet places like the countryside as they cannot get good jobs there.

4. Why do some people not like quiet places?

Some people do not like quiet places because they want fun and frolic all around them. They want activity and noise all around them.

5. Do you know other quiet places?

There are many quiet places in the countryside. Many of my friends live in villages. Whenever I go to their homes, there is no noise of traffic, and you can hear the chirping of the birds and the rustling of leaves, which is very soothing to the ears.

6. Do you need a quiet place when you are working?

Yes, I do appreciate a quiet place when I'm working, but unfortunately, it is not always possible. So I've got used to some amount of noise around me.

7. Why do people like to spend time in quiet places?

People like to spend time in quiet places because sometimes they want to be with themselves, then they go to temples or quiet places, and feel relieved of their stress.

8. Do you know anyone who likes noise?

I have many friends who like listening to loud music. They say that it kills the background noise of the vehicle

64. Describe a time when you helped a friend

- When it was
- How you helped him/her
- Why you helped him/her
- And how you felt about it

- Helping others is a very good thing.
- I have given and received help many times.
- Here, I would like to talk about a situation, when I helped my friend in studies.
- When I was in 10th, my friend Rahul suffered a sprain in his ankle while playing hockey in the school.
- He was advised strict bed rest for three weeks.
- Our exams were very near and Rahul's mother was very worried that he would fail this time if he did not attend school.
- So, I decided to help him as much as I could.
- Every day after school, I would go to his house and update him with everything that was done in school.
- His mother was so happy with my efforts that she would prepare nice shakes or something to eat for me every day.
- Perhaps, that was her way of thanking me.
- I used to reach home very late, but when I told my parents the reason, they were OK with it.

- Then the exams came, and Rahul and I both scored above 80% marks.
- I realised that in helping him, I had helped myself even more. After this incident, Rahul and I became even more intimate friends.
- Last month Rahul took his IELTS and scored 7 bands and has planned to go for higher education in Canada.
- Because of Rahul, my parents have also decided to send me to Canada for my higher studies.
- Earlier they were reluctant to send me.
- When I helped him, then I did not know that it would have this far-reaching effect. looking after one's own interests.

Follow-ups

1. How do people usually help each other?

People help each other in many ways. For example, people help tourists by telling them about directions. People also help each other financially by loaning some money during tough times. In student life, intelligent students help others with their homework or studies during after school hours.

2. How is online help different from real-life help?

The main way people can help others online is by bringing attention of others to their ordeal. For example, many people got hold of oxygen during covid pandemic by raising SOS calls on the internet. People can also donate money to charities online, which can use them on the ground. I think the biggest difference is that we cannot directly help others online except if we transfer them money. However, the advantage is that people can help others online wherever they are located and they are not restricted by their geographical boundaries.

3. Should schools be responsible for teaching students how to cooperate?

I think both schools and parents should be responsible for teaching children about cooperation. However, the increasing competition in schools is sadly having an opposite effect and many students are facing issues in working along with others in their adult life.

4. What are the differences between help from friends and help from family?

I think the main difference is that in case of help from friends we feel more obligated to return it sooner or later, whereas in the cases of family we don't feel that need. We take help from family for granted, which is both a good thing and a bad thing.

5. Do you like helping others?

Yes, I do. I love helping others. I have realised it gives a lot of mental satisfaction and happiness.

6. Should parents teach helping others to their children?

Yes, of course. Parents are responsible for bringing their children into this world, and so it is their duty to make their children into responsible citizens of the future. Parents don't have to do anything special to accomplish this. They just have to lead by example. Children will automatically follow their footsteps. If all citizens are helpful and nice, then the whole world would become a nice place to live in.

7. Do you think nowadays people do more good work as compared to the past?

I don't think so. Life in the past was simpler and slower. People helped each other a lot. Now, everyone is in the rat race of money and materialism. No one has the time to help others.

8. Will you help others in the future?

Yes, definitely. I believe that we must do unto others as we want them to do unto us. If I will help others, only then I can expect help from others when I need it.

9. How do you encourage children to help others?

Nothing special is needed. Children are good observers and copy what their elders are doing. All you have to do is help others and they will automatically follow.

10. How do world social organizations such as Red Cross collect their funds worldwide?

They do so by advertising their work. They organise activities and involve young people in them. They also take the help of media.

11. Do small non-government organizations always need big organizations' help or can they collect funds themselves?

No, they do not always need big organisations help. If their projects are small, they can manage on their own, otherwise they can seek the help of their bigger counterparts.

12. Do you think people in India should help foreigners who are visiting India and who need help? (Why? / Why not?)

Definitely, yes. India is known for its hospitality and helpful nature. Guests are treated like Gods. Tourists are our guests. If tourists need help, they should be helped. They will take back happy memories and more and more tourists will flock in in the future.

13. What is the most important way for a country to help foreigners who are visiting the country? Foreigners can be helped by guiding them about our customs and traditions, so that they do not unknowingly hurt anybody's sentiments. They can be helped by providing them good and hygienic food, which suits their taste. They can be helped by not fleecing them when they buy some souvenirs.

14. Many people only look out for themselves and never think about helping others. What do you think of this attitude?

I think such people are very short sighted. They do not think that if they don't help others they will also be left alone when they need help.

15. Do Indian people help others who need help, such as people in extreme poverty? (How?) Yes, Indian people help others who are in extreme poverty. Some help directly and some help through charity organisations.

65. Describe a leisure activity near/on the sea that you want to try

- What it is
- What you need to prepare
- How easy or difficult it is
- And explain why you want to try it

- I prefer mountains to beaches.
- However, I am really keen on trying on some water sports.
- Recently my friend went to Goa and he enjoyed many water activities.
- However, he told me his favorite among them was canoeing.

- He actually made a video and it looked really fun.
- It is not a very common sport in India but one of beaches in South Goa offers it.
- However, not many people go there because there is no road connectivity to the beach.
- Canoeing involves paddling a canoe with a single bladed paddle.
- It is an ancient form of transportation but nowadays it is mainly a recreational activity.
- It requires a person to be fit as it is very demanding physically.
- And that's another reason why many people don't for it.
- But preparation wise it's just like riding a bicycle.
- It takes some time getting used to how to balance and direct the canoe, but once a person gets hang of it, it's very easy.
- Also, it can be dangerous if the waves are high, so not all beach locations are suitable for it.
- Besides canoeing, my friend tried a lot of other water sports but his enthusiasm about canoeing was uncontrollable.
- In fact, after coming back from Goa, all he talked about was canoeing and how he could not wait to go back and do it.
- His passion also got me interested.
- Then, I searched some more about it on the internet and I also felt like trying it.
- We both planned to go there in winter of 2020, because the summers in Goa are very hot.
- But due to lockdown we had to postpone our plans.
- Now, we are both waiting for the vaccination process to be over, so that we can go there.

Follow-ups

1. What are the advantages and disadvantages of vacations on the seaside?

Seaside vacations offer many benefits. However, the main advantage is the beautiful sights and the chance to try on some water sports. On the other hand, people can get heat strokes and bad tans if they spend too much time in the sun. Additionally, there may be accidents like drowning etc.

2. Why do children like the sea better than adults?

I think it would be wrong to consider that adults don't like the sea. For children, it's mostly about water sports. Children love doing water sports. Children can have fun and play around in the water without getting hurt.

3. What types of job positions can be found on or near the sea?

People can find jobs like swimming instructors, lifeguards, fishing etc. Moreover, people can also find work at seaside restaurants as there are many sea food restaurants on the seashore. Finally, seaside locations are very popular tourist destination so there are many hotels in their vicinity. So, these locations can provide jobs in the hospitality industry.

66. Describe a time when you shared something with others (or another person)

- What you shared?
- Who you shared with?
- Why you shared it?
- And explain how you felt about sharing it?

- We all need to share many things in our day to day life.
- I also share many things with my siblings and friends.
- Here I would like to talk about something I shared with my friend, Rohan.

- I shared my books and notes with him.
- It so happened that just 15 days before our +2 final exam, Rohan lost his whole school bag.
- All his books and notes were in that bag.
- He kept it in the school ground as he wanted to play cricket for some time.
- After the game, he could not find his bag anywhere.
- He looked everywhere and asked everyone who was there, but no one knew anything about it.
- Someone had obviously stolen it.
- Actually, he used to always stand first in class and his notes were very precious.
- He was literally on the verge of tears.
- I told him not to panic and offered to share all my notes and books with him till the exams.
- Fortunately, he lives in my neighbourhood.
- So, sharing all these books and notes with him was easy.
- Most of my notes were copied from his notebooks only.
- I realised that sharing things with others gives happiness.
- Sharing my notes with Rohan, strengthened our bonds of friendship.
- It helped me also.
- Because I had to share my books, I studied them within my time.
- Normally, I have a habit of procrastination.
- I always study for my exams at the 11th hour.
- But this time, I studied in time and was well prepared.
- We both passed with flying colours.

Follow-ups

1. Do you like to share?

Yes, I love to share. In fact, I shared my meals with all my friends at school. I also used to share my notes with my friends and classmates. It was a habit.

2. What are the consequences if children don't like to share?

I think it might be difficult for children to make new friends if they are hesitant to share. When children grow up, they might face even bigger problems. For example, when they are working in a company and they are asked to share their responsibilities with others. If they fail to do so, they might even lose their jobs.

3. How do you feel about sharing accommodations with others on campus?

I am open to sharing a house with others but I am not open to sharing my room. Also, in the case of house, it would depend upon the person I have to share the accommodation with. I would love to share accommodation with people with the same mindset.

4. How could parents and teachers teach young children to share?

I think parents could do this by actually making children share responsibilities and things at home. For example, young children should be made to share a room. Teachers can give group assignments and encourage children to work together. When they work together and depend upon each other, they would automatically learn to share.

5. Do people in your country (or, you) prefer to share public transport or do they (you) prefer to use private transport?

Well, it depends on the financial status of the people. Those who can afford, like to use their own private transport. Others prefer public transport. It also depends on the availability and comfort of public transport.

Ever since the AC buses have improved their frequency to Chandigarh, I prefer to travel on those than going by my car.

6. Do many people in your country share their home with others or do they mostly live alone? Most people live in their own home or live in a rented house. But they don't share their homewith anybody. Students share apartments if they study away from their hometown.

7. Do you think there are any advantages to sharing your home with other (non-family) people? If you can get along well with other people, then there are advantages. But if there are conflicts, it can be a bad experience. Advantages are that the expenses can be shared. So, it becomes cheaper.

8. Would you ever share your food with someone else? Many times, I have shared my tiffin with my friends. Yes, I would readily share my food with others.

67. Describe your favorite movie

You should say:

- When and where you saw it;
- What type of film it was;
- What the film was about
- And explain why it is your favourite film

- Watching movies has always been the prime recreational activity for Indians.
- But in the last few years, movies have graduated to a different level.
- They are not only entertaining but also full of substance.
- Last weekend my friend Param bought two tickets for the latest blockbuster Dangal.
- Although I was tired and wanted to relax for the weekend, yet I accompanied him on his insistence.
- This is a very inspiring movie.
- It is based on true incidents.
- The story revolves around the life of a sportsperson who has not been able to achieve his desired goals.
- He doesn't lose hope, and instead, he channelizes his energies in guiding and training histwo daughters, Geeta and Babita.
- The villagers don't support his idea, as they think that wrestling is not a sport for women.
- He doesn't let that bother him and continues to train his daughters.
- They do not succeed in the first attempt.
- But he encourages them and imparts rigorous training.
- Finally they bring laurels to the country in the Commonwealth Games.
- This is one of my favorite movies, as it is very motivating.
- I got goosebumps while watching the matches in this movie.
- It was like watching those matches live.
- It is not only a good example of modern cinematography but also a marvel in good direction.
- This is one movie, which I can watch again and again.

Follow-ups

1. Do you think (watching) films have (has) any educational benefits?
Yes, watching films has a lot of educational benefits. Some movies are based on events that actually happened. Historical films offer insight into how life was in the past. Movies expose us to various cultures. Documentaries provide educational benefits and are very interesting to watch. By watching

English films one can develop one's English language.

2. In what ways are documentary films and films only for entertainment different?

Feature films are mainly made to entertain the audience, whereas documentaries are meant to inform, to confront people with reality, and sometimes to promote a point of view.

Feature films are mostly fiction, and sometimes total fantasy. They may be based on real events or people, but the director and screenwriter do add some drama to it.

Documentaries are usually low budget, whereas feature films can cost crores.

3. Why do you think documentary films are not so popular?

Documentaries are not so popular, because they don't have big name actors and actresses, and also are low budget. So, they do not fascinate people.

4. How are movies and real life different?

Real life is very different from movies. Movies are mainly based on fiction, and even if they are based on real life, some element of drama is added to them.

5. Do men and women like to watch the same kinds of films?

Most women like to watch romantic movies, and family movies, while most men like to watch action movies. But these differences among genders are fast disappearing.

6. Do different age groups like the same kinds of films?

No, children like animation and cartoon movies, youngsters like action movies and sports movies, elderly people like historical movies and family movies.

7. Do you like any particular film star? Why?

I like Amir Khan the most because he's an actor par excellence. He lives his role. Recently in his movie Dangal, he actually puts on 20 Kg, because the character demanded it.

68. Describe a time you got lost in a place you didn't know about

- When did it happen
- Who was with you
- What did you do
- How you felt about it

- My sister and I have always liked going on road journeys.
- India is a big country and there are so many places one can visit.
- So, my parents used to take us to different places in India by car when we were young.
- One such time, when we were visiting Delhi, we got lost.
- Actually, we were visiting all the famous places in Delhi and eating out at all the renowned places.
- That's what we used to do on our road trips, especially the famous food shops, we never missed one.
- And there was this famous chhole-bhature shop, which was famous not only in Delhi, but all over India.
- Unfortunately, it opened at 5 AM for only two hours in the morning and it sold out in that time.
- To add to it, this place was about two hours from our hotel.
- So, we started during the night at 3AM, because both my sister and I didn't want to miss it.

- About two hours later, we were in the middle of nowhere.
- I don't know what happened, but I think somewhere my Dad took a wrong turn
- These were the times, when google maps weren't there.
- We couldn't just put it in google maps and find out where we were.
- The only ways to know about one's location and the direction was asking people and looking at road signs.
- And it was dark and foggy, so the roads were empty and road signs were not visible.
- At one point, my dad just got off the car and tried to find any landmark to make sense of where we were.
- But there was nothing but trees on either side of the road
- We were lost.
- So, we just sat there, for another hour for the sun to rise and for the visibility to improve.
- When it did, some people came out on the roads for morning walk and finally we were able to find out where we were.
- Fortunately, we weren't that far from the shop.
- We had just crossed it along the way by mistake.
- We went back and enjoyed the delicious chhole-bhature.
- If I had to describe their taste - I would just say they were worth getting lost.
- Even now, when I plan to visit Delhi, I always visit that place.

Follow-ups

1. Do you often get lost?

No, I don't often get lost. Nowadays applications like Google Maps have made it very easy and the people who use such apps seldom get lost.

2. Is map-reading skill important?

Yes, map reading skills are important because it gives you an idea about where you are and you do not get lost. Nowadays, apps such as Google Maps have made things easier and even people who do not have the skill of reading a map do not get lost.

3. Are some people good at map-reading than others?

Yes, some people are better at map reading than others. Everyone has different abilities. What is easy for one person may be difficult for the other.

4. Why some people like travelling to other places?

Some people like to travel to other places because they want to know about those places and the culture of those places. They are adventurous by nature and are curious to know about other people and places.

5. Should they find information about the place before going there?

Yes definitely, they should find information about the place before going there. It is important because, for example, if they know the weather of that place then they can pack the clothes accordingly. They can be well prepared about what to carry with them if they know what all they can do there.

69. Describe your first day at school

- Where it was?

- What happened?
  - Explain how you felt on that day
- I have been to two schools in my life.
  - My primary school was different from my secondary school.
  - I have vague remembrances of my primary school as I was too small then.
  - Here I would like to talk about my secondary school in which I studied from 6th to 12th class.
  - My school's name was SD Model Senior Secondary School.
  - I vividly remember I was very nervous on the first day.
  - This school was much bigger than my primary school.
  - I was afraid of getting lost there.
  - I was a little bit excited also.
  - I just walked inside with the other students and went where they were going.
  - I was a new face for them so many of them were staring at me.
  - I asked one student about where 6th class was.
  - Coincidentally she was also in 6th class.
  - She took me to her class.
  - That was the beginning of my new friendship.
  - Her name was Harleen and till today we are the best of friends.
  - She made me feel very comfortable.
  - All my nervousness vanished.
  - We attended the classes before the lunch break and during recess she showed me the whole school.
  - I was awed by the infrastructure of the school.
  - There were separate labs for physics, chemistry, and computer science.
  - There was also a huge library.
  - Badminton and volleyball courts were also there.
  - The canteen was the most impressive.
  - All the teachers were also very nice.
  - I studied for 7 years in that school.
  - Those were the most memorable years of my life.

Follow-ups

- 1. Do you think students should be taken to school by their parents or go by themselves?
Children in primary classes should not go to school by themselves. Either the parents should drop them or they should arrange a van or bus. Children in high school and secondary school can go on their own.
- 2. Should children rely on their parents or be independent?
Children should rely on their parents till they are studying. Once they complete their studies they should start earning and become independent.
- 3. How can children become more independent?
Children can become more independent if parents let them take small decisions on their own when they are very young. If parents allow children some freedom, then children can become independent very soon. It also depends on education and job. If children start earning, they can become independent very soon.

4. What is the effect if parents interfere with children's life too much?

If parents interfere with children's life too much, children either become rebels or withdraw into a shell and become introverts. Their personality is snubbed, and they cannot develop to their full potential.

70. Describe an aquatic animal

- What it looks like
  - When you saw it
  - Where you saw it
  - Explain why it is interesting
- India has a diverse animal life.
  - We have wild animals, domestic animals, and pet animals.
  - I am going to talk about an animal, which I find very interesting.
  - This animal lives in water but is not a fish
  - It is a mammal – it is the dolphin.
  - The first time I came to know about this animal was from the National Geographic channel.
  - This river dolphin is the national aquatic animal of India.
  - It gives birth to its young one and suckles to feed it
  - It cannot breathe underwater so it has to come to the surface to breathe
  - Even the little dolphin baby has to be pushed to the surface to breathe.
  - Dolphins feed on most kinds of fish such as the snapper and the tuna.
  - Dolphins are fast swimmers.
  - They search their way through the sounds they produce, which is called echolocation.
  - The dolphins' sound waves hit an object and the echo bounces back.
  - Most dolphins are peaceful and rather shy.
  - So far humans have proven to be of greater danger to dolphins than the other way round.
  - Marine dolphins are found in oceans and river dolphins are found in rivers.
  - Just like the tiger is our national animal and the peacock is our national bird, the Gangetic river dolphin is our national aquatic animal.
  - The Indian river dolphin is blind.
  - It is found in the river Ganges.
  - The female is about 9 feet long and the male is about 7 feet long.
  - Unfortunately, our river dolphin is on the verge of extinction.
  - But now the government has started taking steps to save it under the 'Project Dolphin'
  - Dolphins are important for maintaining the ecosystem.
  - Recently I saw a Hindi movie Ajooba in which Amitabh Bachchan is rescued by a dolphin and he considers the dolphin as his mother.
  - I came to know from that movie that dolphins are very intelligent and can be trained.
  - So, this is the aquatic animal, which I find very interesting.

Follow-ups*1. Why do people like to keep pets?

Indian people like to keep pets because pets are wonderful companions. Pets, such as dogs give you unconditional love. They also provide security. Some people keep pets in their homes to teach responsibility to their children. People who suffer from depression are advised by their doctors to keep pets.

2. What should we do to protect endangered animals?

We should help the governments and NGOs by contributing some funds, however small they may be. We should not do hunting and poaching of animals. We should educate those who are not aware of the importance of animals and the effects their extinction can have on us.

3. Do you support doing experiments on animals?

I do not support experimenting on animals, because nowadays, we can do computer simulated experiments to see the effects of drugs. We should realize that animals are not humans and so any effect on them may not be there on humans. Moreover, animals are sentient beings and should not be disturbed for our selfish motives.

4. Why do some people refuse to eat animals?

Some people refuse to eat animals on religious grounds. Some people just don't like the unnecessary killing of animals. They feel that plant sources can also provide them enough nutrients.

5. What would happen when some species disappear on earth?

It would disturb the ecological chain and would affect us directly or indirectly. We would also lose out on the diversity of nature.

71. Describe a bag you want to own

- What kind of bag it is?
  - Where you want to buy it
  - How much it will cost you
  - Why you want this kind of bag
- I have many kinds of bags like a shoulder bag, messenger bag but my favorite is a backpack and I would like to get a new backpack.
  - I would like to buy it from a good brand like Nike, Adidas or Reebok because they are not only durable but also very stylish.
  - There is a mall 20 minutes from my house and there are many shops there that sell these brands.
  - I would like to get a black waterproof backpack from one of these brands with two main inner compartments, 2 small pockets on the outside, and a side pocket for carrying my water bottle.
  - In the past, I have bought cheaper backpacks from local shops but had to replace them every 2-3 months because they broke down easily due to inferior material.
  - I mainly used them for carrying my laptop, books, and gym clothes.
  - My friend has a Reebok backpack and he has been using it for 2 years.
  - I feel that bags from good companies are expensive but last much more and so are worth their price.
  - Backpacks made by these brands usually cost between Rs 2000-3000 but occasionally they have good sales and offer huge discounts especially on older models.
  - I will wait for a good sale before I buy it.
  - I want to get a backpack because they allow me to be hands-free and comfortable.
  - I use a scooter for commuting and a backpack works well in this situation.

- Also, backpacks evenly distribute the load on shoulders and hips and don't put weight on one side of the body like a shoulder bag.
- As they don't put much strain on the body, they are easy to carry for hours.
- Backpacks also allow me to be more organized as they have a lot of separate compartments and smaller pockets.
- I can keep my keys and wallet in the easily accessible outer pockets and my books in the main compartment.
- Backpacks made from waterproof material can save my belongings from getting wet.

Follow-ups*1. Why do you think women like to buy bags?

Women like to buy bags because they are convenient and let them carry their makeup, keys, credit cards, etc. safely. Also, women consider bags a style statement and it helps them complete their overall look. Some women like to buy the latest in trend bags and coordinate their bags with their outfits.

2. Is the backpack practical in life?

Yes, backpacks allow you to be comfortable and hands-free. They don't put much strain on the body and can be easily carried for hours.

3. Why are some people willing to buy expensive bags?

Some people are willing to buy expensive bags because they are made from good materials and last longer. Some people buy expensive designer bags because they associate them with status and like to flaunt them in front of friends and relatives.

4. In the future, what changes will bags have?

Bags made from canvas, faux leather (vegan leather) will gain more popularity as more and more people will realize that mankind is harming animals to harvest leather.

Bags will also become more practical in the future and convertible bags that go from handbag to backpack to shoulder bag will be more common.

5. Why do children need to carry a uniform schoolbag?

Schools want all students to look the same and thus require similar school bags. Requiring everyone to look uniform leads to better academic performance and enhances student discipline. Children need school bags to keep their books and personal belongings in an organized manner.

72. Describe your favorite singer

- How do you know this singer
- What this person is like
- Do you think he/she is good?

- My favorite singer is the famous Punjabi singer Diljit Dosanjh.
- He is one of the leading artists of the Punjabi music industry.
- He has many talents. He is not only a singer but also a songwriter and an actor.
- He has acted in several Punjabi and Hindi movies.

- He has won so many awards in his singing and acting career.
- I love his songs and can't help playing them on loop.
- My whole family loves him and we listen to him in the car on our road trips.
- He is very stylish and has a very fashionable dressing sense.
- He has become a youth icon and many youngsters try to copy his style.
- He comes from a very humble, middle-class Punjabi family and has risen to stardom because of sheer talent.
- He was inclined towards music from a young age and used to sing in Gurdwaras.
- Slowly he started stage shows and it was there that he got noticed.
- He is a big philanthropist and donates money to many charities.
- In fact, he donates a significant part of his income from stage shows to charities.
- I have also been to one of his concerts in Jalandhar.
- Listening to him live was such a unique experience.
- He not only sang but also danced and interacted with the audience.
- I would love to attend another of his concerts.

Follow-ups*1. Do singers play an important role in your country?

Yes, singers play an important role in my country. They are an integral part of our culture and their songs are played in various ceremonies, weddings, and parties.

2. Do you think celebrities have a lot of income?

I think celebrities earn a lot of income but it is justified. They work hard and entertain us. They also sacrifice their privacy and personal space because of their popularity.

3. In your country, people prefer to listen to traditional music or foreign music?

In my country, the older generation still likes traditional music but the younger generation is influenced by the western world and prefers to listen to foreign music.

73. Describe a time you made a promise to someone

- Whom did you make the promise to
  - What the promise was
  - Why you made the promise
  - Was the promise easy to achieve
- Many people are pretty casual about making promises.
  - And it really irritates me, when people make promises/commitments, they have no intention to keep.
  - I don't make promises easily but if I do I try my best to fulfill them.
  - Last year, during the coronavirus lockdown, my parents made me promise that I wouldn't leave the house unnecessarily till the vaccine is released.
  - My paternal grandparents live with us and they lie in the high-risk category because of their age.
  - Moreover, my grandmother is also diabetic.
  - So, all of us were really worried about my grandparents catching the virus.
  - I am a very social person and before the corona days, I used to spend at least two to three hours with my friends every day.
  - I also spend a lot of time with my grandparents.
  - In fact, sometimes I sleep on the couch in their room.

- My parents were worried that I might catch the virus if I spend too much time outdoors and pass it on to my grandparents.
- So, I promised my parents that I would not loiter around and spend time indoors.
- It was very hard in the beginning.
- I felt so bored as I couldn't meet my friends.
- In fact, in the first few days, the only time I left the house was to get groceries.
- I was in contact with my friends on the phone and we used to pass the time by talking for hours on the phone.
- However, within two three days, I ran out of things to talk about.
- Every day was the same.
- I was also angry at my parents for making me promise to not leave the house.
- But in a few days, I came to know that one of my friends had caught the virus.
- From that day onwards, I stopped complaining.
- Things also became a bit easier as I developed some new hobbies like reading the news and playing indoor games like chess and carrom board with my grandparents.
- It's been nearly 10 months since I made the promise, and I am glad I made the promise.
- In fact, I think I am still enjoying the company of my grandparents today because of that promise.

Follow-ups*1. Generally speaking, do Indian parents make promises to children?

Yes, Indian parents often make promises to their children. The promises mainly involve buying new toys or expensive gifts for them or taking them on vacations if they score good marks in exams or behave well.

2. Do children also make promises to their parents?

Yes, children also make promises to their parents that they will study and not waste their time. They also promise to behave well in the absence of parents.

3. Do most people fulfill their promises?

Unfortunately, many people in India make promises that they know they know they can't fulfill or can't keep. For example, to meet at a particular time.

4. How do you feel when others break their promises?

It annoys me when people break their promises. In fact, in India promises are frequently made and seldom kept. I believe that we should not make promises that we cannot keep. We should think before we make promises.

74. Describe an art exhibition that you visited.

- when you saw this exhibition
  - where the exhibition was held
  - what was on display
  - and explain your impression of the exhibition
- When I was little, I went to a museum near my hometown to see a paintings exhibition.
  - It was a special one-time exhibition to commemorate the struggle of Indian freedom fighters.
  - There were paintings from many different artists including some world-famous ones like Rabindranath Tagore, Raja Ravi Verma, and M.F Hussain.

- However, all the paintings were on the life of Indian freedom fighters.
- Some of the paintings showed them with their families before they became involved in the freedom struggle and some paintings depicted them actively protesting or fighting against the British.
- I think this was intentionally done to highlight the sacrifices that the freedom fighters made for India's independence.
- Along with each painting, there were labels in Hindi and English describing the context of the paintings.
- When my parents told me about the exhibition, I wasn't interested, and I thought that I would get really bored.
- But after visiting, I remember thanking my parents for taking me there.
- One of the paintings, the hanging of Bhagat Singh, Rajguru, and Sukhdev had a long-lasting impact on me.
- I had read about this incident in my history textbook, but I didn't know that all of them were so young when they made this ultimate sacrifice.
- Moreover, I think reading about something in history books can never compare to the actual experience of seeing it in painted form.
- I came out with a newfound appreciation for India's freedom and the people who made it possible.

Follow Ups

1. Do you like art?
Yes, I like art. Art gives meaning to life. Art is what differentiates us from animals. I like all sorts of art. I like drawing and painting. I also like performing arts like music and dance.
2. Do you think art classes are necessary? (Why?)
Yes, I think art classes are very necessary. Art brings out people's creativity. Art preserves our culture and traditions.
3. How do you think art classes affect children's development?
Art classes affect children's development in many ways. Art brings out the hidden creativity of children. Art is a form of communication. People can convey their feelings through art, like through their paintings or through their songs.
4. What kind of paintings do Indian people like?
Indian people like different kinds of paintings. It is a matter of personal choice. Some people like portraits, some like paintings of landscapes, some like the traditional forms of painting and some like the modern art forms.
5. What can you learn from western paintings?
We can learn many things from western paintings, in fact from any form of art from anywhere. Sometimes it is related to a culture, sometimes it maybe someone's expression of their perspective, sometimes it's a social message and we can also learn about the types of material (canvas, paints, etc.) used to create that work of art.
6. What benefits can you get from painting as a hobby?
Painting as a hobby can bring out our hidden talent. Painting can relax us. If we have the talent, we can even sell our paintings and earn money. We can also gift paintings to a loved one.

75. Describe a time when you told your friend an important truth

- Who your friend is?
  - What the truth was
  - What your friend's reaction was
  - And explain why it was important for you to tell the truth to your friend
- I have often thought about the question that whether honesty is the best policy among friends.
  - Some truths are just very uncomfortable to tell.
  - And sharing such truths might also spoil or ruin friendships.
  - However, I also believe that the more uncomfortable the truth, the more important it is to tell them.
  - I am going to talk about a recent event when I told my friend Yatin something uncomfortable.
  - Yatin is one of my closest friends and I love spending time with him.
  - However, he has a bad habit that he sometimes talks very rudely with his parents.
  - Before the Covid times, we used to spend a lot of time outdoors.
  - I hardly visited his house.
  - But in the past year, because of the lockdown, we have been spending a lot of time at his house.
  - This is the first time, I noticed that his tone with his parents and especially his mother was very rude.
  - At first, I didn't say anything because I thought it was not my place.
  - But as I saw it happening regularly, I finally decided that I must tell him.
  - So, one day, I told him that he should talk nicely to his parents.
  - At first, he got very defensive and told me that they also talk rudely to him.
  - He also started listing my shortcomings like I am very bad at sports.
  - In short, he didn't take it well.
  - In fact, after that day, he didn't talk to me for a whole week.
  - But after a week, he came to me and thanked me for telling him to be nice.
  - He also apologized for not talking to me till then.
  - I feel that good friends are not afraid to share uncomfortable truths with each other.
  - Our friends' behaviors are partly our responsibility as well.
  - And in the end, I think our friendship is stronger because I told Yatin the truth.
  - He told me that because I was honest about it, he trusts me to guide him well in the future.

Follow-ups

1. Do you think we should tell truth at all times?

I don't think telling the truth at all times is a wise choice. I think if the truth does nothing but hurt a person, I think we should avoid telling the truth.

2. How do you know when others are telling the truth?

I think it is easy to tell how others are telling the truth from their facial expressions. For example, people start sweating or avoiding eye contact when they are lying. However, this might also be sweating due to other reasons and thus it is not easy to determine if people are indeed lying or just physically uncomfortable.

3. Do you think it is important to win the game or follow the rules?

I think the victory would feel hollow if people do not follow the rules. It would not feel that the victory was deserved. So, although the outcome is important, following the rules is even more important.

4. Sometimes people should tell lies. Do you agree?

Yes, I believe that if the truth serves no purpose but only hurts other people's feelings, we should avoid telling the truth. For example, telling a person just before a party that they don't look good in the dress would just make them uncomfortable and reduce their confidence.

76. Describe a skill that you can teach other people

- What it is
  - How you learnt it
  - How can you teach others this skill
  - How do you feel about this skill
- During the Covid lockdown, I was stuck at home.
  - So, I asked my mother to teach me 3D origami.
  - A few years ago, my mother had learned 3D origami from the internet.
  - She made these beautiful flower vases and swans with paper pieces.
  - They really looked beautiful and we decorated our house with them.
  - Every time someone visited us, they used to ask us about how we made them.
  - So, last year, I asked my mother to teach me 3D origami.
  - I had a lot of free time and so I practiced it.
  - 3D origami is not tough, but there is a learning curve.
  - It takes some time to learn how to fold pieces and give them the 3D look.
  - Basically, we fold papers making small pockets in them and the other pieces fit in these pockets.
  - Then, nearly any shape can be given to the pieces.
  - So, first I would teach anyone how the paper pieces need to be cut and how they need to be folded.
  - Learning how to give shape to the pieces is a lot about practice and experience.
  - I found this part very difficult in the beginning but now it seems very easy.
  - So, I would tell others to be patient and just keep experimenting.
  - There are also some YouTube videos, which have some ideas about different shapes we can make.
  - That's how I made my first few designs, but now I have started experimenting as well.
  - I am really proud of this skill.
  - I don't think I am an expert, and I am good enough to get compliments when someone sees the 3D shapes I made.
  - Recently, I made an airplane, and it was one of the most complex designs I have made till now.

Follow-ups*1. Should teachers be funny when they teach?

Yes, I think teachers should employ the use of humor while teaching. It lightens the class atmosphere and improves the relationship between students and teachers. In other words, students feel comfortable discussing their doubts and problems with the teachers. However, teachers must learn when to be strict, otherwise, it can impact the discipline in the classroom.

2. What qualities should teachers have?

Firstly, I think the most important skill that teachers should have is good communication skills. They need to understand how to teach in simple words. Secondly, they should be good observers. They need to be able to pick up the fears and anxieties students have. Only then they can build their confidence. Finally, teaching is about patience. Teachers need to be ready to explain the concepts again and again if their students are facing any difficulty.

3. Which do you think are more important practical skills or academic skills?

Practical skills and academic skills have their own importance. I think it depends upon the person's profession. If a person wants to be a teacher, a lawyer, or anything in academics, they need to be an expert in academics. However, in other fields like business, communication skills etcetera, are more important.

4. Which age group is the best age for learning?

I am a strong believer in the fact that there is no age for learning. We can learn anything at any age. And actually, I believe that we should keep learning new skills as it keeps the mind sharp and active.

77. Describe a time when you needed to use your imagination

- When it was
  - When you needed to use imagination
  - How difficult or easy it was
  - And explain how you felt about it
- There are a lot of situations when ingenuity has helped me tackle difficult situations.
  - A few months, I had gone to Jammu for an examination.
  - But, because of the fog, my train back home got cancelled.
  - So, I decided to travel back by bus.
  - The bus dropped me at my city's bus station at about 2 AM.
  - I had told my parents that I would be coming by bus, but because I had left my flashlight on, on my phone, my phone battery had died.
  - So, I couldn't call my parents to pick me up when I reached the bus station.
  - And because of fog, my parents also couldn't estimate when the bus would actually reach my home city.
  - So, I was forced to walk back alone at night.
  - At this time, I saw some strangers walking towards me.
  - I felt that their intentions were not right, and I was really worried.
  - At that moment, I used my imagination and took out the phone, and started talking loudly on the phone.
  - I knew that my phone was dead, but they didn't know that the phone was dead.
  - As they came closer, I started saying that I am just around the corner.
  - As they heard this, they moved back, and I used this opportunity to run a nearby 24/7 store.

- Once inside, I borrowed the phone from the sales clerk and called my parents to pick me up.
- The whole time my heart was beating very loudly.
- It was a very scary situation.
- On seeing my father and mother, I finally took a huge sigh of relief.
- My father told me that he was really proud of my presence of mind and a lot of people told me that they wouldn't have been able to think on their feet like I did.

Follow-ups

1. Do you think adults can have lots of imagination?

I don't think imagination depends upon age. Both children and adults can imagine things. The only thing is that children are not restricted by real-world knowledge in their imagination. So, children can sometimes imagine completely impossible things.

2. Do you think imagination is necessary for scientists?

I think all scientific discoveries are about looking at something from a new or different perspective. So, imagination is certainly important for scientists. Many would have seen an apple fall from a tree before Newton, but he was the first one to relate it to a force.

3. What kind of jobs need imagination?

I think the biggest field with needs imagination is science. Then, another field in which I think is being a fantasy author. A fantasy author basically puts down his imagination on a piece of paper. I think some of the famous fantasy authors like Tolkien or JK Rowling are some of the people with an endless imagination.

4. What subjects are helpful for people's imagination?

I think literature can be very helpful to develop imagination. I remember reading Alice in Wonderland was so exciting. It was my first time reading a fantasy novel and I just couldn't put it down. After reading each chapter, I used to think about what would happen next, and that in turn was nothing but exercising my imagination.

SPEAKING PART 1

INTRO QUESTIONS

1. First set of questions, asked to almost all students

1. May I know your full name?

My full name is Kiranpreet Kaur.

(Note: Full name means given name + middle name if any + surname. Mostly students will speak the name given in the passport, which may not have the surname. So, you must speak your full name in answer to this question)

2. How may I address you?

You may address me as Kiran.

(Note 1: Here you may even speak your nickname. It just means that while asking the next questions, the examiner will call you by that name.

Note 2: Many students start speaking their address here. Here, the word 'address' has been used as a verb, which means 'call'. In other words, the question is - How may I call you?)

3. May I see your ID?

Here is my passport. (Note: open the first page of the passport and show it to the examiner. You don't need to say 'Yes')

Yes, most of my school friends grew up in the same place.

14. Would you like to live there in the future?

Yes, I would like to live there in the future because it's a beautiful place.

5. Pets and Animals

1. What's your favorite animal? Why?

My favorite animal is the dog. They are friendly, adorable, and entertaining. They make very good companions and are always loyal to their owners.

2. What is the most popular animal in your country?

Dogs are the most popular pets in my country. Bengal Tiger is the most famous wild animal in India and is also our national animal.

3. Have you ever had a pet before?

Yes, I have always had dogs as pets. I love dogs and so does everyone in my family. Right now, I have two dogs Nora and Naughty. They are always entertaining me with their antics. Whenever I come home, they are very happy to see me and greet me with a wagging tail.

4. Where do you prefer to keep your pet, indoors or outdoors?

I prefer to keep my pets indoors. The breed I have is an indoor breed and they can get too hot or cold outside. Also, I treat my dogs like family members and would rather have them inside where I can keep an eye on them. They are very affectionate and follow us from room to room.

6. Headphones

1. Do you use headphones?

Yes, I use headphones. I use them mainly for listening to music, audiobooks, or when I am on a phone call in a crowded place.

2. What type of headphones do you use?

I just bought Sony wireless headphones from Amazon. They are convenient as I can keep my phone in my bag and keep my hands free. Also, I don't have to worry about the wires entangling.

3. When would you use headphones?

I would use headphones for listening to music when I am on the bus on my way to work. I also use them while working out at the gym. Sometimes when I have an important assignment, I use them to concentrate on my work and not get distracted.

4. In what conditions, you won't use headphones?

I don't use headphones when I am driving a car, bike, or motorcycle. They block out our hearing senses and can be distracting. I also don't use them when I am with friends and family. I think it's rude to use them while interacting with people and I should be paying full attention to them.

7. Shoes

1. Do you like buying shoes? How often?

Yes, I like buying shoes. How often depends on the type of shoes. I buy running shoes every year, dress shoes every 2-3 years, and regular everyday shoes 1-2 times a year depending upon my budget and if there is a good sale/discount.

2. Have you ever bought shoes online?

Yes, I like shopping online and have bought shoes online but prefer buying them in store. Buying shoes online is tricky as the sizing is sometimes wrong, but most companies offer good exchange policies for such situations.

3. How much money do you usually spend on shoes?

I spend 2000-3000Rs on shoes. I wait for good sales before I buy shoes. Most companies mark down their shoes quite a bit during sales and that's when I prefer to buy them.

4. Which do you prefer, fashionable shoes or comfortable shoes?

I prefer comfortable shoes. I have bought fashionable shoes before, but they make my feet hurt after 1-2 hours. There are shoes like sneakers which can be both comfortable and fashionable.

8. Public gardens and parks

1. Would you like to play in a public garden or park?

Yes, I would like to play in a public park or garden. I am an outdoor person and would rather play outside in a park with friends than video games on my computer or phone.

2. What do you like to do when visiting a park?

I usually go to the park to jog, play cricket or football with my friends. Sometimes, I like to just sit on the bench, read a book and enjoy the fresh air.

3. How have parks changed today compared to the time when you were a kid?

Yes, parks today offer many more amenities than when I was a kid. They have better playground equipment for children, well-maintained walking/jogging paths and some parks even have soccer/cricket fields.

4. Would you prefer to play in a personal garden or public garden?

I don't have a preference. I like to be outdoors and can do it either in a personal or public garden.

9. Apps

1. What apps have you recently used?

Recently I used an app to create a collage for my phone pictures called PicCollage. I wanted to get some photos printed for my room wall and created some nice photo collages with this app.

2. What kinds of apps are you usually interested in?

I am usually interested in gaming apps like Pokemon Go, Subway Surf, etc. Besides these, there are some apps I regularly use like social media apps, google maps, whatsapp, video streaming apps and shopping apps, etc.

India has a tropical climate, and many varieties of flowers grow here like Rose, Jasmine, Marigold, Lotus, Sunflower, Dahlia, etc.

2. Are there any flowers that have special meaning in India?

Lotus, the national flower of India is a symbol of purity and is considered auspicious in Hindu culture. Many Hindu gods and goddesses are depicted as sitting on the lotus flower or holding it in their hands. It is used for worshipping purposes and offered to deities in religious ceremonies.

Another example is Jasmine which is also considered sacred in India and is a symbol of love, purity, hope, and optimism. Jasmine garlands are used in Indian wedding ceremonies and many brides also wear it in their hair.

3. Have you planted any flowers?

I have planted many rose bushes in my backyard. They not only look beautiful but are easy to maintain and can withstand hot summer weather. I have also planted Jasmine flowers in containers on my front porch. They have a very sweet fragrance and I find it very relaxing to sit by them.

4. Have you sent flowers to anyone?

I send flowers to my parents on their anniversary every year. My mother is very fond of flowers and likes to put them by their kitchen window. I have also given flowers to my friend and relatives on special occasions like birthdays and weddings.

17. Barbecue

1. Do Indian people like barbecue

Yes, Indian people like barbecue. Traditionally in India, Barbecue is cooked in a Tandoor which is a cylindrical clay oven heated with charcoal or wood. This gives the food a smoky flavor. Mostly restaurants have big tandoors and at home, people use a small tandoor or grill. It is very popular in North India.

2. What kind of food do you like to eat for barbecue?

Tandoori chicken is my most favorite barbecue food. Chicken is marinated in yogurt and Indian spices and then cooked on skewers in the tandoor. I also like Naan which is like a grilled flatbread that is made by sticking the dough directly on the walls of the hot clay oven.

3. Would you like to have barbecue with your family or your friends?

I would like to have barbecue with both family and friends. I am very close with my family and most of my friends know my parents and siblings.

4. Did you have barbecue when you were a child?

When I was a child, we didn't cook barbecue at home as we did not have a tandoor or a grill. However, I remember eating it at restaurants and getting takeout from nearby food vendors.

1. Do you like to travel by car?

Yes, I like to travel by car. I find it very convenient and time saving compared to taking the bus. I have a scooter too but prefer taking the car especially during the hot summer days.

2. When do you travel by car?

I like to travel by car when I am going to places in my town or nearby cities (2-3 hours). For long journeys, I prefer the train to the car. The roads in many parts of my country are not in good condition, so car trip for long journeys is not safe and uncomfortable.

3. Where is the farthest place you have traveled by car?

The farthest place I have been to by car is Jaipur, Rajasthan. It was a very last-minute trip as my grandfather got very sick and we couldn't find any train tickets. My father and I took turns driving the car and reached there in about 12 hours.

4. Do you like to sit in the back or front when travelling by car?

I like to sit in the front row either driving the car or in the passenger seat. The front seat has a better view and I like to keep a watch on traffic even when I am not driving. I feel in control when I am in the front.

19. Relax

1. What do you do to relax?

I like to do gardening to relax. Gardening brings me closer to nature and helps me forget about the daily stresses of life. Tending to the plants, watering them, and watching them grow gives me joy. Even sitting outside in a garden after a hectic day brings me calm.

2. Do you think doing sports is a good way to relax?

Yes, doing sports is a good way to relax. The physical action involved in sports is not only beneficial for our physical health but also our mental and psychological well-being. When we play sports, our bodies produce endorphins that make us feel good. Also, playing sports helps us sleep better and gives us a chance to socialize with other players.

3. Do you think vacation is a good time for you to relax?

Yes, vacation is a good time to relax. Taking a vacation is a good way to unplug from work and other day-to-day activities. It is also a great time to spend with family and helps strengthen family bonds. It recharges our batteries and leaves us feeling refreshed.

4. Do you think students need more relaxing time?

Yes, students need more relaxing time. Students have a very packed schedule and stress is inevitable. More relaxing time in between classes or after school is essential for their mental health and well-being. It also makes them more productive and improves their focus.

20. Special Costumes

1. Do you like to wear special costumes?

Yes, I like to wear special costumes. I think they are very fun and allow us to show off our creativity. Also, Halloween has become popular in India because of our increasing exposure to western culture.

2. Did you try any special costumes when you were young?

When I was young, we used to have fancy dress competitions in my school. I remember one year I dressed up as a Robot and won second prize. My mother is very creative and made me the costume at home from aluminum foil-covered cardboard boxes. It was such a cool costume and all my friends loved it.

3. When was the last time you wore special costumes?

The last I wore a special costume was last year for my friends' birthday. My friend did a Bollywood-themed party at her house for her 18th birthday. We all had to dress up as famous actors/actresses. I decided to dress up as actress Kangana Ranaut and copied her look from the movie Queen.

4. Did you ever buy special costumes?

I have never bought special costumes. I like to create them at home using clothes and things I already have.

21. Wallet

1. Do you use a wallet?

Yes, I use a wallet every day to carry my credit cards, cash, and any important receipts or documents. Carrying loose cash and cards in the pocket or directly in a bag is not safe. A wallet also helps protect our valuables from getting wet in case it rains.

2. Have you ever lost a wallet?

Yes, one time I lost my wallet on the bus. I was going to college and paid for my bus ticket. When I got off the bus, I realized I didn't have my wallet. I tried to chase after the bus but was not able to catch up.

3. Have you ever sent a wallet to someone as a gift?

Yes, I gifted my father a wallet on his 40th birthday. I have seen using the same wallet for years. It was very old, and the stitching was coming apart. I knew he would never buy it for himself unless it was completely unusable. He was very happy when he saw my gift and still uses that wallet.

4. Do most of your friends use a wallet?

Yes, most of my friends use a wallet.

22. Primary School

1. What did you like to do the most when you were in primary school?

When I was in primary school, I loved to do Art the most. I think it was mainly because of my art teacher. She had a unique style of teaching and made it all so fun for us. She was also very patient, creative, and caring. She would tell us to draw from our hearts and would always appreciate our creations.

2. How did you go to your primary school?

I used to take the school bus to go to primary school. The bus stop was right next to my house and all my neighborhood friends would come there to take the bus.

3. How do you like your primary school?

I really liked my primary school. I made a lot of good friends there who are still my friends. Teachers were knowledgeable, helpful, encouraging, and made learning enjoyable. There were so many extracurricular activities to choose from like music, cricket, basketball, etc.

During leisure time we were encouraged to do some physical activities like playing cricket, football, or basketball with classmates.

23. Environmental protection

1. Would you like to work in a company related to environmental protection?

Yes, I would certainly like to work for an eco-friendly company that has adopted sustainable practices and gone green. Our planet is facing a lot of environmental problems like climate change, global warming, air pollution, water pollution, waste disposal, etc. Natural disasters like earthquakes, tsunamis, and cyclones have so become common in the past few decades. All companies and individuals must actively take steps to protect our environment.

2. How can we protect the environment?

There are many ways we can help the help environment and reduce our carbon footprint.

- 1) Use reusable cloth bags instead of single-use plastics.
- 2) Recycle and compost.
- 3) Unplug household appliances when you are not using them.
- 4) Plant trees.
- 5) Take local transportation instead of driving cars.
- 6) Bike to work/college if possible.
- 7) Use eco-friendly products.
- 8) Conserve Water

3. Do you think you have done enough to protect the environment?

I don't think I have done enough. There is so much more that I can do. I have started small changes at home like recycling, reducing food waste, composting, and not using plastics. One thing I need to do is to start car-pooling with colleagues instead of driving my car to work. I would also like to get solar panels for my house and energy-efficient appliances.

4. Is there education about environmental protection at school?

Yes, environmental education is part of formal education in Indian schools (it was made compulsory through a supreme court judgment in 2003). Children are the future, and they must be taught about environmental issues at a young age so that they grow up to lead an eco-friendly life.

24. New Year

1. How do you celebrate New Year?

I usually celebrate New Year with my family and relatives. We all get together at my grandfather's home and spend the day together. My mom and my aunts prepare a big lavish brunch. We play board games and watch a movie together. We go to the temple in the evening and have fireworks in the night.

2. Do you still remember a New Year that you celebrated?

Yes, when I was in 10th grade, we all decided to celebrate New Year in Goa instead of doing it at my Grandfather's house. We stayed at a resort in Goa which was right next to the beach. It was so relaxing to hear the ocean waves in the morning. On New Year's Eve, we went to a party on a ferry and celebrated the night dancing. I really want to do it all over again.

3. Do you have any ceremonies to celebrate the New Year in your country?

We don't have any New Year ceremonies on New Year's Day (Jan 1st). Youngsters mostly party with their friends and most people like to spend the day with their families. In many states of India New Year is celebrated based on the solar and lunar calendar like Baisakhi in Punjab, Pongal in Tamil Nadu.

I think both ways are equally good. Sometimes some words are learnt best by translation and some

6. Why don't some people know the language of the society they live in?

This is perhaps because they live in their own shell and don't intermingle with those people.

7. What do you think of children learning a foreign language?

I think children should learn a foreign language. It is very easy for children to learn a foreign language as they are very receptive and they are not hesitant about making mistakes. They also have a benefit of not knowing any other language too well, to make comparisons and assumptions about the difficulty of language learning. In this era of globalization, knowledge of a foreign language is very beneficial for a better career and a brighter future. It opens more avenues for the students for higher education and good jobs.

8. Why are some language classes boring?

Some language classes are boring because of the teaching methods used. If there no interactive and fun activities involved in teaching a language and only textbook teaching methods are followed, students become bored easily. Incorporating technology in classrooms, keeps the students interested in learning and they learn it easily. For example, there should be audio-visual means used.

9. Some students hate to learn foreign languages, what can teachers do to develop their interest?

Some students hate to learn a foreign language mainly due to lack of interest and uninteresting teaching methods used. Teachers play an important in developing students' interest. Interactive and fun activities should be included to keep the children involved and interested in learning. If students are taught only from text books and there is a pressure of examination, it leads to students becoming bored or disliking language classes. Teachers should also use contexts and examples to which the students can relate in their day-to-day life. If they understand how the language can help and benefit them, students would be motivated to learn that language.

10. Some people travel for learning a foreign language, what do you think?

I think that traveling is a very good way to learn a foreign language. It is true that the more we use a language, the better we get at it. So, if travel to a county/region where that language is used, we will interact more with the local people in that language and learn its nuances better. Also, language is related to the culture. If we travel, we learn more about the culture and can learn the language better.

11. What's the best way to learn a foreign language?

I think the best way to learn a foreign language in a classroom environment, from a teacher who has in-depth knowledge of that language. The teacher should preferably be a native speaker of that language or should have a high proficiency level in that language. It is very important to incorporate technology and audio-visual methods to teach that language. Also, travelling to that country/region where the language is spoken is also a good way to learn it. These days learning a language through videos and online classes has become very popular, as the students get a chance to interact with the teachers and also with native speakers of that language, through the internet. There are many apps also available, which can be downloaded on smartphones, which help learning a foreign language in a fun and interactive way. For example, the Duolingo app.

12. Why can some people learn languages fast white others learn slowly?

Some people learn language faster than some others because of the teaching methods used to teach them. Interacting more with the native speakers also helps with learning a language better and faster.

Also, there may be a motivating factor, like a job that requires them to learn that language, which makes people learn a language faster than others, who don't have any motivation behind learning a language.

13. Does one's age affect their language learning?

Yes, I think age affects language learning. I think the learning curve goes down with increasing age. Also, at an older age, people try and compare the new language they are learning with the language they already know. That may cause a hindrance in the learning of a language. People also become more hesitant about making mistakes and feel more embarrassed, at a later age, as compared to young learners.

Advantages for children to learn languages – Why it is good to learn languages at younger age

1. When children learn multiple languages at a younger age, they develop a lifelong love of communicating with others.
2. It is much easier to learn foreign language when young. At a later age it becomes harder to become fluent
3. Learning a foreign language helps a child's mind develop. Such children do better in other subjects. It helps their intellect to develop more
4. Learning a foreign language helps children to expand their knowledge of the world. They want to know about other people and other countries. They would want to understand them instead of being afraid of them.

Advantages for the adult learner of a foreign language

He has his own language to compare with the second language. So new terms or concepts are easily understood.

They have a strong motivation to learn a new language especially if it is connected to an employment opportunity.

Most adult learners have participated in study earlier, so they know what method of learning works best for them.

Yes, I love to watch films. I think it is a very good form of entertainment and gives us the much-needed break in our busy life. It is also a good way to spend quality time with friends and family.

2. Do you prefer foreign films or Indian films?

I like watching both, Indian and foreign films. I think that the Indian films keep us connected to our culture and roots and through the foreign films, we get knowledge about other cultures. Both are an equally good source of entertainment.

3. How often do you go to cinema to watch a movie?

I go to cinema to watch a movie quite often, at least once or twice a month.

4. Do Indian people like to go to cinema to watch a film?

Yes, Indian people like to go to cinema to watch films. It is evident from the increasing number of multiplexes that are opening in every city and are almost always full of people.

5. What kinds of movies do you like the best?

I like movies that have a good story, with some good lessons or a message and those with good acting and direction.

6. What was the first film you watched?

I don't remember exactly, but one of the first films I remember from my childhood is

_____. (Add a couple of lines about the kind of movie and the story/what was it about).

149. Social Network

1. What kind of social networking websites do you like to use?

I mostly use the Facebook website for social networking. These days all the social networking sites have an app that we can install and use on our phones, so I don't usually visit the websites. I use my cellphone apps.

2. Are you a social person?

I am not a very social person. However, I have a good social circle of friends. I like to meet them atleast once in two-three months.

OR

I am a social person. I like to meet new people and make new friends. I have a big social circle of friends.

No, it is not at all easy to find real friends on social networking websites. People make fake ids, with fake information and dupe people.

5. What kind of chatting app or software do Indian people like to use?

Indian people like to use chatting apps like, Whatsapp, Snapchat, Hike, V-chat, Viber, etc.

150. POLITENESS

1. Who teaches you to be polite?

Our parents, teachers, relatives, friends and other acquaintances, teach us politeness. We also learn about the importance of politeness from stories we read and movies we watch.

2. How do Indian people show politeness?

Indian people show politeness in their actions, like talking softly, spending time with the elderly, helping people, greeting others with a smile and many other such small gestures reflect politeness.

3. Has the way people show politeness changed in India?

Yes, I think with the advancement in technology, the way we show politeness has changed. With the advent of the internet and social networking, it is very important to show respect to others in the way we write messages or emails, so as to not offend others. For example, when chatting with someone, it is not acceptable to type in capital letters. It is considered rude and impolite.

4. Are you angry with people who are late?

Yes, definitely I am angry with people who are late. I am very punctual myself and I feel irritated when somebody keeps me waiting.

5. Do you think that people have less free time today than in the past? Why?

Yes, I do feel that people have less free time today than in the past. Today, people have become workaholics. They run after money and in doing so they work longer hours. Moreover, today we belong to a materialistic society and to buy the luxuries we have to work more. In earlier times, life was slower and the needs of people were limited. So people had a lot of free time.

6. Do you think that the quality of living is increasing? How?

I feel that the quality of life has increased in many ways and in many ways it has gone down. People today enjoy greater comforts and have more money to enjoy life but on the other hand we face many problems today such as pollution and global warming which make the quality of life bad.

7. Today people use machinery to automate everything, is it good or bad?

It is both – good as well as bad. In many ways it is good. We have more time because of machines. We get good quality things because machines make uniform things. We do mass production because of automation and this boosts our economy as we can export things to other countries when we produce them in bulk.

On the other hand, many people have lost jobs because of automation. So, unemployment occurs and this leads to many other problems in society. Machines can also not give a personal touch to things.

8. How does modern technology help to save time?

Modern technology has touched all aspects of life. In transport industry we have much faster means of travel. In communication, technology has given us tools to connect to others at the click of a mouse. In the homes, we have washing machines and microwave ovens, which save our time.

9. Do you agree that people should let machinery do everything?

I do not agree that machines should do everything. In that way we shall become slaves of our own creation. We should know when, where and how much we have to use machines. We should know where to draw the line. When we need mass production, we should take the help of machines. In doing repetitive and boring work we can let the machines take over. But where creativity is needed, we should do with our own hands.

151. TIME MANAGEMENT

1. Are you ever late for anything?

No, I am a very punctual person. I value time and am never late for anything, unless it is due to some unavoidable and unforeseen circumstances.

People give excuses like car or bike breakdown or that they were stuck in traffic, when they are late

4. Are you good at organizing time?

Yes, I am good at organizing time. I set up reminders for important events and meetings. I am never late for an appointment.

5. How do you usually organize time?

I sometimes set up reminders for important events or meetings, sometimes I make lists of tasks to complete, sometimes I set deadlines for myself, especially when working on an important assignment/project.

6. Do you think planning is important for time management?

Yes, planning is essential for good time management. If we don't plan ahead, we will tend to wastetime doing tasks/things which are unimportant or unnecessary.

7. Why do you think some people pay to learn time management?

Time management has become very important in today's fast-paced world. Some people pay to take courses on time management so that they can succeed and excel at their work. Some people are not very good at organizing and managing time, so they need to take up courses on managing time well.

8. Do you think children should learn to manage time?

Yes, definitely. We live in a fast paced world and children too need to manage their time well, so that they can deal with the competition and do well at their studies and later, at their jobs.

9. Why do some people find it hard to follow their plans?

Some people find it hard to follow their plans because of other pressing commitments, like family commitments. Some people maybe too lazy to follow their plans.

10. 10. How would you teach your children time management?

Time management can be taught to children by helping them make a timetable and ensuring that they follow it. Also, children can learn easily from stories or movies, which teach them a lesson about the importance of time and managing it well. The parents are role models for children and they should set a good example for their children.

11. 11. Do old people and young people manage time in a similar way?

No, old and young people do not manage their time the same way. Old people have more life experience and they understand the importance of time management better than the young generation. The young people may be too impulsive or impatient and may not understand the importance of planning ahead. Another difference is the way the younger generation manages time. They make more use of technology and the old people may use the traditional methods, like a timetable or writing down a list of tasks.

6. Do you like the same fruits and vegetables today as you did when you were a child?

As a child, my favourite fruit used to be grapes, but now I like mango and watermelon more. Also, I wasn't very fond of vegetables as a child. Now I love all kinds of vegetables and fruits.

7. What fruit and vegetables did you like to eat when you were a child?

I liked all fruits as a child and my favourite fruit used to be grapes. I wasn't very fond of vegetables when I was a child.

8. Is it easy (or, convenient) to buy fruit and vegetables where you live?

Yes, it is very convenient to buy fruits and vegetables where I live. I live in a city and there are many fruit and vegetable sellers, who have stalls/stands set up in many parts of the city. In grocery stores also we have a fruits and vegetables section.

9. Do you think people should eat more fruits and vegetables?

Yes, I think people should eat more fruits and vegetables, as they contain essential vitamins and nutrients needed for a healthy body and mind. Also, it has become all the more important now to eat healthy food as most of the people lead a sedentary life.

10. Do you think it's (really) necessary to eat fruits and vegetables? OR How important is it to eat fruit and vegetables? OR What are the benefits of eating fresh fruit (or, fresh fruits and vegetables)?

Yes, certainly. It is essential to eat fresh fruits and vegetables, as they contain nutrients like vitamins and minerals, which our body needs to function properly and to remain healthy. Also, having a healthy diet makes us feel more energetic.

11. How much fruit and vegetables do you think a person needs to stay healthy?

I think fruits and vegetables are needed as a part of our everyday diet. Many dieticians suggest that we should eat fruits and vegetables of at least five different colors everyday.

153. High school

1. Are you still in contact with your friends from high school?

Yes, I am in contact with my friends from high school. Many of them are now in different cities and countries. But we stay in touch through social networking apps and we also have reunions sometimes.

2. What is your high school like?

Give a brief description of your school – describe building(s), garden, playground and other facilities)

4. Did your parents choose your secondary school (= high school) for you?

Yes, my parents chose my secondary school. My high school and primary school were the same.

5. What subjects did you study in secondary school (= high school)?

I studied many subjects in secondary school like, social sciences, mathematics, the Hindi and English languages, science subjects like biology, chemistry, physics and geography, art and crafts, etc.

6. What was your favourite subject (= class) in secondary school? (= high school)

My favourite subject in secondary school was science. I liked science subjects because I learned about the basic principles of the way things work all around us.

7. And which class (= subject) did you like the least? (Why?)

There wasn't any subject I liked the least. I liked all the subjects in secondary school.

8. Which secondary school subject do you think is most useful for people in adult life?

I think all the subjects that we study in secondary school are useful for people in adult life. A strong foundation is built in primary and high school years that helps us throughout our life.

9. What part of your secondary school education did you enjoy most? OR Did (do) you like your secondary school life?

I enjoyed my secondary school education a lot. There is no one part that I liked more than the other. I liked the fact that our school had an equal focus on extra curricular and physical activities, and not just on the academics.

10. How do you feel about your high school (secondary school)?

I think that high school years were the wonder years and I miss those times.

11. Why did you choose to attend (= to go to) that particular school?

My parents chose my school for me. I think I was too young to decide on my own and my parents chose the best school for my siblings and me.

12. Which class did (do) you enjoy the most? (Why?)

I enjoyed all the school years a lot. However, there was a lot of excitement and a feeling of pride when I got promoted from the primary wing of the school to the high school wing

154. Emails

1. Do you often write (or, send) emails?

No, I don't often write/send emails. I sometimes write official emails, like for sending in a job application through email and sometimes I write to my friends.

155. RAINY DAYS

1. Does it rain much in India? (Where? When?)

India is a diverse country with different climatic conditions in different regions. So there are some parts of India that receive a lot of rain, like Cherrapunji in Meghalaya, Amboli in Maharashtra, etc. Some places receive a lot of rainfall only during the monsoon season, like Mumbai, Chennai, Goa, etc.

2. Does it rain much in your hometown? (Include how often)

It doesn't rain much in my hometown. It is only during the monsoon season, that is in the months from June to August that we receive some rainfall.

3. In what season does it rain the most? OR When (in what month/season) does it rain most in your hometown?

It rains the most in my hometown in the monsoon season, that is in the months from June to August.

4. What about the other parts of India? OR In which season does it rain most in other parts of India?

India has a varied terrain. In many parts of India, it mostly rains in the monsoon season. However, it also depends on the geographical location as it affects the rainfall in many regions.

5. Would you prefer to have, more rain or less rain (in your hometown)?

I would prefer to have more rain in my hometown. In the last few years, there has been a drastic change in the seasons and the summers get very hot. If there is more rainfall in the summers, there will be respite from the heat.

6. Do you like rainy days? OR How do you feel on rainy days? OR Do you feel sad on rainy days? I like rainy days in the summer season because the temperatures drop and we get respite from the summer heat. In winters I am not too happy when it rains, as it becomes very cold after it rains.

7. How does rain affect different people's moods? OR How does rain affect people's lives?

I think rains affect people's moods when it restricts their activities or leads to a loss in the work or business. Some people feel happy when it rains as the weather becomes pleasant and people can enjoy hot beverages and fried snacks.

8. Do you prefer rainy days or sunny days?

I prefer rainy days in the summers and sunny days in the winter season. Rains give us respite from the heat in the summers and we can enjoy sitting out in the sun on a cold winter day.

9. What do you do on rainy days (or, on a rainy day)?

I enjoy hot beverages, like coffee and fried snacks like fritters and samosas on rainy days. It gives us an opportunity to stay at home with family and spend quality time with them.

10. What do you usually do when it rains (or, when it starts to rain) and you are outside? If it rains when I am outside, I usually look for a café or a place where I can sit and enjoy coffee and some snacks.

11. Do you think rain is good? (Why?)

Yes, I think rains are good. Rains are important to maintain the ecosystem's balance. Rains help with maintaining the groundwater levels. They make the dust settle down and help clean the environment. For agriculture-based economies, rains during the rainy season are very important for a good crop.

12. How does rain affect (life in) your country?

Agriculture is a major part of India's economy and that is largely dependent on timely rains. So a lot of farmers depend on a good monsoon season for a good crop. Unseasonal rains can have an adverse affect on agriculture, as it can destroy crops. In places where there is water shortage, people depend on rains and save rain water in reservoirs.

13. Is there any part of India where it doesn't rain much? (Where?) OR Is there an even distribution of rain throughout India?

India is a diverse country with different climates in different parts. There are many parts in the east of India that experience a lot of rain throughout the year. In most parts of India, monsoon season is the time when most of the rainfall happens. In some western parts, like in the deserts of Rajasthan, there is very little rain. Sometimes some states experience droughts because of no rainfall for a very long period of time.

14. What effects can a shortage of rain (a drought) have on people's lives?

Droughts/Shortage of rain can have adverse effects on the livelihoods of many people, especially those who are dependent on agriculture. Sometimes people are forced to leave their hometowns due to water shortage and start afresh somewhere else and face hardships. Many people die each year in India and all over the world because of droughts.

15. Can you remember any time when it rained particularly heavily in your hometown? (When?)

Yes, I remember that during my childhood it used to rain continuously for days and the roads and parks got filled with water. We used to enjoy a lot playing in the rain and in the pools of water. This used to happen during the monsoon season. Now the amount of rainfall has reduced drastically due to climate change.

16. Does rain ever affect transportation in your hometown? (How?)

Yes, sometimes the rain affects the transportation. It is mostly on some roads where the drainage system is not good or when it is blocked. At such times the water logging happens on the roads and the movement of traffic is affected.

17. Do you think the seasons have changed in recent years, compared to the past? (Why? How?)

Yes, I think seasons have changed in the recent years because of global warming and the consequent climate change. The summers last longer and the winters are shorter. Also, the amount of rainfall during the monsoon season has reduced. Sometimes we hardly get any rains during the monsoon season.
